

which separated the outer from the inner bullet passed through the window-shutters of the flour, struck the opposite wall, and was lodged in the floor. Those within were repeatedly summoned to open the door—but the summons and the door was too strong to be forced—of the front and back gate-houses were also broken, and the lead taken from the next attacked and demolished the windows of the collector. The Baron is said to have written letters, denouncing him for his charges and at the late Commission in Dublin—payment to many, and had never had any of his tenants.

Orders from the War-Office, the five prisoners of the 7th Hussars, were sent off from morning, by coach, under a strong Hussars, under the command of Lieut. of the regiment. The prisoners arrived of London, where they are confined of the main guard-house, which has been a prison, and arrangements are now making of a greater number.

The distribution of the 81st regiment, quarters, under Major Scoones:—The Estridge—Light Company, Captain de Hill, Hamilton, and J. B. Creagh's—Major Wilcocks, and Captain Short's—Captains Vandeleur and Creagh's—Captain Dixon's company. Ballyragh company.

The Light Company of the 81st regiment were, on Tuesday, under the command of Major, to Freshford, in aid of the civil force from Dublin to Birmingham to which gallant regiment his Lordship the Regiment has marched from Casanforce the collection of tithes.

His Majesty is gazetted to the rank of Royal Artillery, Vice Cuppage

Major, Aid-de-Camp to the Comandant, has left Dublin for Bodmin, that Borough.

Major left Dublin for Trim on Monday. The 43d Regiment took place square, Beggar's Bush, Dublin—Major Wicklow for Dublin this day. Major left this day at Cove, in the jurisdiction their quarters in Cork are taken in Fermoy.

Major, A. B. has been appointed to the Diocese of Elphin, upon the resignation of William Gillmore, A. M. who has been of Chester.

Major has received Two Pounds for the poor of Castle-Connell at Petty Sessions from persons who presented a letter to the electors of the county of two members for that county of the Union, one of them to be that absentee proprietors derive exceeding £200,000. And Mr. Major will go himself to Ennis, to attend the General Meeting of the county and will be seen fully detailed signed his claims to the representation. The candidates now are Major and Mr. Major.

The respectable adjourned meeting of the day, Sir James Stewart, High Sheriff to Parliament was adopted Grand Jury Laws.

Major of Galway, has got a Bench against Mr. R. J. Major guard.

Major started on the Munster Circuit of the twelve Judges, first cousins can, in all cases, of this point may afford gentlemen of the long robe.

The Crown for the several cases by the death of the late Major have been completed by the Major for the county of Leitrim.

Major has formed no coalition for the county with Mr. James Daly.

Major of the parishes of Ennis presented an Address, addressed of Plate, to the Rev. Major of Union, of which he held Major, to the pastoral care

Major the memory of the late Major completed and sent to Major Protestant Church of this distinguished officer Major life marble.

Major to be heard on their petition Major Lloyd, on the 4th Major.

Major admitted to the Hibernian Major the total number of this conclusive evidence which has been adduced of its eminent success—its entire efficacy. Proofs the most incontrovertible have been given that Cold Water has cured Cholera; and yet people are permitted to be dosed with stimulants which have been demonstrated to operate the certain and speedy annihilation of the unfortunates to whom they are administered. Whilst Doctors Massy and M'Creddie listen to the voice of nature, and adopt the suggestions of experience, which enable them, with the assistance of a kind Providence, to save their patients at Kilkee and Maryboro', the Practitioners of other places in the country are depopulating their districts by persevering in the old system of treatment. How apposite then are the words of the Prophet to the Cholera and the Faculty. Cold Water cures the Cholera; but some profound Doctors will not use it; because, forsooth, it is against the rules of practice; and should not, therefore, be adopted by a physiological mind! In spite of this scientific fastidiousness the terrible one is, however, brought to nought, and those who scorn simplicity are confounded. Men should not be too wise in their own conceits. Truth and nature must be obeyed. The safety of Society demands an immediate abandonment of the treatment of Cholera hitherto pursued. Indeed it cannot be any longer tolerated! It is the imperative duty, as I am sure it is the anxious desire, of every Board of Health, as well as all Medical Societies, to have the subject instantly investigated. Facts and proofs have been collected and submitted without being contradicted. To-day I furnish you with more convincing testimony. These documents may, perhaps, induce the philanthropic enthusiast to exclaim—“If these things have happened—if Drs. Massy & M'Creddie have cured their patients as they have stated—if all that have been published of Dr. Shute be true, what Medical Practitioner will have the hardihood to use other means less efficacious in the cure of Cholera; but if such there be, and that any creature, however humble or destitute, shall have perished under their Pathological System, they should be denounced as bigoted Dogmatists and heartless and legalised of their fellow beings.” This might, however undesired, be the impassioned language of the enthusiast; but all Sciences, Systems, and Professions are subject to scrutiny and animadversion.

