

Dublin, to Miss Scott
 [The marriage of Meeklenburgh-street, Dublin, solemnised at Six of Belfast.
 Esq. half-pay announced in our last to have been Lucius Wild Mile-Bridge, between David W. Ievers, 20th Foot, and Eliza, daughter of the late Esq. of Springfield, has not taken place.]

DEATHS.

In Shannon-street, much regretted, Mr. M. Broderick, late Keeper of the Hotel, Miltown Malbay.
 Yesterday, at her father's house, William-street, Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. James Myles. The loss of this amiable and interesting child is deeply felt by her afflicted parents. She died in the fervent hope of a happy eternity and with a vivid sense of the merits of her beloved Redeemer.
 At his seat, Knockalton, Co. Tipperary, on Wednesday, Lambert Pepper, Esq. second son to the late Simon Pepper, of Lissinisky, in said County. Esq. He resigned his pious and excellent spirit with cheerful submission to his Maker, rejoicing in the blessed hope of everlasting life.
 In Rathkeale, on Friday last, Mrs. Bourke, aged 86, relict of Elias Bourke, Esq. and sister to the Rev. James Hamilton, of Buttevant, County Cork.
 On the 14th instant, at his house, Upper Baker-street, Portman-square, London, in the 78th year of his age, Joseph Burke, Esq. for many years an eminent merchant of that city, and only brother of Peter Burke, Esq. of Elm-Hall, Parsonstown.
 In Cork, James E. Galwey, Esq.
 On Monday, at Carrigun, County Kerry, near Abbeyfeale, the Rev. Bartholomew Shine, for the last 22 years Parish Priest of Brosne. He celebrated mass at his chapel, on Sunday week; and unhappily fell a victim to the dreadful fever raging at present in that neighbourhood, which he got while administering the last rites of his church to one of his parishioners.
 A few days ago, of fever, at Ballybunnion, County Kerry, sincerely and deservedly regretted, the Rev. Mr. Minihan, Roman Catholic Curate of that place.
 In Tralee, at the advanced age of 85 years, Gertrude, relict of the late Thomas Collis, Esq. of Listrim, in the Co. Kerry, and mother of John Collis, of Kinsale, Esq.
 Of fever, in the prime of life, much regretted, George Thomas, Esq. eldest son of the Rev. Edwin Thomas, Rector of Ballinacourty, County Kerry.
 At Sandymount, near Dublin, Esther, widow of the late Right Honorable Patrick Duigenan.
 At Kilkenny, of fever, Denis Kavanagh, Esq.
 At the Fever Hospital, Cork-street, Dublin, Charles M'Mahon, Esq. apothecary and accouchier.
 At Glasnevin, much regretted, Sarah, wife of the Rev. Doctor Grier, and sister to the Lord Archbishop of Dublin.
 John Ferry, Esq. of Morrison's Island, Cork.
 On the Grand Parade, Cork, Mrs. Mary Cogan.
 At her mother's house, Colville, near Clonmel, Miss Eliza Taylor, sister to N. Taylor, of Noan, Esq.
 At the Wilderness, Clonmel, the Widow Keating.
 At Fethard, the wife of Mr. Cooté Hindes.
 The wife of Captain Grey, Wicklow Militia Staff.
 In Kilkenny, Mr. Michael Sammon.
 Sarah, eldest daughter of Lieut.-Colonel Atkinson, of Camgort, in the King's County.
 In Patrick-street, Cork, after a protracted illness, Mr. D. M'Mullen, many years a Preacher in the Wesleyan Methodist connection.
 In Usher-street, Dublin, aged 74, Mr. Peter Brady, late of James's-street, tanner.
 In Tralee, Mr. John Harman, boot-maker.
 Near Galway, the wife of Doctor Howell, of London.
 In Bride-street, Dublin, Mrs. Anne Bell.
 Of fever, Catherine, wife of Mr. James Callaghan, of Clarence-street, Cork, tanner.
 William Browne, of Brunswick-square, London, Esq. January 6, at his seat at Roebuck, Alderman John Exshaw, aged seventy six, Senior Alderman, and the oldest Magistrate in the County of Dublin. Alderman Exshaw was elected to the Aldermanic Gown in the year 1782. Alderman Exshaw was one of the Police Magistrates of the Second Division; his office, in consequence of the late arrangements, died with him, he was likewise the publisher of the "Hue and Cry," the emoluments of which, we understand to be about £1,000 a-year. An active canvass has already commenced for the vacant gown; we understand that Mr. Ex-Sheriff Moore is likely to be the successful candidate.
 On the 6th instant, at her residence, Bay View Lodge, Kingstown, Miss Catharine Molloy, daughter of Captain, and sister of the late Major Thomas Molloy, of the 27th Enniskillens, Military Secretary and Aid-de-Camp to Generals Maitland and Mackenzie.
 At Jamaica, in his 83d year, Thomas Murphy, Esq. for a long time Representative in the House of Assembly.
 At Maryport, Cumberland, aged 100 years, Mrs. S. Harrison, of the Society of Friends.

