meeting of the Committee on Wednesday, 7th June, the first fruits of these labors will amount to the serious sum of £60, and ten more jewels will probably be added to the Casket which, with the 140 that it already contains, will form a treasure precious, we trust, in the sight of GoD; and esteemed, loved, and honored by all His faithful children in Christ Jesus. We sincerely hope that the Committee will persevere in their labors, till branches of this Parent-tree shall have spread themselves throughout every part of our county, that every little Protestant Orphan may be able to dwell safely beneath its shelter, "no man making him afraid." We are gratified to observe that the Clare Auxiliary is also alive and active. BANDON SCHOOL.—At the late examination for Scholarships in Trinity College, Mr. George Longfield, a pupil of the Bandon School, obtained first place, on most distinguished answering. It is a source of great gratification to Dr. Browne, that this young gentleman never read with any other master, and that he obtained First Scholarship as well as his other University honors, without in a single instance resorting to the aid of private Tutors.

(The following appeared in part of our last impression: -) Sir Thomas Deane & Co. of Cork, we are happy to learn, were this day declared Contractors for the Wellesley Bridge Works, and operations will commence early next week. The high character of Sir Thomas Deane is a voucher for every satisfaction to the Commissioners and the public, in the progress of these important works. Sergeant Robert White, Royal Horse Artillery, in this garrison, was found last evening in the fields by the river, in a state apparently insensible, and extended on the grass.

A soldier of the Queen's Bays, who first observed him, had the sufferer conveyed to the Hospital of the Castle barracks, where he lingered until two o'clock this morning, when death released him from pain. The medical officer in attendance had extracted some arsenic from his stomach, but the deadly drug had operated too long upon the human frame, to encourage hope of his surviving the effects. There is little doubt of his having determined upon suicide, the cause of which is yet unknown. He had served 23 years, and has left a wife and child. An inquest was holden this day at the Castle Barracks, on his body, by Alderman D. F. G. Mahony and Michael Gavin, Esq. when, after the examination of Sergt. Henderson, Royal Horse Artillery, and Dr. Currie, the Jury in the absence of other evidence returned a verdict

We find that the said Robert White, died in the Hospital in the Castle Barracks, in the City of Limerick, early on the morning of the 27th of May, inst. in consequence of a quantity of arsenic taken by him, and which is admitted to have been purchased by himself." Captain Salmond's troop of the Queens Bays leaves this for Clonmel.

The remains of the late John Vereker, Esq. were interred this morning at an early hour in the family burial place at Cahirnarry Church. The funeral was intended to be private, to the great disappointment of the public, who wished, as a mark of respect for the deceased gentleman Note: And his family, to participate in the melancholy ceremonial. Notwithstanding the early hour fixed for interment, a very numerous and highly respectable cortege of friends accompanied the cavalcade to its last resting place, The continue of private equipages was almost countless.

The congregated Trades of Limerick would not be denied the melancholy gratification of attending the funeral, but the banners of the several Guilds were cased in crape and other symbols of mourning. The coffin, covered with scarlet cloth, and elegantly mounted, was furnished by Mr. Henry ments in upholsterer, who conducted the funeral arrangements in a manner very creditable to his taste and character in such matters. The Clergy of this diocese met at the Cathedral to-day, and agreed unanimously to petition against Lord Morpeth's Irish Church Bill. POUR RELIEF FUND—The undernamed have encreased their subscription: Rt Roy D. D.
