EDUCATION.

LIMERICK FEINAGLIAN INSTITUTION. THE Rev. G. GREGG having now completed his school establishment so as to be finally permanent, at Crescent-Place, where he has abundant accommodation for additional boarders and increasing day scholars...

Mr. G. takes the liberty of stating that to his knowledge a single boy has not left his school from want of progress or any similar cause, but on the contrary many parents have called to return thanks, and to signify the rapid progress their children have made.

On or before the expiration of November next, it is intended to hold a Public Examination in Elocution, &c. &c. for premiums, to which the Public will be admitted, when they can then judge for themselves of the progress of those scholars committed to Mr. G.'s care for a very short period in all the important branches of education.

Mr. G. is thus anxious to guard against injurious reports arising from any cause whatsoever.

FRANCIS SIKES AND CO. WINE MERCHANTS AND TEA DEALERS.

TAKE the liberty of informing their Customers and the Public in general, that they now offer for Sale a considerable quantity of PORT, SHERRY, and CAPE MADEIRA WINES, which, being imported by themselves, from Houses of the very first respectability, they can with confidence recommend.

THE WINES having remained in bottle for a considerable time, they trust a single trial (which is respectfully solicited) will induce those families who have favoured them in so peculiar a manner in the Tea and Coffee Branch of their business, to extend to them a share of their favours in this department.

On commencing this addition to their Trade, they resolved on importing no Wines but those of the prime quality; but that notwithstanding, they are confident the prices will be found as low as those of any other House in this City.