City, and maketh oath on the Holy Evangelist and saith, that the Accounts which he has laid before the Clergy-men and Overseers of the Foundling Institution, are to the best of his knowledge correct; and that he has fairly accounted for all the money received by him as Treasurer of the Foundling Institution, whether as Rate on the different Parishes, or sums paid in with Children since he came into Office; and he further swears, that he has not in any way connived at the illegal admission of Children in the Institution.
 Sworn before me at Limerick, this 9th day of January, 1827.

WILLIAM ROCHE, Magistrate.
 JAMES SEWARD.

ENGLISH AND IRISH GOVERNMENT STOCK AND DEBENTURE OFFICE, UPPER GEORGE'S STREET.

EDWARD BERNARD

TRANSACTS all business in the Public Funds in the most expeditious, confidential, and secure manner, and all Dividends are received and remitted for those who have vested MONEY in GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, by which the trouble of writing, risk, and expense of remitting to and from LONDON and DUBLIN are avoided.

As the funds now yield considerably upwards of 4 1/2 per Cent. Interest, so favourable an opportunity for Investment has not occurred for a long period before.

BILLS ON LONDON bought and sold, and DRAFTS on Sir R. C. GLYN, Bart. & Co. LONDON, and Sir ROBERT SHAW, Bart. & Co. DUBLIN, to be had at this Office.

Limerick, January 13, 1827.

HORSES FOR SALE.

A FIVE YEARS OLD CHESNUT HORSE, equal to fourteen stone with any fox hounds—of superior action and figure and high blood. Also, a beautiful BAY MARE, equal to twelve stone, 5 years old; she would make a particularly handsome Lady's Mare—both perfectly sound.

To be seen at DEACON'S Livery Stables, Limerick, on Wednesday next.

January 13.

FOR A FEW DAYS ONLY.

GREAT AND UNPRECEDENTED SALE OF FURS.

In Mr. Glover's Room, No. 11, Rutland-street, Next the Commercial Buildings.

JUST arrived, from a most eminent House in London, one of the most Splendid Collections of FURS ever offered for Sale in this City, being the property of the Person who occupied the same Room last March, and who intends visiting Limerick once a year—Comprising, Chinchilla, Ermine, Fitch, Minx, Martin Sable, Sable Gill, Sable and Squirrel, Muffs, Tippets, Pellerines, Trimmings, Flouncings, &c. all of which will be sold on such terms as must give general satisfaction.

Wholesale Purchasers are recommended to attend this sale, as they can be supplied to great advantage. All kinds of Furs taken in exchange.

Limerick, January 13.

EQUITY—EXCHEQUER.

