LONDON, SEPTEMBER 22.

Official report of cholera from the country this morning, 313 new cases, 119 deaths, 300 recoveries, 1312 remaining. The Queen has re-appointed Lord Howe her Chamberlain. Authentic accounts have been received this morning from Paris, announcing the important fact of the death of Ferdinand VII. King of Spain.

An express has been received this morning from Paris, bringing private letters, and the Papers of Thursday. The intelligence they bring is very important. A Cabinet Council was held on Thursday, which sat till late in the afternoon, after which an order was issued by Marshal Soult, the Minister of War, for the immediate marching of all the troops in the northern departments towards Valenciennes, Mons, and the extreme frontier of Belgium. This movement of the army was decided upon in consequence of the conduct of the King of Holland, who now threatens to invade Belgium. Sixty thousand men are to march to the frontiers and wait till further orders, as King Louis Philippe has positively declared that he will not allow the throne of his son-in-law to be invaded by William of Holland. A telegraphic despatch had been received at the hotel of the Minister of Marine, that the Dutch troops were on their march under the command of the Prince of Orange.

The news from the south of France is rather alarming, as the Carlists are organizing themselves in great bodies. The Duchess of Berry still keeps her position in La Vendée, and bids defiance to the municipal authorities and the threats of the Government. She has many partisans. Nothing is yet settled with regard to the Ministry; but M. Dupin, no doubt, will be the President.

Sir Gore Ouseley has purchased Hall Park, near Beaconsfield, the seat of Walter and Sacharissa, and also of Edmund Burke, consisting of 800 acres, for which he has given $2,000.

Mr. Otway Cave is about to be united to the eldest unmarried daughter of Sir Francis Burtet, Captain Gordon, late of the Athol, is to be tried by Court Martial at Portsmouth for disobedience of orders to Commodore Hayes.

Mr. Gulley's Margrave, won the Gascoigne stakes of 150l. each at Doncaster. Captain Oliver is committed to the House of Correction, for having made a trade of selling characters to servants at 40s. each.

Mr. John Parry, Veterinary Surgeon of Uxbridge, cut his throat on Friday, under delirium from scarlet fever.

Sir Walter Scott breathed his last at twenty-five minutes past one on Friday last. Drawing from the depths of human nature, he wrote to men of all countries, all classes, and all parties, and his fame, like his genius, is universal. Sir Walter was born on the 15th of August 1771, and was only in his 62d year. He dies too soon for the wishes of his countrymen.

The convicts and crew on board the Hulk at Kingstown were alarmed a few nights since by a rush of water into the keel, occasioned, it is said, by the dry rot. The continued exertions of those on board prevented it from sinking, and it is now surveying by the Nimrod.

The greatest indulgence was given by the officers of the convict ship to Mr. Luke Dillon on his passage to Botany Bay, but his conduct was so bad, that on his landing in that colony, he was sent to the interior, and by the last accounts was engaged in the most menial situation.

FATAL AFFRAY WITH THE MILITARY.

Yesterday Major Thorpe, a company of the 27th, and a party of Lancers, in consequence of a requisition from the Magistrates of Kerry, repaired to the fair of Stonehall, in this County, to prevent a collision between two hostile parties, who have been making the greatest exertions for a conflict for some days past. It is stated to have been excited by a dispute as to the right of cutting sea-weed in the vicinity of the Shannon, and the inhabitants of the opposite shore in the County of Clare were invited to the scene of action. At five o'clock yesterday evening an account reached town, that the conflicting parties had joined and commenced an attack upon the Military. Result not yet known; but report states that several have been killed and wounded; and that when the express had been dispatched, the Lancers were in close pursuit of the assailants.

Since writing the above, two Lancers arrived express from Stonehall for a reinforcement of troops, and both factions having turned their united force on the Military and Police. Thomas P. Vokes, Esq. Colonel Wemyss, Brigade Major, a troop of the Lancers, and two additional companies of the 27th Regiment, instantly turned out of camp, and proceeded with all possible haste towards Stonehall. Stonehall is nine miles from town.

Nine o'clock.—We have learned that both factions fired upon the Military, who returned the shots by the order of the Magistrates, and the result was that one of the leaders of the Kennedy faction, named Murphy, also a school-master, from Ballysteen, were shot dead, and several were wounded. The parties rallied again, but remained at a respectful distance.—One Policeman was slightly wounded by a gun-shot. An inquest is to be held this day.

This morning we have ascertained the following.—When the military had arrived at Stonehall, Major Thorpe waited on Mr. Davenport and the other Magistrates, and took up the necessary position. The people began to assemble on the hills in great numbers, and then to close down upon the troops; the Magistrates advanced to remonstrate with them, but to no purpose, as stones, missiles and abusive language, were given in return. The Lancers were then ordered to disperse a body of the rioters who had taken possession of a rising ground near the Chapel, and adjoining a parcel of turf stacks; from behind which they pelted the Lancers and fired some shots at them and the Infantry. The Magistrates, after reading the Riot Act, then ordered the military to fire, which was done by one round each man, and the shots soon put the assailants to flight in all directions, leaving two dead, and seven or eight wounded, on the ground. Major Thorpe succeeded in taking 26 prisoners; but finding the people still assembling in great numbers, sent off for a reinforcement, with which he had the entire conveyed into the County Gaol, at 11 o'clock, last night. Nothing could exceed the steadiness of the troops; and the forbearance and coolness with which the entire affair was conducted, reflects the highest credit on the Officer commanding—for many, very many more, would have paid the forfeit of life for their temerity, were it not for the humanity of this excellent Officer, whose object was to make prisoners rather than to destroy infuriated beings. The Serjeant of the Lancers conducted his party in such a manner as to draw forth the approbation of the Magistrates, and the well merited approval of Major Thorpe, who has made a special report of his part of the duty. It is singular that three brothers of the Kennedy family lost their lives at the last three fairs of Stonehall; the object on this occasion was savage revenge.

