

England, and other places, about it. Sir John Hobhouse, in the absence of the late Sir F. Burdett, was preferred to the radicals, Hunt, and Cobbett, Harvey, at the meeting, then, in my presence preached to the people of England, and not only preached, but set the example, that taught the people to reform. He set them the example of the late Sir John Hobhouse, which had beaten down the late Sir F. Burdett (cheers.) He told them to consider the late Sir F. Burdett as a prince of iron. The Royal Society explained of the judgment of the King of France, and the latter ordered him fetters of silver; but the people expressed his gratitude for the favour. The people of Ireland, with your complicated machinery, will you be satisfied if you get fetters of silver? (No, and cheers.) I come to the late Treaty of Limerick. I have written a book on the late signing of that violated treaty, and the late Stephen Rice, the ancestor of the late Sir John Hobhouse, pleaded at the late Commons in defence of that treaty, and the late answer of the speaker—that they had only the late remnants! (a laugh.) It is matter of his late (a laugh.) You laugh as if I was telling you the late—but it is laughable only from its late malignity. Lord Lyndhurst who was one of the late Slave Drivers, and the other half a Gentleman, had the audacity to call you aliens—I am the late use of such an expression to arouse your late attention. (Hear, hear.) I have been for the late the head pacificator of the late people of Ireland; when excitement is necessary, I am the late enough the trial, and if not I could not be the late of pacification. I could not go the late Terry Alts' and tell them, your father, the late commissions me to say you are aiding the late Ireland, if they did not know, I would aid the late were was occasion. (hear, and cheers.) I am the late saying that I give O'Connell the name the late will give him. He is the late Newton of political the late near, laughter, and cheers.) I harangued the late of Limerick, and they got up a procession, the late led to become Precursors. I have already the late motto from Ned Lysaght. You now all each voice should resound through our island, and be my neighbour, but, Bull, this is my land. Nature's favourite spot, And I'd rather be shot, and surrender the rights of our Island."

(Loud cheers and laughter.)

AIRMAN, in proposing "The Ladies of the late said, I fear I should excite the jealousy of the late Gentry were I to interfere with this the late therefore resign the honor and pleasure of the late it, to some individual amongst them.— (Loud cheers.)

MR. LEAKE being called upon from all sides, returned thanks. He said he was sure they would look around, and the eloquent eyes which shone with love and beauty, would speak more to their hearts than he could (hear.) However, as it was a tender subject, the meeting would not go further into private affairs. (Loud cheers.)

In St. Ann's Church, Edward Thorp, Esq. of Rathmines, son of the late George Thorp, Esq. of the 23d Dragoons, to Elizabeth, daughter of the late Edward Horton, Esq. of Baker-street, Portman-square, London.

Wilson Kennedy, Esq. of the Bank of Ireland office, Wexford, to Anna Maria, daughter of the late William Dames, Esq. of Tullamore.

At St. James's, Captain the Hon. Edward Wodehouse, R.N. to Diana, only daughter of the late Colonel Thornton, of Falconer's Hall, Yorkshire.

At Stuttgart, on the 20th September, at the British Embassy, Captain Randal Rumley, of the 60th Royal Rifles, to Miss Caroline Mary, daughter of Major-General Sir George Berkeley, &c.

At Simla, India, Captain John Michel, eldest son of General Michel, of Dulish, Dorset, to Miss Churchill, only daughter of Major-General Churchill, Quartermaster-General.

At St. Pancras, Charles Sweeny, Esq. of Upper Seymour-street, to Mary Anne, daughter of Mr. Sergeant Storks.

George Wm. Bishop, Esq. 71st Regt. Bengal Army, to Mary Anne, daughter of the late Lieut.-Colonel Meadows, 15th Regt.

At Vizagapatam, Madras, Adjutant Nathaniel Hobart, of the Carnatic Battalion, to Harriette Martin, daughter of the late Thos. Evans, Esq. M.D. of Cashel.

DEATHS.

Yesterday, at his residence at Ayle, county Clare, James M'Namara, Esq. aged 53 years. He died full of those joyful hopes which alone can deprive death of its spiritual sting, and the grave of its accustomed victory. His remains will leave Ayle at eight o'clock on Monday morning for interment in the ancient family vault in the Abbey of Quin. He thus descends to the tomb of a long line of venerable ancestors, accompanied by the affectionate regret of a numerous acquaintance, to whom a life of benevolence and urbanity had endeared him, by an attachment as lasting and sincere as that usually produced by kindred's closest ties.

