At a General Court-Martial held at Fort-William, Bengal, on the 26th November last, Lieutenant Francis Bernard, of the 38th Regiment, was found guilty of disputing and censuring the orders of Captain Green, the officer commanding a detachment on board the Bussorah merchant ship, and calling the said Captain Green an ass and a coward. Lieut. Bernard was sentenced to be severely reprimanded, to be placed as the inferior Lieutenant in his Regiment, and to be deprived of two years army rank. The sentence has been confirmed by his Majesty.

No less than three Officers belonging to his Majesty's 13th Light Dragoons have been tried by Court Martial, at Bangalore, Presidency of Madras. The first, Major Paterson, for officer-like and disrespectful conduct towards his senior Officer, Lieut.-Colonel Boyse, of which charge he was found guilty, and ordered to receive a reprimand from the Commander-in-Chief. The second, Lieut. Berwick, for involving himself in pecuniary transactions with non-commissioned Officers under his immediate command, for which he was sentenced to lose a step in his regimental rank; and the third Lieut.-Colonel Boyse, for acting in opposby the Major-General commanding the Mysore division of the Army, of which he was honorably acquitted.

A very ingenious contrivance, by means of card figures that move upon a pivot, to elucidate the principle upon which the wheel of three in the Cavalry is made, has been invented by Lieut.-Colonel C. R. O'Donnell, late of the 15th Hussars. It is very neatly executed.

Monday, the Mayor held an inquest on the body of Robert Hickson, who died of a desperate beating he received the Thursday previous, at the Old Windmill Road. Verdict—Wilful Murder against persons not yet apprehended.

Yesterday, the Mayor held another inquest on the body of Denis M'Namara, a pedlar, who died of intoxication.
It appeared in evidence, that this wretched being had swallowed on the day of his death eighteen glasses of whiskey, and two pints of porter!—Verdict accordingly.

Last week, John Cox, Esq. Coroner, held an inquest on the body of James Deely, who came by his death in consequence of a fracture in his head, inflicted in a riot at Drewscourt, in this County, on the 26th March last.
Some of the rioters have been made amenable to the law for this offence.

Mr. Cox also held an inquest on the body of Daniel Connors, an infant child, who was killed by the wheel of a car running over his head at Clounregan, in this County, on the 6th April inst. Verdict, accidental death.

been another robbery of one Doogan, and so the party except Patrick Durack, sea.; would have told but for his wife; never got any thing told.

Nothing was obtained on this examination which shake his testimony.

John Simon.—Is a smith; the sledge found Paris, next morning after the attack, was his was made a prisoner on account of it.

Cross-examined—cannot say the sledge produced same, it is so much changed by use, but it was the same.

Jeremiah Kelly.—Is now, and was on the 7th 1821, Woodranger to Mr. Reade; found the lowing the attack, at an angle of the wood, the very much beaten, as if many persons had been some time; found also a quantity of tow, as if cleaning and loading guns, some loose powder saucepan; saw the light in the bed-chamber;— to go in but looked in; found the sledge next door, inside the room, as he leaned on the window the bed and floor was all covered with blood, drawers all broken; Mr. Reade's money was found day in his pocket; identifies the sledge as the same

Cross-examined.—Nothing material

John Minogue examined.—Is brother to Mrs. recollects after O'Dea being taken his coming house in the evening; Brogan and Durack came there, so did other neighbours; heard O'Dea Magistrates had not the right information, yet there was nothing particular in Durack and conversation with O'Dea.

This witness shook hands with the prisoners off the table.

Sarah O'Dea, a child of eleven years old.— a most extraordinary intelligent little girl.— bearing of Mr. Reade's being robbed; awoke and saw about the bulk of six people sitting fire, at her father's house; there were pistols laid up by the Duck's hole, at the side of the fire three men there besides her father; did not know others; identifies Patrick Tuohy, Patrick Durack, James Brogan, as those persons; used to see them day, and knew them well; found a pistol under father's bed next day; told her mother, who was afraid to speak to any one about it, as her would beat her; daddy bid her maunmy cover when she fell asleep.

Cross-examined by Mr. Blakeney.—Does not long ago it is; was examined twice in Dublin Reade and Mr. Yates; was bid tell the same story

Re-examined by Mr. French—Saw Mr. Reade with Mr. Yates; Mr. Reade always bid her tell and nothing else.

Anne O'Dea examined.—Is the wife of O'Dea; heard foot-steps approaching the night of Mr. Reade's robbery; looked out and saw several men go into an out-house of her husband's them, James Brogan, carried a coal of fire in put her petticoat about her head, and went to they were doing; saw a candle lighted on a chair held a watch in his hand; part of the watch was chair, and some silver; there was standing chair seven men, five of whom she knew; Tuohy, Durack, Brogan, and A. Boland; did not Anthony Boland then, but met him afterwards from prayers and talking to her husband, and to be same person; they afterwards entered her house.

Cross-examined at great length by Mr. O'Flaherty nothing material was obtained.

Mr. Topping, Chief Police-Constable, de-difficulty he had in taking the different prisoners P. Tuohy, who was taken without any difficulty others he had looked for at their houses on several and never found them at home. Edmond Brogan, under sentence of death for burglary at the last Assizes, and D'Nan has gone to America.
