Amidst the many melancholy cases of distress to which it has been our lot to call the attention of the Public, during the existence of the awful visitation with which it has pleased God to afflict us—few very few indeed possess such urgent claims as the case of the family of ROBERT RING a Mason. After having been reduced to great distress by many months want of employment, he at length procured work at the Chapel now building in Catherine-street, but had scarcely entered upon it when he was struck down by the prevailing epidemic. He died, leaving a widow and eight children in a state of the greatest destitution. The kindness of an individual placed the poor widow on the list of one of the Public Charities which would have entitled her to a small annual sum, but broken hearted as she was, the remorseless disease which had robbed her of her husband found her a ready prey, and she too has been snatched away from her orphans. The eldest of these poor children who has been long suffering under a complaint of the lungs has been intended for some time her mother's death, and a few hours must close her earthly course. The unfortunate survivors must look for assistance to those to whom God has entrusted the means of alleviating the sufferings of their fellow-creatures; and as this is a case which need but to be known to command commiseration, there is no doubt but the Public will come forward liberally on the occasion.

Some individuals who have interested themselves for this unfortunate family, have formed a plan for applying whatever funds the Public generously may place at their disposal, in such a manner as to provide permanently for these poor sufferers.

Donations will be received, at the Chronicle Office, by Rev. Doctor Forster, Wm. Smyth, Esq. Cecil-street, Bank of Ireland Office, and Surgeon Thwaites, 43, George's-street. MOON'S AGE.—Last September Quarter, 17th; New, 24th; First Quarter, October 1st; Full, 9th.

Barrington's Hospital Board-Room, Sept. 14th.

SIR—Having seen an anonymous publication in the Herald of last night, signed, "anti-cholera," and reflecting in a malicious and unfounded manner, on the management of the Barrington Cholera Hospital. We waited on the Editor, who frankly informed us, that some days since he received the communication and withheld its publication (being anonymous) but upon receiving a second letter from anti-cholera, requesting its publication on the grounds of public good, he complied with the request, for which he expressed his regret. On demanding the name of the author, he refused to give it.