Amongst the medical faculty are to be found men of the first order of intellect, and the highest human attainments; and they will, doubtless very soon, as they must have long since examined it, decide and act on Dr. Shute's theory. Instead of sticking to erroneous principles, they will, as Dr. Shute and others have done in Cholera—

“Follow nature, and their judgment frame
By her just standard, which is still the same:
Unerring nature—still divinely bright,
One clear, unchang'd, and universal light;
Life, force, and beauty, must to all impart,
At once the source, and end, and test of art—
Art from that fund, each just supply provides,
Works without show, and without pomp presides.
In some fair body, thus the secret soul
With spirits feeds, with vigour fills the whole—
Each motion guides, and every nerve sustains—Itself unseen, but in th' effect remains.”

I, Richmond Place, I am, Sir, &c.
Limerick, Nov. 23. JAMES MORGAN.

TO JAMES MORGAN, ESQ.
DEAR SIR.—In compliance with your request, I hasten to put you in possession of the important facts relating to the cases of the Cholera patients in Kilkee Hospital, and although the two whom I first treated under the cold water practice, as recommended by Dr. Shute, and promulgated in this part of the county by you, terminated unfavourably, yet I by no means attribute it to any want of confidence in the cold water system; on the contrary, it has only fortified my opinion that it is a safe and simple remedy, and if pursued must be attended with the best possible results in arresting the progress of this formidable and desolating malady. I prefer giving the two cases I have mentioned, in consequence of having been treated in hospital; the NINE who were attended by me at their own houses, and who, under God, recovered, were treated in a similar manner.

I am, dear Sir, your's, &c. THOMAS MASSY, M.D.

The first two cases were those of Mary Hallaran, aged 40 years; and Catherine Boyle, aged 30 years, women of naturally weak constitutions. I visited them at their own residences on Sunday, the 13th inst., at which time both were in the worst stage of Collapse, with all the symptoms strikingly marked. I immediately ordered them to the hospital, which they at first refused, but after some persuasion and a delay of about two hours they assented, and were conveyed thither in a perfectly hopeless state. I had recourse to the usual remedies, but without the slightest appearance of any benefit to the patients, and I left the hospital at 5 P.M. under the impression that they could not have survived one hour. On reaching my lodgings I took up the Limerick Chronicle of the preceding day, which had just arrived, and for the first time I read Dr. H. Shute's system of cold water treatment, which made such a forcible impression on my mind that I resolved at once to put it to the test, and accordingly, in about an hour, I returned to the hospital and found the women sinking rapidly under their severe sufferings. As a last resource I ordered both the patients large draughts of cold water, which were taken with great avidity, and which in a short time were followed with copious vomiting, that continued at intervals whilst I remained—which was about an hour. I again returned home leaving the Apothecary on duty directions to administer nothing but cold water, and that in such quantities as the patients may require. In the morning I hastened to the hospital in the expectation of hearing of the death of both the patients, but what was my astonishment on finding them not only alive

I remain, Sir, your most obedient Servant,
WM. SCOTT M'CREDDIE,
Assistant-Surgeon 1st Battalion, 69th Rifles.
To James Morgan, Esq. Limerick.

THEATRE ROYAL.
On Monday next, our Theatre—which has undergone some very necessary alterations and repairs—will open for a few nights only; and we can promise our fellow-citizens a series of entertainments highly deserving popular favour. The leading attraction on this occasion is the justly celebrated and fascinating Mrs. Waylett, whose vocal powers as a Ballad singer, are unrivalled on the British stage. Mr. Seymour, too, who has been such a favourite in Limerick, will make his appearance, after an absence of twelve years; and, from the talent which he will bring forward, including the Juvenile Corps de Ballet, we have no doubt that the Theatre will be graced with the rank, beauty and fashion of our City and County.—See Advertisement.

BIRTHS.
On Thursday, at Crecoral, the Lady of William Finch, Esq. of a son.
In Patrick-street, the Lady of John T. Devitt, Esq. Barrister, of a daughter.
At the South Mall, Cork, the Lady of John Taylor, Esq. of a son.
At Ashgrove, Cork, the Lady of Richard Ashe, Esq. of a son and heir.
At Plymouth, the Lady of Lieutenant T. Rawlings, 40th Regiment, of a son.
The Lady of William Boxwell Hogan, Esq. of Stephen's-green, Dublin, of a son.
In Talbot-street, Dublin, the Lady of Wm. Gibson, Esq. of a daughter.
At Oakland, county Tyrone, the Lady of Capt. Richard-son, late of the 1st Life Guards, of a son and heir.
The Lady of the Rev. A. B. Rowan, of Belmont, Tralee, of a daughter.

