Thomas P. Vokes, Esq. Chief Magistrate of Police, Joseph Wallplate, and John T. Devitt, Esqrs. attended the fair of O'Brien's-Bridge, on Wednesday, where some riotous fellows had driven back by force the cattle of a highly respectable gentleman, who intended paying the usual toll for them at the gap. One of the principals was arrested, and by the judicious arrangements of the Magistrates, no further disturbance took place, so that in the course of the afternoon the country people began to pay the ordinary demand for toll of their cattle in the fair.

A man of the name of William Heffernan died on Thursday of fractured head, from two blows of a bog stick, inflicted at Carrigparson, in the Liberties, by one Laurence Ryan, of Highpark, who ferociously attacked the unfortunate man and laid open his skull. The Mayor held an inquest upon the body of Heffernan. Verdict wilful murder.

Now for the Tithe Bill. In this measure in the last week, there bungling, until Sir Robert Peel steered the parties by proposing a compromise into the arrears due to the Clergy in view to a compromise taking place proposed that the consent of the clergy a compromise should in all cases be. For he considered it would be to the Clergy, who had already suffered, robbed of their property, that they were compelled to accept of only a portion from refractory tenants, while the possible, and there were sufficient means laws to enforce the arrears. To the Government has agreed, with this arrears of tithe should be extinguished when the subject was brought forward took a decided stand against it, a session he has not shewn a more front when contending for the right and the maintenance of the Establishment on this occasion. The lecture he read and the dilemma in which he placed man, will not be soon forgotten by it, much less by the Nobleman himself, too, came in for a share of the pointed satire. The reference to the conservatory excited much merriment, the learned member for Tipperary, he is caricatured in the print shops of a "Greenwich Pensioner," with three-cocked hat on! The Ministry on a division, by a majority of and as in the case of the Municipal have to accomplish the work, by with the Clergy to accept the arrears.

"A singular document has just appeared in the shape of a private memorandum secret archives of Russia, and has been published in the Times Journal. It is a plan which has been drawn up and agreed on by the memberment of the French Empire as a fabrication, by the Radicals to assert that the paper before being for sale to our Ministry by a foreigner refused. Be this as it may, the document is read with avidity by all classes of whom it has made a considerable likely to do when it comes to be brethren of the Parisian Press. To be authentic.
