l-quarters of the 56th to the New Barracks, headrters of the 60th to the Castle Barracks.

he departure of that distinguished Regiment the 4th King's Own, from Newry, for Dublin, is a subject of general regret. Between the soldiers and the inha-nts, there never existed the slightest difference.

Monday being the anniversary of the Battle of Vitto-Major General Sir Edward Blakeney, and the troops his garrison which shared in that memorable engage-he Chief Colonelcy of the 16th or Queen's Lancers, vacant by the lamented death of that veteran Officer ld Marshal the Earl of Harcourt, G. C. B. in the h year of his age. His Lordship commanded the h Lancers for the last fifty years, a longer period than General Officer now living in the British Army.— s Lordship was Governor of Plymouth, Deputy Lieu-ant and Ranger of Windsor Forest, a Commissioner the Royal Military College and President of the nsolidated Board of General Officers. The Earl of rcourt was also a Viscount and Baron, but dying hout issue his titles are extinct. The venerable Earl s born the 20th March, 1743; entered the army ly in life, and attained the rank of Lieut. Colonel in 4, Colonel in 1777, Major General in 1782, Lieut. neral in 1793, General in 1798, and Field Marshal 1821. His Lordship at the head of the 16th Light

Several remarkably fine horses passed through here yesterday to the great fair of Spencil-hill, which commences to-day.

The fair of Croom yesterday produced some fat sheep which sold at fair prices; fat beef was also disposed of on encouraging terms. Some lots of small prime fancy pigs were bought at high prices, other sorts dull of sale.

Amongst the numerous Publications which have lately issued from the Press, there seems to be none which has more attracted public attention, or secured public approbation than the Work called "First Love." The demand for it, indeed, is nearly unprecedented, as a thousand copies were sold off in a very few days. We must own we cannot but be extremely gratified at such success in this first attempt of the writer, especially as we understand she is a very amiable and talented young Lady, and a native of this County.
