A few nights frost having arrested the rapid progress vegetation, to that untoward circumstance we can attribute the absence of new potatoes (in small quantities) from market, this week.

Chief Constable Clements has been ordered to offer a reward for discovery of the brutal ruffians who stabbed death, in Cornwallis-street, a horse the property of James Benson, the clerk of Fedamore church, whose only claim consists in having assisted the execution of writs of replevin from the Court of Exchequer.

John Begly, a labouring man, who went up the Plasy in a cot on May day, to collect faggots, was upset in a squall of wind and unfortunately drowned. His body was found on Thursday near Corbally, where the Mayor held an inquest. Verdict accidental death.

Yesterday, the body of Mary Birch, of Labashead, wife of a western boatman, who fell into the Wellesley dock last December, was seen floating near the Ferry slip, below the bridge, and the remains were brought ashore in a putrescent state, after so long an immersion. The Mayor held an inquest at the Police barrack. Verdict—accidental death.

The Wellesley Bridge Commissioners on Thursday confirmed the election of Mr. Williams, as a member of the Board, in place of the late Mr. Gunson.

Lieut. Triphook, R.N. of the Hamilton Revenue Cutter

It is thought the gentleman recently appointed to the Filicership of the Exchequer is sick of his office, and prefers a county chairmanship, in which he is likely to be gratified.

There are 49 resident Magistrates in the county Waterford, of which number 35 are for removing the Assizes to Dungar-van. Major Palmer, Inspector of Prisons, gave his opinion before the Privy Council, that Waterford gaol is the worst county prison in Ireland, and can't be improved.
Mr. Ryan, the governor of the gaol, gave different testimony.
The building of a court-house and gaol at Dungarvan will cost £25,000.

Monday evening a very respectable meeting of the Temperance Society was held in the Independent Chapel, Bedford-Row, Surgeon Gore in the chair. The speakers were—Mr. J. Boyd, Secretary, Mr. Gillan, Rev. Mr. Verdon, of London, Mr.
Kronheim, a converted Jew, and Mr. W. Armstrong, of Clarina. Surgeon Gore having left the chair, Mr. Verdon was called thereto, when a complimentary address was numerously signed to Rev. Dr. Townley, for the anxious interest he has continually evinced for the welfare of the Society. Many interesting facts relative to the Society.