At Waterford, Isabella, relict of the late Rev. George Lewis Fleury, for many years Archdeacon of Waterford.

Wednesday, in Tulla, Mr. Mort Shannon, many years a respectable Ironmonger and Pawnbroker in this City.

At Richmond-place, the infant daughter of Thomas M. Usborne, Esq.

Friday night, at his house in William-street, Thomas Villiers, youngest son of George Jackson, Esq.

At her son's residence, Ballintemple, Mrs. Nash, relict of the late Wm. Nash, Esq. Cork, and daughter of the late Wm. Spread, Esq. of Ballycannon.

Of apoplexy, in Crow-street, Mr. W. Aston, merchant tailor.

In Thurles, Miss Ellen Cahill.

At Mullingar, the Rev. James M'Laughlin.

At Kinsale, Margaret, wife of Thomas O'Connor.

In Patrick-street, Cork, Hester, daughter of the late Thomas Shinkwin, Esq. of that city.

Mr. John Dickson, late of Westmoreland-street, woollen draper.

At Devonport, Mary Anne, wife of the Rev. John Sutcliffe, and eldest daughter of Barry Warren, Esq. of Charlemont-st. Dublin.

At Whitehall-place, Edmond James, third son of S. Jervis, Esq. M.P.

At Killiney Castle, Jannette Mary, eldest daughter of Thomas Farrell, Esq. of Merrion-square.

At the Provincial Bank House, Derry, Janet, wife of Walter Lucas, Esq.

At Strabane, Mrs. Sloane, daughter of the late Archibald Johnston, of Cooleslin, county Donegal, Esq. and niece of the late Joseph Rolleston, Esq. K.B.

At Sir Richard Steele's, Bart. Cheltenham, Anne, daughter of Major D'Acton, in her 18th year.

At Rosefield, county Monaghan, Ralph Dudgeon, Esq. Captain on half-pay of the 71st Light Infantry.

The Rev. Peter O'Connor, P.P. of Croghan, diocese of Elphin.

At Clifton, Martha, relict of G. C. Swan, Esq. late of Newtown Park, county Dublin.

At Paris, Lady Wolseley.

At Whitfield Hall, Northumberland, William H. Ord, Esq. only son of William Ord, Esq. M.P.

At Swansea, John Langdon, Esq. Commander in the R.N.

Suddenly, of a rupture of a blood vessel, whilst riding in Cheltenham, William Winkworth, Esq. of Gloucester-place, Portman-square.

At Chelsea, Reuben Smith, Esq. aged 85.

At Gibraltar, Mr. Joseph C. Marsden, merchant.

At Abbey Foregate, Shrewsbury, aged 88, General Robert Phillips, of the Hon. East India Company's Bengal Army.

In Fortiss-terrace, Kentish-town, aged 79, the Rev. Friskney Gunnis, of Sleaford, Lincolnshire, for 55 years Rector of Leasingham, near that place.

At Douling, Somerset, Betty, wife of James Riley, Esq. merchant, Old Bond-street, London.

if five years' Premium been paid by the dies before five years completing the premium, deducting the utmost economy in

The central situation of large counties, long established here, will be widely improved, and will prove an efficient proportion of individual payment required to the reach of many persons. A person under, 30, nominally required to pay the premium and an annual Premium (per week,) to secure death may occur emoluments, from considerable annual increased number exceeding six, no more than that the plan will enable incomes to marry, securing Life Annuity survive them. Well established, no farther, except through of those whose remain to see the end and affection may pang of humiliati at so small a sacrifice.

To alleviate the many the pressure of the Society, and find that these principles fully understood, sanction of public number of its members.

The following gentlemen to co-operate with more extensively to and to act as Members Board in the towns

Dr. J. Harvey, Dublin
— Enright, .. Enright
— Chute, .. Chute
— Mulville, .. Mulville
— Ryan, .. Ryan

The Board sit for Saturday, at 2 o'clock, street, Limerick, information respecting and applications will be received at 6 o'clock.

It would be becoming members to charge on admissions

November 17.