

I saw him,
 al-gun parted—
 ed,
 achts started,
 eur's band.
 rine—
 bleashes just slipp'd,
 ing bows,
 am-tipp'd.
 Zephyr—
 so fast ;
 Reinvala,
 ore was last.
 r the water,
 ern gales ;
 r winner,
 spreading sails.
 g of girls,
 -faced boys—
 cannon ;
 ise !
 few samples,
 audily dress'd—
 e" creatures,
 st.
 my epistle,
 etested—
 ue !
 orrow,
 match here—
 otten :
 ruce beer.
 te satin ;
 's too pale—
 limerick and Ennis,
 a Brail.
 lack leather :
 mis'd to send—
 l weather :
 friend.
 r last, the Psyche
 er cup of £20, and Singleton challenge
 tain Vivian. The ge cup, value 100
 sea. The Adelaide,
 n this cup last year,
 arbour, was unable
 in.
 al day and Sunday
 on at the school-
 e gentry) fifty-four lergymen acted as
 at on the occasion, ed in the highest and ability evinced ned premiums for rly an age as from ng a scene, one of l liberality, had a lies and gentlemen
 smissal of the day when they and the
 by Dr. Watts, so ee
 ee," &c.
 being of the rising
 atifying to reflect,
 n in the Lord."

At Barrackpore, Captain J. Graham, of the 60th Regt. Infantry, to Harriette Anne, only daughter of Major-General James Watson, C.B. commanding the presidency division of the army.

DEATHS.

On Sunday last, the 3d instant, at Ardsalla, the residence of her grandfather (Col. Gough) in the county of Tipperary, Letitia, only child of that distinguished Officer the late Lieut.-Colonel Rickard Lloyd, and niece to the late Thomas Lloyd, Esq. of Beechmount, M.P. for this County. By those who knew this amiable and most interesting young Lady, the imbecility of panegyric will be readily acknowledged, for they must feel how difficult it is, in the narrow limits of a Newspaper, to detail the various good qualities she possessed ; but it would be injurious to her memory, to the affectionate admiration of her friends, to the interests of public morals, which are best promoted by the respect attendant on real worth, and to all the better feelings of our nature, if we were to announce the death of such a person, without noticing the eminent virtues which adorned her life. An undeviating rectitude of conduct—a genuine sense of honour, truth, and candour—a sterling uprightness and integrity of purpose, which nothing could tempt her to compromise—an innate principle of benevolence at once liberal and unostentatious, the natural result of a good heart and expanded mind—a clearness of judgment, and prudent course of action, surprising to behold in so young a creature—all combined to form a character, which from its own pure elements exercised the most beneficial influence around, and may still speak from the grave with the salutary voice of example.
 These virtues were not (how could they be?) unaccompanied by the still more endearing grace of domestic life. In her private circle she was distinguished for the most ardent and generous affections, and for firm and animated friendship. Her temper was placid and serene. Her disposition open, ingenuous, and confiding. Her manners, artless, kind, and engaging. Her conversation, agreeable and full of instruction, and her feelings so little selfish that they were ever directed towards the wants and wishes of others, and so susceptible as to be always ready to sympathise in their sorrows and their joys. As a Christian, her hopes were full of glorious immortality. She passed through "the valley of the shadow of Death" leaning on Jesus. Not one doubt was permitted to darken her path.
 She expressed continually her humble trust and joy in her Redeemer's love, and bore her protracted illness to the last with that patience and pious resignation which Religion and innocence can alone inspire.

In Cork, Miss Susan Townsend, daughter to the late Rev. Edward Synge Townsend.

Matilda Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. Edmonds, Eden-quay.
 At Irishtown, near Dublin, Robert Harding Stringer, Esq.

In Dublin, from injuries received by the falling of a building, Mr.
 Joseph Swan, of the Theatre Royal, a favourite performer of Harlequin.

