We have the satisfaction of saying the disease has abated materially of its virulence, and the cases now in hospital are of a much lighter shade than those of the previous week, and the symptoms more favourable.
 We regret to learn there is an increase of Cholera cases among the 27th Regiment in the New Barracks, and that two soldiers died of the epidemic since Saturday.
 Another soldier of the 27th Regiment, named Fitzpatrick, died yesterday of Cholera, and was privately removed from the barracks in a close-covered waggon for interment in Munchin's Church-yard. No military escort or funeral honours are paid on those occasions.

 R. O GASCOIGNE."
 The Earl of Cork, Lord Clare, and the Right Honorable Thomas S. Rice, M. P. have each given the sum of Ten Pounds to the Shanagolden Board of Health, and Stephen Dickson, Esq. Two Guineas.
 We regret to learn the occurrence of one fatal case of Cholera in the town of Shanagolden, on Sunday last, the 24th instant.
 The whole amount as yet advanced by Government to the Board of Health for this City is £2,000.
 The sums given to the Relief Committee appear at full length in first Page.
 The prevailing epidemic has had a most injurious effect on the sale of vegetables and garden produce.
 At a General Meeting of the Governors and Governesses of the Limerick Fever and Lock Hospital, held on Monday last, Doctors Geary, Vereker, and Surgeon Franklin, jun. were re-elected the professional attendants in said Hospital for the ensuing year.

 All the cases which have occurred in the town are included in the above return. The Hospital is very large, well fitted up, and regularly attended by Doctors Elliott, Ryall, and Parkinson, and Mr. M. Fitzgerald, Apothecary to the Hospital. Doctor Lever arrived from Dublin in Kilrush on Monday. He was sent down at the request of the Board of Health.
 In the extensive district to the west of Kilrush, on the banks of the Shannon, five cases of Cholera occurred, all of which proved fatal.
 In the two parishes of Moyarta and Kilballyowen, 14 cases, 0 deaths, with 4 recoveries, was the return made to Thursday evening, from the Rev.  A clergyman of the Established Church, tutor in a gentleman's family near Doueraile, died there on Friday of Cholera. He was privately interred near the house, as the people of the neighbourhood rose in a body, and would not allow his remains burial in consecrated ground.
 The Thurles Board of Health have received, from the Consolidated Fund, Two Hundred Pounds, for the purpose of fitting up an Hospital, and using every means necessary to meet the Cholera, should it unfortunately visit that town.
 In order to guard against the introduction of Cholera, the Board of Health of Waterford have given directions that the Gipsy steamer, on her arrival from Liverpool, shall remain in the middle of the river until examined by a medical man, and that no person shall quit said vessel, until after such examination.

The fatal cholera has appeared in Clonmel. Mr. Patrick Parlo, lock-smith, formerly of High-street, Waterford, was the first victim. There was not the least doubt among the medical men that the case was one of decided cholera. Another person residing in Parle's house, was attacked on Thursday, and died that night; and on the same evening, another man in the suburbs, at the county Waterford side, snuk under this unsparing malady. The infected house, where the disease first appeared, is frequented by guards, and drivers, and the humbler description of travellers.
 The Mayor of Clonmel called a public meeting on Saturday, to divide the town into districts, and appoint superintending visitors.
 Tipperary, Tuesday evening—"We had 18 cases of Cholera here, 13 fatal; the hospital at present empty, and I have not heard of any case these two days, with the exception of one buried last night; this morning none."
 A ruffian who recovered from Cholera in St. Michael's Hospital was seized by the Parish Watch, on Monday night, in the act of stealing blankets from a bed in that house of refuge, to which the depraved wretch owes his life! This, we understand, has not been the first attempt of a similar kind.

Thursday evening last, the fair-day of Broadford, a man of the name of Molony was waylaid and stoned to death near the fair green. An inquest was held before George Lloyd, and Henry Bentley, Esqrs. Magistrates, when the Jury returned a verdict of wilful murder against persons unknown.
