as the Subscribers greatly fear, it must be abandoned altogether.

It is totally and entirely impossible to describe the merit of the Stock in an advertisement—they must be seen to be even imagined.

Authenticated pedigrees will be given with every beast, and the Auctioneer confidently, yet respectfully hopes that this opportunity will not be lost, of procuring a description of cattle likely to effect an incalculable good to the country.

At Mr. COLLING'S Auction, 9 Milch and in-calf Cows of this celebrated breed, sold for £1184, and the Bulls sold as high as 1000 Guineas each; Mr. Colling never had finer stock in his possession than these.
