DEATHS.

Sunday last, Richard Ievers, of Green Park, Bruff, Esq. universally respected and lamented. Whether we consider him as a member of that profession for which he was educated early in life, or as a private gentleman and landlord, few if any could surpass him in strict adherence to those principles which denote genuine independence of mind, a pure sense of honor, steadfast friendship, and the spontaneous feelings of a warm-hearted and truly amiable man. His remains were yesterday interred in the family vault at Loughgur.

On Saturday last, at her brother's house in Cecil-street, Fanny Elizabeth, youngest daughter of the late Edward Carte, Esq. of Newcastle, in this County. An amiable and affectionate disposition endeared her to her sorrowing family and friends. Through a lingering illness she evinced a perfect faith that the love of God was manifested towards her in sending his only begotten son into the world that she might live through him, and falling asleep she said, "Now is the period Jesus is precious—I in him and he in me."
 At Ennis, suddenly, Mrs. M'Quillan, wife of Mr. J. M'Quillan. At his residence, Sunday's-well, Cork, the Rev. Nicholas Duncombe, Rector of Kilcully.
