day last, a company of the 27th Regiment and a body from Nenagh, accompanied by the Sheriff and Mr.
Ryan, Tithe Agent, proceeded to the residence of Otway Cave, Esq. On reaching the house Mr. ismounted, and posted on the hall door six tythe ; when returning Mr. Ryan distrained several per-most of whom settled. One gentleman a Protestant, ad previously been applied to at different periods, ed his cattle to be brought into town and impounded. ay night, two houses were maliciously consumed in ighbourhood of Barrisokean; the perpetrators of this have not yet been discovered.

numerous meeting was held by public advertisement at Irish Chapel of Croom last Sunday, after Mass, to ne against the payment of tythes, and the principal s who figured on this very unbecoming occasion were Medical Practitioners. After the business of the g was over, the multitude hooted the Rector of the on returning from divine service.

day last the Rev. Dr. Kennedy, P.P. of Birr, was rated Coadjutor to the Bishop of Killaloe, in the of the former town. In addition to the Prelates in our last, there attended 120 Priests, and the eration Sermon, a vigorous specimen of pulpit eloe, was preached by the Right Rev. Dr. Kinsella, of 7, who dwelt with great force and effect upon the of unity which characterises the Roman Catholic h. aturday last, a servant of the Rev. E. Croker returning Carass, was waylaid upon the road by two men, who cut ruised him with stones.

Edward Ruthven, M.P. for Kildare, has withdrawn the Kildare-street Club, in consequence of an intimation he did not voluntarily retire before twelve o'clock on y night, his expulsion should be proposed, on account of te decision of the Turf Club.

Edward Ruthven has withdrawn his name from the n Society, in consequence of a hint that his conduct Turf Club affair would be taken into consideration he tendered his resignation by a given time. e report of the death of old Mr. Ruthven, the member ublin, is untrue.

[FROM THE BERMUDA ROYAL GAZETTE, NOV. 10.]
In this town, on the morning of Wednesday last, after a protracted illness of many months, Dora, the beloved wife of T. Bligh Darracott, Esq. of the Island of Trinidad, and late of King's Bridge, Devon, England, and daughter of the late Ephraim Adams, Esq. of the city of Cork, Ireland. Mrs. Darracott came to Bermuda about two months since, fondly hoping that its salubrious climate, which had proved so beneficial in the restoration to health of others somewhat similarly circumstanced, would not only check but effectually remove a disease which had baffled the first medical skill, and almost every variety of tropical climate,—but these hopes were not to be realized—Death had too indelibly fixed his impress. It will be no doubt gratifying to her friends to know, that although "a stranger in the land" she was supported by the consolations of Religion—and during her sojourn here, was surrounded by those who not only sympathise with the afflicted, but extend to them that affection and attention which are most consolatory in the chamber of sickness.— Her remains were on Thursday accompanied to the tomb by a numerous and most respectable procession of Ladies and Gentlemen from this and the adjoining parishes, to some of whom she had endeared herself by her amiable and engaging manners, and patience under severe affliction.