At Ballyrankin House, the seat of Major Devereux, in the county Wexford, Mrs. Anne Daly, relict of the late Hyacinth Daly, Esq. of Killenuir Castle, county Galway, aged 88 years.

At Lisbryan, the seat of her son-in-law, Thomas Bunbury, Esq.
 Mrs. Bernard, aged 60 years.

In Paris, after a few days' illness, Mr. William Gamble, of Cork, aged eighteen years.

At Boyle, Harloe, second son of Harloe Knott, Esq.
 In Londonderry, aged 47 years, John Holmes, of Philadelphia, Esq.

son of Mr. John Holmes, of Bunrana.
 In Shipquay-street, Londonderry, Leonard Horner, Esq. aged 88.

At Shipquay-gate, Londonderry, aged 76 years, Thomas W. Newburgh, Esq. formerly Landwaiter of that port

At Kingstown, Kate Mary, second eldest daughter of the late Michael O'Brien, Esq. of Fitzwilliam-square, Dublin..

At Windfield Mills, Galway, in the 76th year, Mr. Phelim Wade.
 Patrick Murphy, Esq. of Tara, aged 82.

Suddenly, Matthew Russell, Esq. of Newry.
 At her residence at Ratoath, county Meath, Mrs. Elizabeth Eiffe.

Mr. Crocket, Overseer of the Ballina Fishery.
 At Westport, Mrs. Fortescue, wife of Mr. Fortescue, Chief Constable of Police.

At Bawtry, Elizabeth Hume, aged 83, relict of the Rev. Francis Herbert Hume, rector of Carlton and Warsop, Notts, and Prebendary of Southwell.

George Sanders, Esq. Captain Royal Navy.
 Maria, wife of Major Edward Brackenbury, of Skendleby-house, Lincolnshire.

At Pontefract, York, aged 43, Mary, eldest daughter of the late Mr. Sergeant Cockell.

At Greenock, Lieut. and Adjutant Frazer, 1st W.I. Regiment.
 At Glen Stuart, Dumfriesshire, in her 9th year, Grace Johnstone, the youngest daughter of Henry Alexander Douglas, Esq.

 At Headley, Francis Elizabeth, fourth daughter of the late Rev.

John Parson, aged 18.
 Katharine, the wife of Major-General J. Ross, Lieut.-Governor of Guernsey.

In the Island of St. Vincent, Frances, youngest daughter of Charles Whyte, Esq. 6th Regiment.

rent due by them thereat to the said Custodees or their rents thereof to the said Cust year before the other beco reading the said injunction. it is this day ordered by the in this Cause be and the sam the several tenants of the their respective arrears of re the said former Custodium order, and do also pay their said Custodees or their order becomes due as is desired.

(A true Copy.)

ROBERT MAUNSELL, Me

CONTRACT FOR IRISH
Department of the Transport Service

THE Commissioners for High Admiral of the U and Ireland, do hereby give 25th of September next, at to treat with such persons as the supply of a quantity of

IRISH SA

equal to 6,500 Navy Tierces of Pork (in separate Tender season, their Lordships res when the Tenders are opene whole or for such part there of not contracting for any pa

The said Meat is to be deli in tierces, and the rema in barrels, into his Majesty's Portsmouth, Plymouth, and shall hereafter be directed—day of February, and the oth 1835, and to be paid for by

The Conditions of the Con or by applying to the Agent to the Collectors of His M Belfast, Waterford and New Postmaster General at Dubli

No Tender for a less quan Tierces of Beef, or 300 Tier but all Tenders for such sma at a lower price than that f offered.

No Tender will be receive of treaty, nor any noticed, some person on his behalf, c it is to be expressly understo tain a separate price for the the Pork ; and that every prices both in figures and w will be rejected.

Every Tender must be de be accompanied by a Letter Admiralty, at Somerset-plac ble persons, engaging to b tendering, in a sum equal to the contract, for the due per