On Sunday night, a large party of men, some of whom were armed with guns, attacked and entered the house of Michael Fogarty, of Coagilla, near Cashel, and robbed it of £12 10s. in cash, and afterwards beat the family severely. The party fired 6 or 7 shots on going off.

As a son of the Rev. Mr. Armstrong's, of Clonkelly, was returning home from Dundrum House, county Tipperary, (about 8 o'clock), where he had been spending the evening, with Lord Hawarden's Agent, he was met by a single man, who fired at him, and wounded him severely. Dr. Ryan, from Cashel, was sent for to dress his wounds, and it is considered the young gentleman is out of danger.

On Saturday last, one of these scenes of barbarity which we regret to say, often characterises the feuds of the lower orders, occurred on the lands of Knockraun, in this County; three brothers, named Power, went to a neighbouring farm, to get possession of some land which was willed by their deceased brother to his children—on entering the land they were opposed by a man named Nash, who it seems has married the widow of the elder brother, a conflict arose, in which Thomas Power was dreadfully wounded by a pitchfork in the side, which entered the chest and wounded the lungs. John Power had his skull fractured by a blow of a stone—Maurice Power was stabbed in many parts of the body with a sharp instrument. The three brothers are under the care of Surgeon Franklin, jun. who entertains little hopes of the recovery of two of them. Thomas P. Vokes, Esq. with that activity for which he is so famed, lost very little time in having the principals in this horrid outrage arrested, and committed fully for trial at the ensuing Assizes.

On Friday last a farmer named William Harnett, who resided on Dromtrasna, the estate of the Right Hon. Lord Viscount Guillamore, near Abbeyfeale, attended Newcastle Petit Sessions on business, with some of his relatives,—and just as he was setting out for home in the evening, a furious attack was made on him and his friends by a party who lay in wait for them. William Harnett was knocked down by a blow on the left side of the head with a flat stone, which laid his head bare, without causing the least fracture. After being removed into a house, he walked without assistance to another part of the town, and was not considered in any danger by his friends, until next morning when they became alarmed; but it was too late,—a blood-vessel had been ruptured, and he died before twelve o'clock on Saturday.—Edmond Haugh, the person charged with this outrage, has been fully committed. His accomplices are not likely to evade the activity of the Magistrates and Police. Until very lately (says our correspondent) there was little to complain of in the way of factious outrage in Newcastle. That disgraceful system having been completely put down by the Magistrates at Quarter Sessions. Every offence of that nature should be treated as matter of much public concern; and exemplary punishment would overawe and reclaim the factious, while it secured protection and tranquillity to the peaceable and industrious.—An Inquest was held on the body of William Harnett by John Cox, Esq. the Coroner of the County, before a respectable Jury, attended by Dr. Pierce of Newcastle, and Mr. Furlong. Verdict—That the deceased got his death from the wounds received in his head from several persons, three of whom are known.

Henry Hickey, a countryman, was murdered last week, on his return from the fair of Mullough to Knockbrack, Miltown Malbay. A verdict of wilful murder is returned against Murtogh M'Inerney and Patrick Mingane.

The eleven persons sentenced to transportation by the Recorder at the Sessions just ended, will, it is expected, be moved to the Hulk at Cove in a few days.

The County Quarter Sessions terminated on Saturday evening, and next day Mr. Cruise, the Chairman, left town for Dublin. The only convictions were—James Meade, sentenced to one month's imprisonment and to stand in the pillory, for perjury; James Johnson and William Fitzmaurice, for stealing butter, to be transported for seven years; Edmond Russell, for stealing "a goose," to be imprisoned one month.

Special Sessions for presentments in the County Cork, are thus fixed, at Cork, for East Muskerry 27; Middleton, 28 and 29th February next; Fermoy 1st; Castletown Roche, 2d; Buttevant, 5th; Kantark 6th; Macroom 7th; Bantry, 9th; Skibbereen 10th; Roscarbery 12th; Bandon 13th; Kinsale 14th; Cork for Barretts 15th, and Carrigaline 16th March next.

Andrew Roche, a hair-cutter of Cork, has served a notice on the executors of the late Thos. Rochfort of Garretstown, Esq. warning them that he is the sole heir to his property.

Lord Glentworth, has enrolled himself a member of the Western Yacht Club. A ballot for the admission of members is to take place in this City the 10th of next month.

We can assure our respected Cotemporary, the Evening Mail, that he has been misinformed, when he states that it is the course in the Limerick Post-Office, to extract Newspapers from the covers, and lend them to loungers. The Limerick Post-Office is in charge of a very attentive and vigilant Post-master, and however the accusation may apply to village Post-offices, it certainly does not implicate this.

The Right Worshipful the Hon. John P. Vereker, Mayor, sent to the House of Industry 8lbs. of butter, seized by the Market Jury.

The Collector to the Mendicity thankfully acknowledges the receipt of Five Pounds from the Lord Bishop of Limerick, per James M'Mahon, Esq. being part of the interest
