WILCOCKS'S NEW AND MUCH IMPROVED SYSTEM OF ARITHMETICAL AND MENTAL CALCULATION.

(NEVER BEFORE INTRODUCED IN IRELAND.)

AS nothing is more essential to youth than a quick and ready method of calculation, nothing more to be admired, on asking a question of Arithmetic, than to be able in a moment to solve it.

Mr. FRYER, who has lately come from London (where Willcocks's system is in such estimation as to preclude all others,) has leave to inform the inhabitants of Limerick, that he intends to spend a few weeks, during which time he will compare the unparalleled system of Arithmetic and Mental Calculations, when, with 3 or 4 figures, his pupil can solve the most difficult question instantaneously, whereas the present method, requires ten times the number of figures—he will also impress on the mind of his pupil the system of Mental Calculation, so that without the aid of his pupil shall answer any question proposed.