Monday last a company of the 27th Regiment, under Captain Amisick, from this garrison, and a large detachment of Police, accompanied by Thomas P. Vokes, Esq. were employed in protecting the bailiffs of the Rev. Edward Croker, while levying a distress for tythes in the northern division of Croom. The people gave every facility to the seizure of cattle, but would not submit to pay the tythe due.

In the last week three parishioners of the Rev. Mr. Coote of Doone, men of decent appearance, and in comfortable circumstances, were arrested under decrees for tythes due to that Clergyman. Those persons boasted of being well able to pay the tythe, but refused doing so, until the military should have the trouble of marching them several miles into our County gaol, where they arrived under an escort of the 5th Reserve, immediately after which the prisoners were released by their friends on discharging the debt.

Sunday last the Lord Bishop of Killaloe preached before a numerous and respectable congregation in the Church of O'Brien's Bridge. The discourse of this amiable and truly Christian Prelate was grounded on that striking passage in the 13th chapter of Matthew, "Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of Man cometh." His Lordship's address was a beautiful and affecting specimen of pulpit eloquence, chaste in the composition, and impressive in the delivery. It was, moreover, peculiarly applicable to the present time, and the fatal ravages of that disease which has carried death and desolation into many families. We understand his Lordship proposes occasionally to preach in every parish of his diocese, and may be justly termed the good Shepherd, doing frequently the duties of Parish Minister and Curate. We hear that his intention is to preach on Sunday next in CastleConnell Church.

After passing through the subordinate ranks, he was appointed to the Lieutenant-Colonelcy of the 7th Foot, 1777. He was advanced to the rank of Major-General 1790, Lieutenant-General 1797, Col. of the 7th Fusiliers 1801, General 29th April, 1802, Field-Marshal 21st of August, 1830. Mr. O'Connell has addressed a letter to the Reformers of England, relative to the fatal affray at Wallstown, county Cork.—Mr. O'Connell after prefacing his letter thus, "there is blood on the face of the earth!—blood!—human blood profusely shed!"—declares he will seek real justice for the sufferers, if it can be found on the face of the earth, and that the slain shall not be unavenged. He says,—"the scenes of blood seem only about to commence."

Mr. Wyse has refused to give up Tipperary for Waterford. It is reported that a coalition will take place between the Hon. Pierce Butler and the head of the Ormond family to ensure his election, in consequence of the former gentleman succeeding to the Lieut.-Colonelcy of the Kilkenny Militia.

There was a meeting at the Sessions House of Malloy last week, where Mr. Daunta candidate for representing the town, presided. It was resolved not to vote for any candidate who does not engage to advocate Repeal of the Union and Abolition of Tythes.

John Bateman, of Oakpark, Esq. nephew of Col. Crossbie, is not a candidate for Tralee as reported.

Mr. Gladstone, of Liverpool, the Candidate for Portlinton, is a very near relative of that excellent landlord, and it is thought he will be re-elected, though the town will be severely contested.

We are requested by James Geary, Esq. Superintendent of the Kildysart Dispensary, to state that there was a supply of medicine at Kildysart on the outbreak of Cholera there.

There has been no Cholera in Cork since Saturday last, and only 12 cases remaining in hospital. Curious to say, this happy cessation of the disease in Cork, as in Limerick, occurred at the same time.

There has been no Cholera at Galway for many days past.

CHOLERA IN ENNIS. Saturday—Four new cases and three recoveries. Sunday—Neither case or death appears upon the return to-day.

To the Editor of the Limerick Chronicle.

SIR—As you were so good as to insert the letters which were addressed to me by the Lord Chancellor's direction, upon the subject of my having attended an anti-title meeting, together with the answer which I had the honor of forwarding to his Lordship. I shall feel obliged by your now giving insertion to the following letter, which I received yesterday, and which I think it my duty to lay before the public, in order to present an entire view of the transaction. I have the honor to remain, Sir, Your obedient servant, GODFREY MASSY.

Robert Long, Esq. to Godfrey Massy, Esq.

SIR—I have laid before the Lord Chancellor your letter of the 9th of August, and his Lordship has directed me to inform you, that the letter written to you by his direction on the 27th of July, in relation to your acting as Chairman at a meeting held on the 8th of July, was addressed to you at Newcastle, because the meeting was held there, and it was represented by the Lieutenant of the County, in his return to the Lord Chancellor, to be your Post-Town, and also the place where you attended Petty Sessions—no answer being received to that letter, his Lordship directed the letter, dated the 16th of August, to be sent to you. His Lordship having read your letter of explanation of the 27th of August, has desired that I should set you right as to the misrepresentation in the newspapers. He did not state in his place in parliament, that at all the meetings which had been held in Ireland, on the subject of tythes, no law whatever had been violated: on the contrary, he stated distinctly that all combinations to resist the payment of tythes, either actively or passively, or inciting others to such combinations for that purpose, was a direct violation of law.

As, however, it appears that you acted under mistake, both as to the facts in regard to the intention of Government as to tythes, and as to the law, His Lordship has given directions for reinstating you in the Commission of the Peace.

I have the honor to be, Sir, Your most obedient humble servant, ROBERT LONG.
