THE ADDRESS

OF THE
CONGREGATED TRADES OF THE CITY OF LIMERICK.
To his Excellency Hugh Viscount Ebrington, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.
MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,
WE, the Congregated Trades of the City of Limerick, beg leave to offer to your Excellency our warmest and most respectful congratulations on your arrival in our ancient and loyal City.
Animated with the most sincere and ardent loyalty to our most gracious Queen, and reposing entire confidence in her Majesty's Government, we hail the appointment of your Excellency, as the Representative of our beloved Sovereign in this Kingdom, as the best proof of their desire to render impartial justice to all classes; anticipating your Excellency's long tried devotion to the interests of Ireland, and the generous manner in which you have identified yourself with her welfare, that under your Excellency's Administration our native land may yet attain to prosperity and happiness, and that her hitherto undeveloped resources may be made available to the tranquillization of the public mind, and so amalgamate all parties that henceforward our only strife will be who shall contribute most to the general good.
Your Excellency will, then, be pleased to accept of our heartfelt wishes for the long continuance of your Administration, as Chief Magistrate of this portion of the United Empire, and our prayer that, like your illustrious predecessor, when the day of your departure from our shores shall at length arrive, that your Excellency may carry with you the love and benedictions of a happy and contented people.
HIS EXCELLENCY'S ANSWER.
I thank you for the expression of your good will towards myself, as well as of your loyalty to our beloved Sovereign; so cordially conveyed in your address.
On the industry and skill of its congregated Trades every community must mainly depend for its wealth and prosperity; and my visit to Limerick has shown me that your exertions have not been wanting to develop and improve the natural advantages which your noble City possesses for the purpose of commerce and navigation.
In my administration of the affairs of your country, I shall constantly study to maintain that course of just and enlightened policy, which, under the direction of her Majesty's present Ministers, was so successfully pursued by my predecessor, and so gratefully acknowledged by you.

Advantages offered by this Company.
A VERY considerable reduction of Premium in the earlier Stage of Life, so that £1200 may be Assured for the same annual payment as is required by other offices for the insurance of £1000, thus securing at the outset, and without the liabilities of a partnership, a Bonus equal to 20 per cent. on the sum insured, instead of waiting, as in Mutual Insurance Companies, for deferred periods, to which after paying higher rates of Premium the Insurers may ever attain.

To officers of the Army and Navy no extra charge is made for home service. The moderate addition required from such individuals or others for change of climate, may be covered by an average rate, or the proposed destination be made the matter of special agreement, on taking out the Policy, the Insurer paying only the Home Premium until the contingency contemplated shall happen.

Permission to persons, not sea-faring by profession, to pass by sea, in time of peace, from any part of Europe to any other port; nor are the conditions of the policy vitiated, should the Assured be drowned while sailing in Yachts or Pleasure-boats, on the shores of Great Britain.

Extension of time for payment of Renewal Payments, Thirty Days.

Purchase of Policies on the most liberal Terms, when the object of an Insurance has been effected.

In all disputed cases a tender of arbitration will be made. August 3. CORNELIUS O'BRIEN, Agent, 108, George-street, Limerick.

MR. BERNARD'S REPLY.

MY FRIENDS—I have received with much gratification your Address, expressive of your feelings towards me. It has ever been my anxious desire to promote the comforts of those persons proceeding to Australia, who have committed their interests to my care, and to find that my efforts have not been unsuccessful is to me a source of sincere pleasure.
If the information contained in the Pamphlet you refer to, prove in the least degree useful, I shall consider myself amply repaid for any trouble it has cost me.
With best wishes for your health and happiness, I remain your faithful friend,
JOHN BERNARD, Jun.
Emigration Office, 19, Church-street, Cork, July 27.

would observe, that having, in an interview with the Patentee, made himself conversant with the peculiar properties of the Patent, and being convinced of its general usefulness, he can, with confidence, recommend it to his Friends and Customers in CORK and LIMERICK, as a discovery worthy of any eulogium that could be bestowed upon it! The Coffee made by this New Patent Filter possesses a delicious flavour and purity, not attainable by any method heretofore in use.