MARRIED.
In St. George's Church, Hanover-square, London, the Hon. George Lionel Massy, third son of the late Major-General Lord Clarina, to Rebecca Anne, widow of the late John Cunn, Esq. of Haverhill House, Herefordshire.
Robert Tigh, Esq. of Castleview, county Wicklow, to Jane, eldest daughter of William Ode, Esq. of Donnybrook, county Tipperary.
Mr. Christopher Devlin, of Drogheda, to Frances Mary Anne, daughter of the late Surgeon Lawless, 90th Light Infantry.
In Cork, Richard, son of the late Richard Smith, Esq. of Easton House, to the daughter of the late James Halburd, Esq. of Hyde Park.
In Cork, Charles Payne Tivy, Esq., of Richmond-hill, to Charlotte, daughter of James M'Mullen, Esq.
By special license, in Castletown Church, Celbridge, E. B. Stephens, Esq. to Eleanor Jessie, eldest daughter of Captain Scott, of Amiens-street, Dublin.
In St. Thomas's Church, Dublin, the Rev. Robert D. Carhought, A. M. Assistant Minister of St. George's church, Kingston, Upper Canada, and Chaplain to the Lord Bishop of Quebec, to Harriet, second daughter of Conway E. Dobbs, Esq. Summer-hill.
In Sligo Church, Doctor Caster, to Maria, only daughter of Capt. Oliver Hicks, formerly of New York.

DEATHS.
At his seat, Kilcolman, on the 22d inst., George Finch, Esq., one of the Deputy Lieutenants of the county Tipperary. A gentleman highly respected and esteemed in every relation of life.
In Gardiner-street, Dublin, Charles Miller, Esq. late of this City.
At Farnane, in this County, Mr. Daniel Costello.
In Stafford-street, Dublin, Mr. Robert Cooper, only son of the late William Cooper, Esq. of Sackville-street.
At Nenagh, of cholera, Mary, widow of the late Garrett Dillon, Esq.
At Currick-on-Suir, James H. Leech, Esq. late of Kilkenny.
In Cork, Mary Anne, only child of Henry Sharpe, Esq. of Mount Conway.
At Blaekrock, the infant son of Robert De La Cour Beamish, Esq.
At Ballina, of fever, contracted by over exertion in his professional capacity, Surgeon Thomas C. Bone, only son of J. Bone, Esq. M. D. of Plymouth.
At Cheltenham, Rear-Admiral William Cumberland, aged 67 years.
At Kemmage, county Dublin, Richard Parsons, Esq. late Salesmaster at Smithfield.
At Brighton, the Right Hon. Lady Stafford.
At Oak-Bank, near Sevenoaks, the Right Hon. Catherine Ann Countess of Aboyne, aged 61.
In the 55th year of his age, the Rev. William Howels, Minister of the Episcopal Chapel in Long-acre, London.
The Rev. Robert Berthomier, 35 years Professor of the French Language at Eton, aged 75.

THOMAS HYVES
RESPECTFULLY informs his Friends and the Public that he has arrived to him a Splendid Assortment of GOODS FIT FOR THIS SEASON, consisting of best superfine Cloths, Cassimeres, Petershams, Coatings, Naps, Kerseys, Blanketing, Flannels, Counterpanes, Floor Cloths, with a fashionable assortment of Fancy Waistcoating; French and British Merinoes; Thibet Shawls; Gros de Naples; Crape, Buff, and French Silk Handkerchiefs; Fur Capes, and Lyncx Boas; Tuscany, Leghorn Straw, and Beaver Bonnets.

“In a dome “operate for “bowels.”
Of the many Modern Domes
“GENTLEMEN
“testimony in it
“and shall cert

An ample pri
STEVENSON'S at Limerick,

Amongst the n
introduction of a drawing the tubul
tor, with the great
The different pa
engraving:—

A more full explain
MESSRS

EQUALLY AP

THE LIMERICK MED
HOSPITALS, DISPENSARI

Not only the above, but Apparatus for Restoring Catheters, Elastic Gum a
Needles, Tooth Instrum
Scales and Weights, Infus constant correspondence w have not in town, with th
ticular cases, and also to fo

Mr STEVENSON begs the 172, George's-street;” this the words “FROM T
this label being invariably

General Qua
County of Limerick, } TIL
to wit. } Rathke
December 1692, at Ten o'clock i of Rathkeale, and the Civil with in the following order:
the Barony of Keary; next, th which lies to the west of the the Barony of Upper Connel
the Barony of Lower Connello Ejectments will be heard in the same day at 12 o'clock the after which the Appeals will b Crown-Business disposed of.
The Process-servers are desire Wednesday, the 26th December at be open for the purpose) from 1 till Six in the Evening, to give the Processes for Rathkeale must of the Peace, before the sitting of 27th, and he will not be permitte
after that time. This regulation
The Quarter Sessions for the Li
the City and Liberties, will con
Monday the 3d of January
in the 27