

error in proposing a plan... denominating a moral and education. The plan of attended with any success, between the two relig... at the public money should it was so defective.

his fate to act as a magis... and to witness the extreme... the poorer classes. Any... of the free use of the... that ignorance.

was utterly false to say that... and the Bible. There was... it in his possession.

what he did about the Ro... authority of the Right... however, should certainly... that had been made by the... own.

like course: no objection... and provoke discussion from... to be printed.

Wednesday next he would... in for the Easter recess until... reading of the Irish Tithe Bill.

because he thought it was... Bill, and protested against... ular, he felt bound, on the... which he had made on enter...

protestant Church, and the... of Ireland and England, as... n of the country. It was on... he measures of his Majesty's...

again to enter his protest...; and he hoped he might... ding the conscientious de... Member for Uchester. He... ented him from supporting...

measures which went... to settle it on a more liberal... his reading of the oath.

Mr. F. W. Vanderkiste, Comptroller at Cork, succeeded Mr. Troy in the Collection of this Port. The appointment of Mr. Troy to the Collectorship of Cork must give pleasure to his numerous friends, although the first intelligence of his removal occasioned a very general regret in this City, where he made himself deservedly esteemed in the most respectable circles. Courteous and affable in his intercourse with commercial men, hospitable in private life, and generous in his charities, the departure of Mr. Troy must be viewed with a feeling of regret.

John Bernard, Esq. of Ballinagar, Kerry, a gentleman of large fortune, was killed by a fall from his horse at the review of troops in the Phoenix Park on Tuesday last. Monday evening an assassin snapped a loaded pistol at a shopkeeper in Castlecomer, and his accomplice was renewing the attempt when some of the neighbours seized both fellows after a desperate struggle. One of the offenders is since dead of his wounds, and the other is committed to Kilkenny gaol.

Our readers will observe in the Chronicle a letter from the Rev. Mr. Hickey, P. P. of Doonee, to which, at some hazard, we venture to give the benefit of circulation this day, and have only to regret that time and space will not permit us to do that justice to its merits as a Clerical epistle, which the sentiments and language so very eminently deserve.—The animus of the Rev. writer breathes freely through every line, and must attach a due importance to his subject; for to appreciate its value, the reader cannot possibly lose sight of the master spirit. His letter first conveys a wanton reflection on the character of the Chronicle, which the author in any one sentence does not adduce a particle of evidence to substantiate. He purports to give a full and accurate account of the late transaction at Bilboa, but however does not presume to controvert our matter of fact narrative of that affair in a single iota, while the effort to misrepresent only exposes more thoroughly the weakness, we shall not make it harsher, of our Reverend commentator. Mark this, reader, for candour and justice. We had our intelligence from unimpeached and impartial eye witnesses of the affray, and the writer who has the modesty to revise it, (himself the person most interested) was not present at all!—But there is one impudent assumption of his we must not omit, for it is equally groundless as malignant, and we tell him now what an unprejudiced public is aware of, that we are not the instruments of any exclusive coterie, and we despise his low insinuation of partizanship. The proud and distinguished patronage which the Chronicle has had the honor to enjoy rests upon the broad basis of public opinion, confirmed by the experience of more than half a century.—So much for ourselves, in reply to this charge. Our original statement remains yet unassailable. As to the libels on the Rev. Mr. Coote, and the abuse of Colonel Wemyss, gross and vulgar in the lowest degree, we pass them as beneath notice. They carry with them their own antidote, and we are confident our readers will rise with disgust from the perusal. We give Mr Hickey joy of his exhibition.

CHOLERA IN CORK.

The Cholera progresses fearfully in Cork. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday last, there were 59 cases in hospital, and 28 deaths altogether, the recoveries confined to two. The disease rages chiefly in St. Paul's parish.—Most of those yet attacked have been subject to habits of intemperance, and the occupiers of wretched habitations. The Officers of Health slew a most laudable and untiring vigilance in the discharge of their duties. A Roman Catholic Clergyman has reported the case of one victim who was hurried off after four hours suffering. The faculty have devised no cure, all their labours turn to prevention, and this is best exemplified in the noble maxim—"feed the hungry, and clothe the naked." We herewith annex a return of the different cases to Twelve o'clock on Wednesday night, from which it will be seen that the Deaths in two days amount to TWENTY-FIVE.