Richard Stephenson, Esq. } PURSUANT to the De-
 a. } cree of His Majesty's Oliver Stephenson, Esq. } Court of Exchequer in Ireand others. } land, made in this Cause, } bearing date the 20th day of February last, I will, on Thursday, the First day of February next, at the hour of twelve o'clock at noon, at my Chambers on the Inns-Quay, Dublin, set up and sell by public Cant to the highest and best bidder, All That and Those the unsold part of the Towns and Lands of Ballyvohan, Liscordane and Krehill, with their several and respective sub-denominations and appurtenances, situate in the County of Limerick, or a competent part thereof, for the purposes in said Decree mentioned.

Dated the 19th day of December, 1826.
 A. R. BLAKE, C. R.

For further particulars apply to CHRISTOPHER DELMEGE, Esq. Plaintiff's Attorney; and to T. HEWSON, Esq. Defendants' Attorney, at their respective Offices, D<sup>o</sup>m.

dressed to
R. M. MAHON
 10, CHARLOTTE'S-QUAY.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF CORK.

GENTLEMEN,

MY first Impulse as well as my first termination of the Glorious Contest I have been engaged, is to return my warm Thanks to the 80 and 96 Freeholders, who did me the honor to confer on me the honor of being elected with their suffrage on the late Election.

Although willing to consider myself as indebted to the personal obligations for the extent conferred on me, I am bound in fairness to acknowledge the individual merits of mine, could have attracted distinguished support I met with; and that I to ascribe it to the Principles and the Cause, was the humble Champion in your behalf.

It would no doubt be more gratifying could now congratulate you on the successful great efforts.

If however the Citizens of Cork, in their wish to elect a Representative from among themselves, have effect opposed by a Confederacy inimical to Independence—if the Protestant Freeman of Cork desire to send to Parliament, a man holding more in accordance with their own, have been by individuals, who owed it to their character and consistency to pursue a different line of conduct in short, INDEPENDENCE AND PROGRESS have through the defection of some of our own, obtained an Election defeat—we have achieved a political purpose—equivalent to a Victory. We have developed the extent and strength of the Protestantism in this quarter of Ireland. We have roused it to a higher performance on a future occasion. We have displayed to the Government and to the world, a proof unerring, that the Constituency of Cork are willing to surrender at discretion to the Enemies of Protestantism, the Constitutional Bulwarks of our Country and our Religion.

In truth, my friends, reflecting on the Union which we have achieved, we have achieved what might have been to us as a Triumph, rather than to those who have disputed the Palm.

I freely own to you I did not expect to encounter the influence of the sitting Member, exerted without disguise in favour of my rival. When I entered upon the Contest, I had the best reason for supposing, the worthy Baronet would have abstained from any interference with the Citizens of Cork in the election of a brother Representative; but I presume he thought it expedient to deviate from that intention. I advert to the fact of this Junction of Interests, which affects (and seriously it does affect) the Independence of our City. I dismiss this painful part of the Contest, expressing my hope that you will never suffer from whatever may be their individual claims, on your confederacy not based on any professed political sentiments, to degrade the City of Cork to the condition of a Borough; and that experience will show you how you confer influence on any persons, whose hour of trial may counteract your interests and feelings.

Allow me to draw your attention to the following statement, viz.: that out of 1539 Freeholders, who on this Election, 873 honored me with their voice, on the aggregate of 1958 votes of all kinds, the majority against me was only 50—And that of the 353 Freeholders who polled for my rival, a considerable number, little short of 100, had not a particle of legal suffrage—but because we were not at the time prepared with strict legal evidence to rebut what was deposited to their votes were received; such is the state of the Freehold Franchise law in Ireland!

I feel I have done my duty as a Citizen of Cork, and have been nobly supported by the virtue and the patriotism of its Inhabitants. I have unflinchingly maintained the ground on which I presumed to solicit your support. And I am gratified to believe that my conduct will receive your approval.

Into whatever hands the Representation of Cork is committed, my fervent hope and wish is—that by the favor of my native City may prosper and flourish; that those principles may ever prevail in the great minds of the Nation, which may secure the happiness of the individual and the subjects of the Crown.

and severe a beating have