CHURCH REFORM.

The Editor of the Limerick Chronicle.

I think all men who have at heart the good of the must unite in wishing for an efficient reform in the ment, and at the same time must have been disap- y the plan now before the Legislature. I would at it is manifest that the plan brought forward by y's Ministers was not suggested by a desire for the ent of Religion; but that its sole object is Re- t, without considering the bearing of the plan cause of Religion. I will not trespass upon your nor upon the patience of your readers, with any d observations upon this subject. But I would e suggestions which occur to my own mind strongly ree evils, as I think, which called for Reformation, e of many, if not all, the evils of the present sys- these—The too great wealth of the Bishops,—the ance placed between their Lordships and the infe- ry,—and the abuse, in too many instances, of their e. The present plan of Reform will not remove the le it will tend greatly to the augmentation of the ; evils. For it is proposed still to give the Primate a year, which, in my humble opinion, is fully twice for any Christian Bishop,—and to the Bishop of 3,000, which, for a suffragan Bishop, is fully four much. Then, by reducing the number of Bishops, nce between them and the rest of the Clergy will be . The fewer the Bishops are, the more it will tend exaltation—the more minister to pride. Thirdly, the e of the Bishops who will be left will be doubled ddition of that attached to the suppressed See.— n, though some saving will be made, the state of ch will be rendered worse than before.

ect a real Reformation, ten new Bishopricks should n erected, instead of ten being suppressed. To that ould be a Bishop for each County, and an Archbi- each Province. Let each Bishop have a cure of et him be a Rector of a Parish, suppose of the value 00 a year, and let him have an addition of £1,500 00 as Bishop, to superintend the surrounding Clergy. ould be nearer to the primitive plan, where each City Bishop. When it came to the turn of the Bishop to arliament, let him have an addition from a fund set r that purpose, of £1,200 for that year, to enable eet the extra expenses. Let each of the four Arch- be also a Bishop (as it is now); and let three of ve £4,000, beside his living of £1,000 a year, and ate £5,000, beside a living. Thus, there would be elbishops at £4,000 each, one Primate at £5,000, Bishops at £2,000 each, total £73,000 a year; add h £7,000 a year for six Representative Bishops.— aking a total for 32 Bishops of £80,000; instead of, resent, 22 with £130,000; or, as by the new plan sters, 12 with probably about £80,000.

advantages to be derived from this plan would be, y a saving of income, to be appropriated to other i uses, (for it is spoliation to apply it to any other), but also by the increase of the number of Bishops, king them working Clergy, there would be an end ndue difference of rank between them and their Cleri- thren, and the temptation of too great patronage e removed.

make the plan more efficient, the appointment of e should not rest solely, as now, in the Crown; nor onage of livings solely with the Bishops. These ould be at the disposal of a Board composed of a number of the Senior Clergy, together with their in each Diocese.

Your obedient Servant,

A CLERGYMAN OF THE ESTABLISHED CHURCH.

Limerick, Feb. 18, 1833.

of David Chambers, Esq. of Dorset-square, Commander in the Royal Navy.
