HORATIO N. SEYMOUR, Auctioneer,

14, George's-Street, Limerick.

To the Electors of L
GENTLEMEN,

AN Anonymous Opponent has endeavoured against me, to fill the vacancy which necessarily must soon take place in the representation of this City, but whether Civil or Military—General or Subaltern—Resident or Absent—all is conjecture. I rejoice in the result, and shall be glad to see my opponent's success—this is the value of Independence. I have met with on my canvass, from the opposition of my fellow-citizens, leaves me no alternative as to the result.

I early saw the precipice upon which Independence hung—I warned you of the danger, how you suffered a transfer of the representation you had established. I saw the danger, to which I called your attention, and all should unite to avert it.

It is strongly rumoured that the present Representative will soon attain his ambition—PLACE. It must be your duty to choose a CITIZEN to represent you, let no CABAL dictate to you who you think most likely to forward their views, and designing are the contrivances which are active operation for the purpose. I know that I never shall pursue any other forward, honest course for YOUR INTERESTS—that I never can lend myself to a party to enslave, oppress, or TAX you, can never secretly introduce any Bill, affecting your vital interests, without reading it, or in ignorance of its provisions. Gentlemen, my interest is too closely and solably identified with yours—and I shall pursue this course I shall pursue.

Whenever the hour shall arrive which you anxiously look forward, I pledge myself to your Friends, you shall find me at the head of the column to fight your battles—and ever to maintain the real Independence of this City—never shall it be sacrificed to the planning and management of those who have the word "Independence" is on their lips, every act tends to cramp and destroy the existence.

I have the honor to be, Ge

With great respect

Your faithful Friend and Fe
