DEATHS.

Last evening, at his house, in Tontine Buildings, in the prime of manhood, after a few days' illness, the Rev. James Charles Fitzgerald, only son of Charles Fitzgerald, Esq. of Shepperton, county Clare,—a zealous Minister of the Establishment,—leaving an amiable young widow and interesting child to lament his premature death. His last moments fully illustrated his pious and Christian life; for, within a few seconds ere his spirit fled, he sung a Psalm and offered up an extempore prayer to the Throne of Mercy in a distinct and audible tone, having retained unimpaired his faculties to the last moment. His remains will be interred to-morrow morning in the family vault at Kilnasula, in the county Clare.

At Meelick, Mary, relict of the late Captain S. W. Campbell, 42d Highlanders, and sister of the late Rev. E. Sheehy, P.P.

At Ballycolliten, Tipperary, the Rev. Alexander C. Moore, Curate of Ardrony, Killaloe.

At Mitchelstown, on Friday last, Mrs. Cooke, relict of the late John Cooke, of Mount George, Borrisoleigh, aged 64 years, sincerely regretted by her family and friends.

On Monday morning, at Richmond-place, after a painful illness, William Massy Fitzgerald, son of Captain G. H. Fitzgerald.

Mr. George Laurent, printer.

Mr. Thomas Malone, several years a Chorister in the Cathedral.

Robert, son of James M'Culloch, Esq. of Brooklawn, Merrion-Avenue, Dublin.

Robert Russell Cruise, Esq. of Drynan, county Dublin.

Suddenly, at his residence, Castletownroche, the Rev. Mr. Hoare, Rector of that parish. He officiated at Divine Service in his Church the preceding Sunday, and was apparently in good health. His death is a source of grief to a numerous circle of acquaintances, by whom his many virtues were justly appreciated; but to the poor it is a grievous calamity. He had been forty years Curate of Castle-townroche, and on the late vacancy, caused by the death of the Rector, he was promoted to the living by the late Bishop of Cloyne.

At Ballycastle, Mary, wife of the Rev. Charles Hill, Rector of Culfeightrin.

In Patrick-street, Cork, John Gearan, Esq. M.D. of Mitchelstown.

 Chambre Corker, Esq. of Innishannon.

In Stephen's-Green, Eccles Cuthbert, Esq. Assistant-Barrister of the West Riding of Cork.

In Dublin, of typhus fever, Peter, eldest son of Alderman B Gibbings, of Cork, aged 17 years.

At his Station in the Revenue Service, county Wexford, Lieut.
 William Grove White, of the Royal Navy.

In Derry, Lieut.-Colonel Andrew Brown, Companion of the Order of the Bath, late of the 79th Highlanders. He was a gentleman well known and highly respected in this City.

In Sligo, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnstone, widow of the late Captain Johnstone, of Friarstown.

Aged 95 years, George Percival, Esq. of Ardcanan, co. Wexford.

Edward Sutton, Esq. a Magistrate of Wexford.

At Sunday's Well, Cork, Mrs. Rochfort, the Lady of Richard Rochfort, Esq. Comptroller of Customs.

At Mallow, in his 22d year, Maurice, second son of Crosbie M.
 O'Callaghan, Esq. of Greenfield, county Cork.

Mrs. Ellen Rearden, relict of the late Mr. William Rearden, butter-merchant of Cork.

At Ahascragh, aged 57 years, the Rev. James O'Connor, P.P.

At Lifford, Adam Gillespy, Esq. M.D. for many years Surgeon of the Donegal Infirmary.

At Corrifin, county Galway, Mr. Wm. Hughes,—who was followed to the grave by his four brothers, all Roman Catholic Clergymen.

In Galway, Mr. John O'Reilly, apothecary.

At Hampton Court Palace, Anne Caroline FitzRoy, daughter of the late Hon. Henry Fitzroy, brother of the late Lord Southampton.

At Sompting, Sussex, in his 83d year, Edward Barker, Esq.

At Brecon, aged 73, Major David Price, formerly on the Bombay establishment E.I.C. This gallant and accomplished gentleman bears a striking and conspicuous part in the early history of our eastern possessions. He lost a limb at the siege of Darwar, and was present at the conquest of Seringapatam, where he was appointed Prize Agent, and he eventually held the office of Judge-Advocate-General of his Presidency.

Aged 62, John Garn, Esq. of Gloucester. He has left considerable sums to the poor and religious societies, among which the following:
 —British and Foreign Bible, London Missionary, and Home Missionary, £1,000 each; Religious Tract, Hibernian, Highbury College, Gloucester Infirmary, and Gloucester Lunatic Asylum, £500 each; Gloucester Magdalen, £200; for the benefit of the poor in the Kim-brose and St. Mary Magdalen Alms Houses, Gloucester, £2,000; and to the Southgate Independent Chapel Chapel, £300.
