

the Agricultural Bank, but I know by establishment. extremely opulent; life in taking and in it is folly, and, in on that Bank, s in their readiness . and traders, and e and employment. ank without having nication with any nt. It really is so lders may perhaps heir credit. They t is for the sake of to warn the people anting the Provincial cing money to the d—the Government their Directors for e forward to sustain r madness than that some of the branches nity—again striking es, and taking away ational Bank of Ire- and steadiest friends friend of the people, hem good.

y to do good to the st me to serve them- ve in the world—all ily—all the property for the notes of the erty of all the other demand is over—I e tranquil enjoyment o secure to them, by ad.

onfessing that several ard to sustain public of angry politics, in d and right feeling, uraged at every side, ne People. I call on advice. No man can will be the better for

DNELL,
Bank of Ireland.
-Nov. 23.
..... 86½
..... 95½
..... 95½
..... 87½

Major Martin, and nephew to the late Right Hon. to Charlotte Marsden, only daughter of R. Marsden, Esq.
By special license, in Arlington-street, London, Charles Towneley, eldest son of P. E. Towneley, Esq. to Lady Caroline Molyneux, fourth daughter of the Earl of Sefton.
At Hampstead, Reginald Bray, Esq. to Fanny, daughter of T. N. Longman, Esq. of Hampstead.
At Edinburgh, Henry Dundas, Esq. Captain R.N. to Robina Mary, youngest daughter of the late Sir Robert Dundas, of Beechwood and Dunira, Bart.
At St. Helier's, Jersey, Sir G. Mackenzie, Bart. of Coul, to Catherine, widow of Captain Street, of the Royal Artillery.

DEATHS.

In Castlebar, the Rev. George Vaughan Hart, who, for upwards of eight years, filled the office of curate of Castlebar. He died of malignant fever after an illness of eleven days. Mr. Hart has left a widow to deplore his early removal, and six children, the youngest of whom was born three days after its parent's death, and the eldest of whom is scarcely of an age to estimate the extent of her bereavement in the loss of such a father.
At Carrigaline, Mrs. Conolly, mother of the Rev. John Conolly.
Mrs. Healy, wife of Francis P. Healy, Esq. of Tralee.
John R. Creane, Esq. Surgeon of the County Infirmary, Wexford.
John Maher, of Freshford, Kilkenny, Esq. Coroner.
James William Langstaff, Surgeon R.N. eldest son of the late John Langstaff, solicitor, of Dublin, Esq.
At Creagh's-Villa, Mayo, Eliza, eldest daughter of the late John Carr, Esq. of Cork.
At Croagh, Mr. D. Culhane.
Captain Benjamin Wild, late Paymaster of the 29th Regiment, in which he served upwards of 24 years, and shared in all its perils and glories in Spain and Portugal.
At Glenview, county Waterford, Annette Matilda, eldest daughter of William Knaresborough, Esq. of Inch, county Kilkenny.
Jane, third daughter of Edward Moss, Esq. of Omagh.
At Bellevue Park, Knockmaroon, Isabella Caroline, fourth daughter of Alexander Ferrier, Esq.
At Tulfarris, co. Wicklow, Elizabeth, wife of Richard Hornidge, Esq. At his residence, Muckamore Mill, near Antrim, of inflammation of the lungs, Francis Whittle, Esq. formerly M.P.
At Monkstown, John Swift Emerson, Esq.
At Gortmore, near Omagh, the residence of her son James Wilson, Clerk of the Crown, Esq. Mrs. Wilson, aged 96.
In Belfast, Jessie, wife of Captain John Agnew.
On Tuesday, in Mary-street, Mr. Patrick Ryan, grocer and spirit merchant, to the sincere regret of his family and friends.
In Dublin, suddenly, James Trail Hall, Esq. K.C. Assistant Barrister, of Cavan.
In Merrion-avenue, Dublin, John Clarke, Esq. only son of the late Thomas Clarke, Esq. of Stephen's-green.
At China-terrace, Lambeth, Frances Moss, wife of J. Lack, Esq. of the Customs, aged 66.
Aged 29, Margaretta Sarah Tyrwhitt, daughter of the late Major Brown, of the 75th Regiment, and wife of B. Holl, Esq. of Cum- ming-street, Pentonville.
The Rev. P. Burder, Lecturer of Christ church, Newgate-street.
Miss Vaughan, of Manchester-square.
In Red Lion-street, the relict of the late Jonathan Hayne, Esq.
In Dorking, Joseph Lynn, Esq. Clerk in the Royal Hospital, Chelsea.
At Walton, Emma, Countess Dowager of Tankerville.
Mary Anne Teresa, wife of Patrick Dwyer, Esq. of Haddington- road, London.
At Weston-super-Mare, of scarlet fever, Caroline Justine, youngest daughter of the late Col. Bull, of the Royal Horse Artillery, aged 19.
Susannah, relict of the Rev. Henry Manifold, and sister to the Bishop of Norwich.
At East Moulsey, in his 70th year, Sir George Harnage, Bart.
At Shirley, Hants, Mary, wife of Lieut. M. C. Forster, R.N. and daughter of Sir Joseph and Lady Harriett Hoare.
At Sidmouth, D'Arcy, youngest son of the late C. C. Morton, Esq. of Cavan, aged 21.
At Camanton, in Cornwall, the seat of her son-in-law, Humphry Wilyams, Esq. Mrs. Neynoe, relict of the late Colonel Neynoe, 27th Regiment, of Castle Neynoe, county Sligo.
At Florence, Alexander Glynn, only son of Colonel Campbell, of Gatcombe Park, Isle of Wight.
At Madras, Brevet Captain James Boyton, late of 63d Regiment.

pompous denouina systems, under whic if, indeed, I could beyond the ordin Systems, it would mature examination many years attent saying—"They lea what other result c they are always equ the subject wh ch th it may truly be said when suffered to ext
Doctor Pemberto says: "In contemp doubt, which of th sagacity, penetratio the mark tha secu himself made the if he had done the but industry and p of consideration co first dawning open full and clear light
And, in the Pre which is second t Translator says: ' already enumerated over a work of this shall not fail to re may combine in th Armada in 1588, a (that is, tending eq which happened Glorious, bloodles readily make use establish in our re occurrences—as M Waterloo in 1815, Union of the Cro Union of the King Ireland in 1801. examples, in 1660 Charles 2d, and in George the 3rd. fortifying the mem the far-fetched exp eagerness to instr not hesitate to em represent a blood in a Willow tree.' (Bell's Translat view of Universal This Excelent is open to the ins
Limerick, 26th