	Cases	Deaths	Recoveries	Remaining
St. Paul's	31	13	3	15
North Infirmary	14	8	0	6
Aune-street	9	4	0	5
Total	54	25	3	26
Out of Hospital in St. Paul's	11	10	0	1
Grand Total	65	35	3	27

On Thursday morning the number of cases was considerably increased, the deaths more, recoveries fewer. On that evening the official announcement was 85 cases, of which 20 occurred in the preceding night, and 38 deaths in the whole, only 3 recoveries, and 44 cases remaining. All the parishes are now visited by the malady, and consternation is universal. Public thanks have been given to the Protestant and Roman Catholic Clergy for their attention to the poor and diseased. Some of the Physicians were assaulted by the populace for saying the disorder is Cholera.

The faculty of Cork say that Cholera Morbus does present a contagious character, but by no means so infectious as typhus.

Five o'clock, p. m.

We have this moment received private accounts from Cork relative to the Cholera—60 new cases have occurred up to 3 o'clock last evening, exclusive of several others who refused to go into the Hospitals. Dismay and consternation pervade the whole City! The Roman Catholic Clergymen have refused to administer the last rites to those who refuse to allow themselves to be removed to the Hospitals, which is the only hope they can have of recovery. So malignant is the malady, that the Physicians have as yet been baffled by having maturely considered the expediency of maintaining a uniformity of discipline in the several dioceses of Ireland, connected as they are by the closest ties of mutual intercourse, have unanimously resolved to extend to our flocks respectively the above mentioned dispensation, which we hereby grant in virtue of the power delegated to us by the Holy Apostolic See.

Instructed in Religion from your youth, you require not to be reminded of the difference that exists between Faith and Discipline. You know that Faith, unchangeable in its nature, like the Infallible Truth who revealed it, cannot be changed or altered. Like Him it is "Yesterday, and to-day, and the same for ever." "One iota of it cannot pass away." Not so Discipline. It is variable in its nature. The same authority that enacts can dispense. The same power that binds, can loose the conscience from laws however venerable for their antiquity, or the universality of their observance.—Thus we see the Apostles in the Council of Jerusalem command the converted Gentiles "to abstain from blood, and from things strangled," yet when the circumstances that gave rise to this Apostolic ordinance were changed, the Faithful were relieved from its observance.

We, at the same time exhort you, Dearly Beloved, to bear in mind, that though the law of abstinence is dispensed with on all Saturdays, that are not fasting days, the spirit of mortification is at all times the spirit of Christianity. That "they that are Christ's have crucified their flesh with the vices and concupiscences." "We are heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ, yet so if we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him." "Always bearing about in our body the mortification of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our bodies."

As for the rest, Beloved Brethren, we are enable to say with the Apostle, "we are in spirit with you—rejoicing and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith, which is in Christ; as therefore you have received Jesus Christ the Lord, walk ye in him, rooted and built up in him, and confirmed in the faith, as also you have learned, abounding in him in thanksgiving." "The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you, Amen.

The above is signed by 27 Prelates.

Last Sunday, during divine service, panes of glass were broken by stones from without, in the windows of St. John's Church.

Saturday evening three houses were destroyed by fire in Clonmel.

David Neale was murdered at the fair of Cappamore, yesterday.

James Cormick, who was hanged at Clonmel gaol on Saturday for the murder of James Short, at Templemore, declared his innocence to the last moment on the scaffold.

The Judges have given strict orders against the admission to the Four Courts of any persons in filthy or unclean habits, so great is the alarm spread by Cholera Morbus.

A notice was posted on Sunday last on Mr. Munt's gate at Cappagh, County Tipperary, warning him on pain of death and destruction not to let potato ground as he tyrannically intended.

All the Roman Catholic Chapels in this City were lighted up with great splendour on Thursday last, and the Altars were superbly decorated. As usual, immense crowds of spectators were to visit them.

John Holland, Esq. of this City, was sworn an Attorney of the Court of King's Bench on Thursday.

At the Petty Sessions this day a man of the name of Nihil was committed of assaulting a soldier of the 27th Regiment and taking his bayonet. The Magistrates sentenced him the full penalty of £5, or two months hard labour at the tread-mill—The bayonet was restored.

