VERY REV. RICHARD MURRAY, DEAN OF ARDAGH.

ed the person alluded to by me, as having me to the Bishop of Limerick as holding nomian doctrines, without having had any eing acquainted with my sentiments." My ot mentioning your name was a feeling of you, and because I had heard from friends ey had reason to believe you had regretted aken in reference to me; I should not, there- d to you, had not recent circumstances made e to do so. have openly arrayed yourself on the side of l in so doing have joined those to whom, as Clergyman, you were yourself opposed in ose that our mutual friends were mistaken, you had seen your error.

your letter which has appeared in the cle, which calls for an answer. You say I t misapprehension both as to the facts of the lives of your conduct; but with regard to knowledge that you did represent me to merick as holding unsound doctrines; and s, in my published statement I said nothing but in a private letter which I addressed ng that you had been the Bishop's infor- letter you never thought fit to answer, did give you credit for good motives, while I at monstrated with you for not having, in the en to me, with a view to ascertain from my- ntiments were? Is not this the fact? In- I have hitherto always attributed your con- vices, although I thought you acted wrong, e I was not, as you assert, "under great n as to the motives of your conduct" uggested to the Bishop of Limerick the (I use your own word) of consulting with of Tuam (which his Lordship did, and re- answer as enabled him to license me to the did it not occur to yourself to do so, in the Have you not acknowledged that you never eldship upon the subject? You say that as up a permanent for a temporary Curacy, it any great hardship" if you had prevented e latter. Now, Sir, passing by the fact that ason to suppose that the latter would have ry Curacy, and that I might be supposed to or preferring one to the other: (and my sole at I considered the opening which was made erick, a call of the Chief Shepherd and s, which I could not, for the sake of any dly advantage or ease, refuse)—allow me to you write to the Bishop of Limerick? Was nd resigned the Ardagh Curacy? Had I not d in Limerick before I heard there was any my entering upon the Curacy of St. John's? dship? You remind me (and indeed I had at "we had attended together a Clerical Diocese of Ardagh, a few weeks before my t." Now, I ask you, had you an opportunity aring my opinions? Do you remember any ttered that day? If so, pray what was it?— ur saying you had thus "at least one oppor- ing, which expression is calculated (I will ntended) to mislead, you well know that you opportunity, at all events. Still you assert that e grounds for forming the judgment on which This is evidently thrown out to produce upon nd an unfavourable impression against me, er part of your letter, you admit you had only e the subject. Your conduct in the whole unaccountable. It is strange that one who e prosecution should become a persecutor. You there were reasons which should have led you, e, to have pursued a different line of conduct need not remind you how you obtained the eation in 1824, neither need I tell you the e to your friends in 1829.
