UNDER the following five heads, viz.: Objects—Uses—Loan Fund—Bonus—and Speciality—are briefly enumerated the leading principles of this Society: it will be found the utmost care has been taken to give efficiency to them, holding one great object in view—viz. to divest the great bulk of society, those possessed of no certain income, of the repugnance they have hitherto had to enter upon life assurance as a provision for a family, by converting it also into a means of personal independence and support, and to expound to that great class—who want of better, have hitherto availed themselves of those useful institutions, the Savings Banks—that, combined with a life assurance, the advantage of a Savings Bank and of a Benefit Society is secured to them from the same source—viz. their earnings—on the plan of this Society.

In considering the principles of this Society under the important heads, Uses and Loan Fund, it will be found in no case will the assured become a loser; in the event of death, he has secured an independence to his family—in the event of misfortune, his previous prudence has restored to his wife and children a fund at his command—and even in the event of his negligence, as, in the event of discontinuing his payments, his representatives will nevertheless receive, after five payments, at his death two-thirds of what he has expended.
To the widow and younger children, when a policy becomes a claim in their favour, a special additional bonus is given, because to them death is most frequently the greatest misfortune; and to this class a stimulus is properly afforded through the affections, in aid of a general spirit of prudence.

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY:
First—A life assurance may be effected either by one payment or by an annual premium, which may be paid monthly if more convenient.
Secondly—A life assurance may be secured by a limited number of payments on a gradually decreasing (or increasing) scale; or by rates of premium, varying each five or ten years, and terminable or not at the option of the assured.
Thirdly—A life assurance may be effected on the life of another, on joint lives or survivorships.
Fourthly—Annuities immediate, deferred, or contingent, will be granted; i. also, endowments for children.

The assured will have the option of converting his policy, at any time, into the following uses—viz.—
First—Into an immediate payment of its present value.
Secondly—Into a new policy, to be received at his death, equal in value to his payment on his original policy.
Thirdly—Into an annuity equivalent in value to his payment on his original policy.
Fourthly—Into a security on which he may borrow equal to two-thirds of his payment.
Fifthly—In the event of negligence or inability to continue the annual premium, by which his policy would become forfeited, his representatives will, nevertheless, receive at his death two-thirds of his payments after five years from the Society.

III. LOAN FUND:
First—The assured may at any time act upon this fund as a cash credit, upon notice to the office or agent at each branch of the Society.
Secondly—The sum borrowed may be for a permanent or temporary period; but irregularity in the payment of interest subjects the loan to be recalled.
IV. BONUS:
First—Two-thirds of the profits, estimated annually after the first three or five years, will be divided amongst those assured for life, on a participating scale of the Society, and the profits of the guarantee fund, invested in reversionary and other interests, will be estimated in each division.
Secondly—Each bonus, at the option of the assured, will be paid in money, or applied to the reduction of the future premiums, or an equivalent added to the policy.
Thirdly—Each branch will be entitled to a separate bonus, founded upon a calculation of its success.

V. SPECIALTY:
When a claim on the Society becomes vested in the widow or younger children of the assured, a special bonus will be added to the policy, on its payment. Assurances may be effected at the rates of premium as below. Limits to travelling—the whole of Europe by land, and between the Elbe and Tagus by sea.
Policy not rendered void if the assured die by duelling or the hands of justice.
Commission of five per cent. on annual premiums allowed to Solicitors and others recommending business to the Society.

MR. CRACOUR
RETURNS thanks for the DISTINGUISHED SUPPORT with which he has been honoured since his arrival in this City, and begs to announce that, at the request of several Families of distinction, he has been induced to Postpone his intended departure for A VERY SHORT PERIOD, during which he may be consulted as usual, (Sundays excepted) from Ten A.M. to Five P.M. at Mr. JOHN ABRAHAM'S, No. 8, GEORGE-STREET, next door to the ROYAL MAIL COACH HOTEL, Limerick, where he hopes to be honoured with a continuance of their patronage.

NEWLY DISCOVERED ANODYNE ANTISEPTIC COMPOSITION
For filling DECAYED TEETH, without pain, heat, or pressure, and INCORRODIBLE PARISIAN MINERAL TEETH, Prepared and Fastened on Philosophical Principles, without WIRES, LIGATURES, or any of those clumsy contrivances which have hitherto disgraced the Art, by MESSRS. CRACOUR AND CO.
Brunswick House, Cracour Place, Commercial Road, London, No. 5, South East Circus Place, Edinburgh, and from 26, Lower Dorset-street, Dublin—and No. 8, GEORGE-STREET, LIMERICK, Surgeon Dentists, patronised by the Royal Families of Austria, France, Prussia, and Belgium, of the Firm of Monsieur CRACOUR, Son, and Co. (established for more than a century.)

Grateful for the high and extensive patronage which has so eminently distinguished their professional exertions since their arrival in the Irish Metropolis, during the last nine years, they beg leave to announce to the Nobility, Gentry, and Public of Limerick and its Environs, that they still continue to restore Decayed Teeth, however large the cavity, with their newly discovered Composition, so universally recommended by the Faculty of London and Paris.

The operation of STOPPING TEETH is performed in a SECOND. The Composition is put into the cavity in a soft state without HEAT or PRESSURE, hardens into ENAMEL, allays the most EXCRUCIATING PAIN, and LASTS FOR MANY YEARS, preventing the necessity of EXTRACTION.
Messrs. C. and Co. during their long and extensive course of study, have adopted a mode of fastening LOOSE TEETH, more particularly of AGED PERSONS, whether arising from neglect or the use of Calomel, Disease of the Gums.
INCORRODIBLE PARISIAN MINERAL TEETH placed from ONE to a COMPLETE SET, matching in point of colour exactly with the adjoining ones, which are incapable of DISCOLOURATION or CORROSION, fixed without the incumbrance of WIRES or any other LIGATURES, also protecting the adjoining Teeth, and rendering it impossible to distinguish the PARISIAN MINERAL TEETH from the natural ones, and warranted to answer every purpose of ARTICULATION and MASTICATION, and will be found in every respect amply competent to supply the place of their predecessors.
The instances of the perfection of this NEW PRINCIPLE, as regards mastication, and the articulation of words, are so numerous in the British, Irish, and Scottish Metropolises, that Messrs. C. and Co. rely more on the good reports of their patients than upon anything which they themselves could by any means publicly advance to recommend it; they cannot, however, refrain from stating that the eminent advantages of their system of constructing and fixing artificial PALATES and TEETH, are in no case so evident as in giving the patient the power of clear and distinct pronunciation, more particularly in the sound of the Dento-lingual Double Consonant TH, whilst the nasal and palatal sounds are rendered perfect and uninterrupted. Messrs. C. and Co. submit that these are advantages of the utmost consequence to Public Orators, as well as private individuals, labouring under natural or accidental defects of enunciation; but when to them are added the appearance of JUVENILITY, which their incorrodible PARISIAN MINERAL TEETH give to the countenance of aged persons—and that they are guaranteed to bite the hardest substances, without pain or injury—they feel themselves justified in claiming that palm of superiority in DENTAL SURGERY which has been so unanimously awarded to them by the inhabitants of London, Dublin, Edinburgh, Paris, and other Continental Cities.
Charges in every case moderate.

Hours of Attendance, daily, (Sundays excepted,) from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. at No. 8, GEORGE-STREET, LONDON.
