

at every family in the city and neighbourhood of the deserved esteem in which it was held. The following was the list of troops:—Subaltern, Sergeant, Royal Dragoons; Band of the 93d Depot with reversed arms; The 3d Pall Bearers—Colonels Turner, Williams, Lieut.-Col. M'Gregor. The General's Horse. Chief Mourners and among whom were the sons of the and Non-Commissioned Officers; Supernumerary Officers; Band of the 93d Depot; Royal Artillery; and Twenty Dragoons; The late 93d; Private Carriages. The procession extended to an extent as scarcely to be believed in the mournful procession. The coffin was placed in the aisle of the Church, when the burial was performed by Archdeacon Kyle, and the service concluded. The body having been then interred, the country fired three rounds. The Royal Artillery fired their guns facing the Westward, and the 93d fired a volley of the Infantry, fired eleven

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

General Sir Amos Norcott served in India, South America, Spain and Mexico, North America, and the West Indies, engaged in many general actions, and was wounded. His constitution evened up by the various trying vicissitudes of a military service.

County of Cork, Agents, Thomas Collier and J. A. Snee, Brick-street, Temple. Ditto, for Joven Carolina, bounty on slaves and moiety of hull; cap. 22 July. 36; pay. 2 November, 37. Ditto for Olympea, bounty on slaves and moiety of hull; cap. 28 October, 36; pay. 2 November, 37. Ditto for Serea, bounty on slaves and moiety of hull; cap. 12 Nov. 36; pay. 2 November, 37. Vestal, for Negrinha, bounty on slaves cap. 20 September, 36; pay. 14 October, 37; Agent, Sir F. M. Omanney, Norfolk-street, Strand. Ditto, for Phoenix and Empressa, bounty on slaves cap. 28 Sept. 38; pay. 14 October, 37. Wolf, for Coromandel, salvage for services rendered 22 October, 35; pay. 3 November, 37 (only the unclaimed shares); distributed at the office of the Examiner of Prize Accounts, Admiralty, Somerset-house.

Two children of the name of Kinnane, one eleven, and the other six years of age, went after dinner to convey some neighbouring children home from Tullybrackey, near Bruff, yesterday. On their return, the evening being dark, and night having set in with great severity, they, after wandering about for some time, missed their way home, and determined to sleep by the ditch, the younger, being a boy, took off his coat to cover his sister, and actually constructed a sort of pillow for her. The family, in the meantime, went in search of the children, and ultimately found them lying in a dike, the elder dead, and the little boy, the younger, senseless. The heroic child after the usual remedies recovered.

Owen O'Neill, of Cloughadromin, in this county, farmer, died on Sunday of the wounds inflicted on him last Wednesday week, when returning home from market in this city, by a man in company, of the name of William Hanley, against whom the Coroner's jury have found a verdict of wilful murder.

Michael Godfrey returning from the fair of New Pallas, in this county, on New Year's day, was violently assaulted and maltreated to such a degree that his life is despaired of. Four of the party are in custody.

The handsome edifice of cut stone just completed in Henry-street, comprising a spacious centre building and two wings, with iron paling, and exercise ground, the public are indebted for to the late Mrs. Hannah Villers, the remainder of whose munificent bequest, after founding the Widows' Almshouse in this city, was devoted by her trustees to the erection of a school for boys and girls, which will be open early in the ensuing summer, to board and educate thirty orphan girls, beside affording daily instruction to 80 or 100 poor boys, all of the Protestant faith. Well may the memory of this good Lady be cherished in the pious recollections of the faithful.

Mr. Fallon commenced crown business to-day at the County Quarter Sessions.

Police Sergeant Reidy has received a gratuity of £4 from the Board of Chelsea Hospital, for apprehending Thomas Grundy and James Creagh, deserters from the 83d Regt. in Canada, on arriving in the river Shannon from that station.

An Alderman's gown in the city Dublin, is vacant by the death of Sir William Stamer.

At the Dublin Commission on Thursday, James Reilly, John Connolly, Daniel Clancy, Edward Walsh, and Patrick Ward, were convicted of a violent assault on Michael Blake, and on Elizabeth Blake his wife, arising out of combination, and sentenced to be transported for seven years.

The Cork national Bank of Ireland has called for payment of 30s. per share.

A board of health is formed at Kilrush and a chari-eight hundred and fifty average of 2828.

Daniel R. Kane, Esq. concluded the Carrick-carrone Quarter Sessions, which were unimportant.

Two nephews of Sir John Mountrath, last week.

The conditional order was made absolute by the Queen's Bench.

An application has been made to the Lord Doneraile, an application upon certain lands in the county of Kerry.

By the Poor Law Bill, the expense of erecting Work House inmates, salaries, &c. is to be borne by the Poor Law Commissioners.

The Rev. William Haughey, the Rev. Mr. Lombard, and the Rev. Mr. Cork, on the promotion of Carrigaline.

There was a collection at the Chapel, on Sunday, afternoon for the Magdalen Asylum.

At Carlow Petty Sessions, a man was summoned for having an unlicensed carriage, and the policeman who arrested him stated that Butler shot him, before he could be taken to the gaol, fined him £10 or two months imprisonment.

The Carlow constable was fined for being against Head Constable in public houses, and for not reporting offenders.

At Wexford Quarter Sessions, several offenders were left for trial.

Edm. Houlihan and John M'Carthy, at Waterford sessions, were fined for the trade who was not in possession of a licence, £15 to the prosecutor.

The Sick and Indigent Commission, which has been 47 years in existence, has for the year £2702 in the relief of 37,515 persons.

On Thursday evening, a man was taken by the neck, at the gate of the gaol, Boyle, when two policemen immediately taken down, he seemed quite exhausted, and would, in all probability, have died. The unfortunate man, M'Kenzie, a native of the county of Kerry, is alleged that want of employment was the cause of his attempting such a rash deed.

The Right Rev. Dr. O'Connell, on Sunday, for his Cape of Good Hope.

Saturday two men were taken by the neck, labourers in Messrs. J. & C. their lives by falling from a height, ascended, into a large body of water.

Mr. Daly has opened a new school.

The Mayor of Waterford is expected to arrive on Monday next, to attend the County Sessions.

At Tralee Quarter Sessions, Barrister, sentenced M. Murphy, Michael Fitzpatrick, to 7 years' transportation.

Mr. Patrick Hurley, was taken by the bursting of a gun, a few hours after.