DEATHS.

On Sunday night, at his house, in William-street, after a few days' illness, Henry Collis, Esq., leaving an afflicted widow, with a numerous and amiable family, to deplore the loss of the best of husbands, and the most affectionate of fathers. Mr. Collis filled the office of Sheriff of this City in 1802, and was subsequently appointed to the same office in 1811, the duties of which he continued to discharge for a period of six years in succession, embracing the most trying epoch in the modern history of our City, and exposing the Shrievalty to the ardent collisions of party feeling, rendered acute by three of the most contested Elections we had for the last fifty years. The regret generally felt, when his death was announced, proves the sympathy of public feeling to be warmly alive to the afflictions of his family.
