

Sir Robert Peel, on Friday last, and office was never more precarious than as admitted by their own friends. For an Alderman, in the room of the Stamer, Bart. took place yesterday, William Long, Esq.; Sir George Prendergast, Esq. and Sir R. Baker were second and third of Aldermen. A ballot took place, and Sir R. Baker was unanimously elected. Edward Bouverie, son of Lord Radnor, was appointed to the Staff in Canada about this spring. He suffered by Sir John Colborne's troops at St. Eustache was—Royal Artillery, private wounded; Royal Regt, a private wounded; 32d, a private wounded. A transport, arrived at Cork, yesterday, with drafts for the 11th and 73d Regiments of the 1st and 2d Divisions of the King's and conservative Regiment, the King's, stationed at Dundalk, feel so much the thoughts of going to Canada, that the Major (Mr. Hammersley) leaving the barracks, to purchase horses for the whole six troops turned out, took the carriage, drew him with cheers round the gates, and part of the way from the barracks, playing "God save the Queen." The Journal is in error to quote us for the "Darbyites" in Charleville, no such name in our columns. Patrick Desmond, one of the Co. Wick, was washed ashore on the coast adjoining the Curragh Steamer was wrecked. It is supposed to have been the result of the marks of violence on his person, that he was killed while preventing the country people from burning the mill. The name Patrick Gooney, was killed at Killenaule, and an inquest held on his body at the Four Roads. It appeared he was killed in consequence of executing a civil bill decree, when he was thrown down, and his brains beat out with a stone. The name of Waterford, watchmaker, was killed at a wake in that city. A fever hospital was recently plundered of blankets by some inhuman fiends. James Harcourt, Esq. of Lisburn, is appointed High Sheriff of the county Down; James Owens, of Holywood, Esq. is appointed Sheriff for the county Antrim; and Michael O'Connell, Esq. is appointed Sheriff of the county Louth. A decision of the House of Peers Lord St. Leonards, is to six thousand per annum, in the county of Down, as also to the possession of a very large tract of land in ready money. In consequence of the death of the late Dowager Countess Rosse, the Hon. Hardman King, to a large estate in the county of Longford. James O'Connell, Esq. late Comptroller of Newry, has been appointed Collector of Customs at Fowey, on the coast of Cornwall, in the room of R. Dewy, Esq. late Collector of Customs at Newry, and appointed to the Collectorship of Newry.

TURE, AROMATIC, AND V POWDER AND LOTION.

THE extensive fame and great Preparations have obtained here to detail their merit. A respectfully directed to the following their efficacy from Gentlemen, whence requires no eulogium, viz

"At Mr. Mullen's request v Tooth-Ache Tincture and Dentifrices Examination, and we find that materials which are not only relieve pain, but also to preserve strengthen the Gums.

"FRANCIS BARKER, Chemistry, Trinity College, Dublin.
"EDMOND DAVY, F.R.S., Royal Dublin Society.
"JAMES APJOHN, Chemistry, Royal College of Surgeons, Dublin.

The State Surgeon of Ireland speak of them thus:—

"I have used Mr. Mullen's Tooth-Dentifrices in my own family, where I recommended them, with efficacious.

"GERRARD MACDONALD, Surgeon, 1, Harcourt-street, Dublin.

"I have experienced much benefit from Mr. Mullen's Tincture and Dentifrices, and my family who have used them speak in high terms of their efficacy.

"WILLIAM WILSON, 11, Middle-street, Dublin.

"I have for a long time used them, and found them extremely efficacious, and safe.

"J. M. FAIRBANKS, 38, Rutland-street, Dublin.

And the following eminent Physicians and other respectable Citizens spontaneously offered, and thus testify to the same effect:

John Woodroffe, M.D.	Dominic Barry, M.D.
Daniel Denny, M.D.	Robert Keily, M.D.
William Keily, M.D.	Joseph Keily, M.D.

Almost every day Mr. Mullen's Tincture and Dentifrices are a proof of the efficacy of his Preparations. I avoid mentioning the following names of other Gentlemen of high professional standing, who constantly recommend them:—

"I have much pleasure in bearing testimony to the beneficial effects arising from the use of Mr. Mullen's Tincture and Dentifrices, not only in the numerous instances in which I have recommended them, but in the numerous instances in which I have seen them recommended by others.

"GORDON, 2, Blessington-street, Dublin.

The Tooth-Ache Tincture has a powerful Anodyne in it, that might, were it not for the Tooth, momentarily lull the pain, as well as the Dentifrices, it diffuses itself over the entire mouth, which fact is daily verified by them.

TO BE HAD IN THIS CITY OF DUBLIN, AT
The Medical Dispensary,
132, George-street,