A beautiful Durham heifer, four years old, bred and fed by Thomas Brereton, Esq. of Rathurles, county Tipperary, was exhibited this week in Mr. James Jackson's stall, in Denmark-street Market. Perhaps a more perfect beast was never before seen in this City, and as the breeder is entitled to much credit for introducing such cattle into this country, so is Mr. Jackson for his spirited exertions in gratifying the public with such superior meat; indeed public approbation was fully marked, for before the beast was sufficiently decorated for public inspection, every portion of it had a customer, and was completely disposed of in four hours. Gross weight, 12 cwt. 1qr. 7lb. including beef, hide and tallow. Among the labelled purchasers we observed a surloin reserved for Mrs. Fitz-Patrick, of the Hawthorn Hotel, CastleConnell, for a subscription dinner there on Thursday next, and it is hoped may be well attended, as no expense appears to have been spared by procuring the most choice bill of fare for this occasion.

To the Editor of the Limerick Chronicle.

SIR,—Allow me, through your respectable columns, to call the attention of the Citizens of Limerick to the present state of the Parish of St. Mary. Without further preface, I will say, that from one end to the other of the Parish, the dirt and filth is unequalled. What, it may be said, are the Officers of Health doing? I say it is the extreme of folly to appoint Officers of Health, men who depend for support on the public, and who cannot exercise the trust confided to them without destroying the prospects of their families.

I therefore say, with great respect, that it is the duty of the Magistrates to call a meeting of the Citizens at large, and without distinction of Parishes, devise the best means of averting the frightful scourge which is at present desolating other parts of the kingdom. If Cholera once reaches the old parts of this City (and a day may bring it amongst us) its ravages will not be confined to the Parish of St. Mary. I have the honor to be, Sir, your obedient servant,
THOMAS ENRAGHT.
April 20, 1832.

this on Tuesday morning for... from the Bridewell of Bruff, and of. His name is Michael Quin, sentence of transportation for life to Cork were—John Reidy, Ric Michael M'Mahon, for the Police for the murder of Serjeant Ro Killeen, Thomas Crawford, and boyism, to be all transported for Alderman Watson, Treasurer thankfully acknowledges the rec for the poor in that charity, sent through Mr. John Abraham.—A M'Mahon, of Mungret-street, mates of the House of Industry.

BIRTH

This morning, at Ballyclog Morony, jun. Esq. one of the of a son and heir.

The Lady of Sir Robert Pee In Grenville-street, Dublin, Esq. of a daughter.

At Hertford-street, May-fair, the Hon. George Keppel of a son

At Tramore, the Lady of John a daughter.

On Monday, in Tralee, the La a daughter.

In Thurles, the Lady of John At Outrath Glebe the Lady a daughter.

At Paisley, the Lady of Capt a daughter.

At Loughrea, county Galway Esq. of a son.

At Moore Park, the Countes DEAT

In London, Benjamin Bagw lonel of the Tipperary Militia.

At his Father's house, Mitch John Keys, second son of Mich greeted by a numerous circle whom he was endeared by the the integrity of his principle with which he bore a long illn

At Enniskillen, Captain Th in which he served upwards of

At Barrackpore, Major-Gen aged 66 years—50 of which h

At his residence, Grattan-H Hayes, Kut. He served many mated sentence for the abdu Miss Pike, of Cork; he was t return to Cork he lived retired

In Mary-street, Cork, Mrs. Lieutenant Rickabey, Royal A

At his residence in Leighlin At Knockfeirn, Queen's Cou

At Mountcharles, Lientenan At Gibraltar, Captain Geor

eldest son of the Hon. Colonel Captain Creighton Irwin, o

Fermanagh, late of the 11th Esq. late Captain in the Carle

a Magistrate and Deputy-Gove At Cheltenham, aged 7

Humfrey, Colonel Commanda At Stoke's-croft, Bristol,

Quartermaster of the 58th Re

NOT

WE, the undersigned Of of St. Michael, beg the Parish, that JAMES G Collect and Receive the Sun levied by the Vestry which pursuant to the Statutes in t and as the emergency is at on earnestly entreated that the First Call, without being pu second visit, so as that he the full amount within the Payer the Assessment is trivia that individual safety and gen it is confidently expected that with punctuality, but cheer on the present occasion woul Society; because either he, want of sensibility and an pathy! No such individual of St. Michael.—With all h assure their Fellow Parishion to perform their duty faithfi neither shrink from personal inconvenience. In the g onerous and important functi any person will be at once s to give them the pain of re compel payment.

JAN J. W. J. W. JOH. RO

2/1