

Story, Esq. of Tusmore House, Oxon.

At Bombay, Lieut. W. C. Onslow, 44th N.I. to Ann Moriarty, eldest daughter of Captain P. Douglas, R.N.—Captain the Hon. W. Hamilton, 64th N.I. only brother to the present Lord Belhaven and Hamilton, to Mrs. M. A. Mendes, widow of the late P. Mendes Esq. Calcutta.

DEATHS.

On Saturday, at Ballintober, in this County, Theodocia, wife of Edward Sheehy, Esq. and sister of Major General H. S. Keatinge, C.B. As a fond wife and affectionate mother, the early and unforeseen demise of this respected Lady has been the cause of deep affliction to her sorrowing family and numerous circle of relatives and friends,—while by the poor of the surrounding districts, to whom her unostentatious charities have justly endeared her, her loss will be long felt. Her remains were interred yesterday in the family vault at Moneygay.

Friday night, at his residence Glenwilliam, near Ballingarry, to the inexpressible grief of a fond family and the deep regret of a highly respectable circle of relatives and friends, George Massy, Esq. one of the oldest Magistrates of this County, and on every occasion when its peace and tranquillity were menaced by rustic insurrection, or midnight outrage, one of the most active and resolute Gentlemen that held the local Commission. In social life he was ever a sincere and generous friend, while in the more tender and endearing enjoyments of the domestic establishment Mr. Massy invariably proved himself an exemplary husband, and a most affectionate parent. His tenantry are deprived of a kind and worthy landlord, while the industrious countryman has lost in him a sure protector. Next to William T. Monsell, of Tervoe, Esq. Mr. Massy was the Senior Magistrate of this County.

Friday, in Westland-Row, after a short illness borne with the resignation and fortitude of a Christian, Anne, the beloved wife of George Bowerman, Esq. The only consolation to her sorrowing relatives is, that she fell asleep rejoicing in the full assurance of an eternal resurrection through the merits of Christ her Saviour.
