

THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.

TIPPERARY ENDOWED SCHOOL.

THE business of the School will be resumed on Monday the 23d Instant.

An early attendance of the Pupils is particularly requested, as Professor Spalding has been engaged to give lectures on Elocution, System of Attitude and Gesture, &c., early in August, the great advantages of which have been fully developed at the examinations in June, and highly appreciated by a crowded audience, composed of the rank and fashion of the surrounding neighbourhood.

The house is beautifully situated, and decidedly one of the finest establishments in Ireland, thirteen thousand pounds having been expended on it about twelve or thirteen years ago. It is quite detached from the town, and stands aloof from every species of nuisance, and the play-grounds are very extensive and dry.

No expence has been spared in procuring Assistants of the highest character in every department: there is little or no corporal punishment, except in cases of absolute necessity. The Pupils are treated like gentlemen, and trained up with gentlemanly feelings, and nothing omitted that may tend to increase their comfort.
