DUBLIN—MAY 15.

OF HEALTH FOR THE CITY OF DUBLIN.

AT a Meeting of the Board of Health of the City of Limerick, held at the Exchange on Wednesday the 16th May, 1832:—

Resolved—That in the present apprehension of the visitation of Cholera, we deem it a duty we owe to the Public, to make such preparatory arrangements as may be considered useful in the event of this City being visited by that dreadful pestilence:

Resolved, therefore, that we request such Medical Practitioners as may be disposed to offer their services in attending upon the several Hospitals about to be established, will communicate their intentions to the Board, on or before Friday the 18th instant, at one o'clock, by letters to the Chairman of the Board of Health.

THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 16.

Denis Mullane, a Corn-broker, in Boherbuoy, was out in apparent good health on Monday last, and after a plentiful dinner about five o'clock same day, took ill in an hour and a half, and was put to bed. He lingered until seven o'clock yesterday morning when death put an end to his sufferings, after an illness of 12 hours. Doctors Geary and Barry were called in early in the evening, and they pronounced all the symptoms of the case to be those of decided Asiatic Cholera. The deceased was a strong able man about 45 years of age. His body was taken a few hours after death to Newcastle in this county for interment. The expences of the funeral were defrayed by the Officers of Health of St. Michael's Parish, who fumigated the house in which he died, and took every other precaution adviseable under the circumstances.

It is proper to explain that Mullane dined upon Pork, and took a draught of stale Beer at dinner, which may probably have induced the sickness, whose termination was so fatal. It was also stated by his family and friends that he had been subject for the last twenty years to occasional Spasmodic affections, and they could not believe his disorder was Cholera. We have pleasure in saying there is no appearance of any second case of this kind in the City.

Annexed is the report of one of the Physicians in attendance on Mullane:—"Dennis Mullane (a broker) aged 48, was occupied for some days previous to the 14th, in removing a quantity of manure from a small yard at the rear of his house to a garden at some distance, where he assisted in spreading it,—during which period he was exposed to the chilling influence of the easterly wind, which still prevails. On Monday he complained of heaviness and disinclination to exertion, which did not, however, prevent his partaking plentifully at dinner of pork, greens, and pork-broth. About 7 o'clock, p.m. he was seized with vomiting and purging, accompanied with severe spasms,—and when I saw him collapse was fairly set in; and by 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning the blue stage was well marked. Medicines were exhibited with occasional effect till 8 o'clock this morning, when he expired."

The Officer and thirty soldiers who mount the Main Guard at George's-quay, have been withdrawn in consequence of Mullane's death, yesterday, of cholera. The Main Guard station is half-a-mile from Boherbuoy. We think the order is precipitate and quite unnecessary; for there is no evidence of real danger,—and the order for removal will only create excitement and alarm in the public mind. Military men of all should not be so apprehensive. We are also informed that half the Lancers and the Depot of the 58th, at the Castle Barracks, are forthwith to move from our Garrison in consequence of the same.

The Board of Health met yesterday and entered into the following:—That it appears by information to this Board, that a person supposed to be labouring under Spasmodic Cholera, was forwarded from Bruree to this City on Sunday evening last—Resolved, That we think it adviseable to inform the Clergymen and Parish Officers of each parish in the County and surrounding country that no Cholera patient or sick persons are to be forwarded to this City, as they will not be received, each parish being bound to provide for their own sick.

The Board of Health in this City have received Mr. Sergeant Pennefather's opinion on the case submitted to him, viz. the liability of St. Michael's Parish to pay by Grand Jury Assessment, share of the £300 advanced by Government under the 58th Geo. III. ch. 47, and any further sums that may be required for the purposes contemplated by the Act; and the Learned Sergeant states his opinion—that the parishioners of St. Michael cannot be legally assessed for any portion thereof. Sergeant Pennefather is also of opinion that under the 2d of William IV. Officers of Health may, without any previous act of Vestry, apply for and obtain from Government such advance of money as they may deem necessary for the purposes of said Act, such Officers not to be under the controul of the Board of Health (except as to adopting sana-

At a meeting of the undersigned Medical Practitioners of the City of Limerick, held on the 13th May, 1832, in Glentworth-street—John Wilkinson, Esq. Member of Royal College of Surgeons, in the Chair:

Resolved—That we have heard with much surprize, that a private meeting of Medical men was held at Dr. Harding's house in this City on the 12th instant, for a Public purpose, and in which all the profession were equally interested.

Resolved—That at such meeting, we have heard the Members present formed themselves into a Medical Board of Health, and recommended or rather appointed themselves and other persons to fill up the contemplated appointments, should the Cholera unfortunately make its appearance in our City.

Resolved—That any meeting held for a public purpose, and in which all the Profession are equally concerned, should have been public—and we therefore deny the right of any self-elected few assuming to represent the feelings and wishes of the Profession at large.

Resolved—That a Medical Board of Health should have been chosen by the Profession at large, as it has been in all other Cities.

Resolved—That if Medical appointments were to be regulated by self-constituted conclaves of Medical men, the public would have no protection from interested and ill-judged selections, the door would be closed against all fair competition and industry, success and reputation would be deprived of all chance of those distinctions which they usually and properly confer.

Resolved—That the privileges which have thus been so gratuitously exercised, are such as no seniority in the profession can confer. In our intercourse with the senior Members of our Profession, either in the Consulting Room or in Society, we are ever ready to concede to them a due respect and consideration, but we cannot sacrifice to such feelings our rank and place with the Public—our equal interest in the welfare of the Sick Poor, or the health and safety of our Patients, when obliged conscientiously to differ from them in private practice.

Resolved—Because even if the propriety of a meeting of the Seniors of the Profession for such objects was in accordance with any recognized principle, the selection was not regulated by any rule that we can understand: as Practitioners were excluded, of longer standing in the Profession of as high qualifications, and more extensive practice than several of those who were invited to attend.

Resolved—Because this improper and secret canvassing of claims and qualifications, which should have been left for the consideration of the Board of Health and the Public must sow dissension and jealousy among the Profession, the baneful fruits of which will appear when the Pestilence is at our doors (which may the Almighty in mercy avert) and when concert and co-operation alone can give the poor a just confidence in Medical treatment.

Resolved—Because we can see no justifiable motive for the exclusion which has taken place, and as on the excluded portion of the Profession, the chief labour must necessarily fall, should we be unhappily visited by the Cholera—we feel that we had a right to a part in the discussion respecting it; and in common courtesy at least, a claim to have been present at it.

In conclusion, because the present self-constituted Medical Board can never prove an efficient assistant to the Board of Health, as we are justly resolved to accept no situation on their recommendation to report no cases through them, to hold no concert with them as a Board of Health, with respect to any measures necessary for the preservation of this City, but we will discharge the duties of humanity to every class of our fellow-Citizens, without reference to the existence of any such self-selected Body.
