Pery Square was again selected for the Summer Show of Fruit, Flowers, and Vegetables, by the Horticultural Society, on Monday, and a more suitable arena for this gorgeous exhibition could not be had. Marquies were erected to receive the fair visitors, and the music of the 25th Regt. imparted new charms to the scene. The various specimens of horticulture produced on this occasion were never exceeded at any former show of the Society, for richness, size, and fragrance, and the spectacle was altogether one of the most attractive that could be imagined. The Judges for fruit and vegetables were Lord Clarina, Sir Hugh D. Massey, Bart. George Tuthill, Esq, and Mr. George, gardener to Earl Clancarthy; for flowers, Mr. J. Keuny, Mr. Mackie, and Mr. F. Madden, gardeners.
