DEATHS.

In Mungret-street, on Monday last, after a lingering illness, which he bore with that fortitude and resignation resulting only from a firm and experimental dependence on the merits of Him whose "strength is made perfect in weakness," Robert W. Lawson, Esq. Student Royal College Surgeons. Fearless and ever ready at the call of duty, his memory will long be revered and his loss severely felt by many,—whilst amongst those who had the privilege of his more immediate acquaintance, and in the circle of a deeply sorrowing family, his death is felt with double poignancy, alleviated alone by the reflection that "those that sleep in Jesus will God bring with him."—A Sermon on the occasion will be preached in the Primitive Methodist Preaching House on next Sunday evening at Six o'clock.