To Chemists and others, requiring the purifying of Glutinous Liquids, this invention is invaluable, as it filters with an expedition and purity, quite surprising to those accustomed to the ordinary slow and uncertain method. Not the least attractive quality in this New Patent Filter is its every moderate Price!!

The respective Branches of this Establishment are as usual well supplied with all kinds of KITCHEN FURNITURE, in Copper, Patent Metal and Block Tin. Also, HOUSE and TOILET BRUSHES of every description.

Copper, Brass, Zinc, Tin-Plate and Iron Work executed by careful and experienced Workmen, and every attention paid to repairs.

ONE PRICE only, and no Accounts opened. August 3.

F. JOYCE'S

ANTI-CORROSIVE PERCUSSION CAPS.
SPORTSMEN are respectfully informed that, to prevent the recurrence of those distressing accidents which so frequently happen from the use of imperfect and unsafe Caps, and seconded by the wishes of a number of those engaged in the Gun Trade, the price has been reduced to 2s. and 3s. 6d. per Box. Signed and Sealed as usual; trusting that this reduction will induce those who now resort to the use of Low-priced Caps, to consider the value of the risk they inevitably run in so doing. To do all that lies in his power, F. J. has taken off a similar percentage from the former Wholesale Price, thus reducing the cost of the Best Goods, on which perfect reliance can be placed, to within a trifle of the sum usually paid for those dangerous articles frequently sold to the detriment both of Consumer and Retailer. May be had of Messrs. MARR and RICHARDSON, Limerick; LEGGERT, Tralee, and of all Gun-makers and Gun-powder Merchants.

Purchasers are requested to observe the name of F. Joyce, the Original Inventor and Sole Manufacturer, on each Sealed Packet. This precaution is rendered necessary by some unprincipled individuals having imitated the Labels and Wrappers. Chemically-prepared WADDINGS of a Superior Description.

Warehouse, 55, Bartholomew Close, LONDON. July 31.

MR. E. SOLOMONS

MR. E. SOLOMONS, being influenced in his present visit to this City from a desire to afford the Public an opportunity of supplying themselves with VOICE CONDUCTORS, for the relief of DEAFNESS, and his SPECTACLES, &c. which, from a recent improvement in their manufacture, are possessed with important additional advantages to vision; and from the certainty that a considerable period must again elapse ere his English and Continental engagements will permit his return to this Country, he is glad to have it in his power to pay a FAREWELL VISIT to Limerick previously to his departure from Ireland.

By Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent. Hours of attendance from Ten until Six.

Mr. E. SOLOMONS, Optician to the Royal Family, &c. &c. No. 36, Old Bond-street, London, has the honor of announcing his arrival at

Mr. DALLAS'S Perfumery Establishment, No. 124, George-street, Limerick,

Where (in addition to the Optical improvements effected by him) may be obtained his VOICE CONDUCTORS, or Instruments for the relief of Deafness, which are constructed in such a small and convenient form, as to be worn unperceived, without requiring to be held, and by concentrating the undulations of sound, enable those using them to participate in all the uses and various enjoyments to which the sense of hearing in its perfect state is subservient. Inasmuch as an attentive study of the laws of vision and entire acquaintance with the anatomy of the Eye and all its visual functions, have led him so successfully to the advancement of that branch of optical science appertaining to Spectacles, &c. &c.—So a series of improvements, the results of subsequent and matured experience, have at length afforded him the means of accommodating them to all the various imperfections and failings of the most important organs of the human senses.

Mr. E. SOLOMONS, who has visited this Country for the last 14 or 15 years, trusts that it is now unnecessary to descant on the manifold advantages to defective vision derivable from his Spectacles—their superlative excellence over all others, being displayed in their very superior refractive property—comparative lightness—their less liability to become sullied, a single pair being rendered available for a number of years—their peculiar power of modifying bright and strong light, which at the same time is transmitted through the various humours of the eye, so as to render vision most perfectly distinct; conveying also a sense of coolness and pleasure to the organ, with the additional equally important recommendation of being FREE from the pernicious attributes of common Glasses, thereby affording relief and preservation to the visual organs, where their distress and irremediable injury have frequently been the complained of effects resulting from the continued use of faulty or improper Spectacles. The former have received the sanction and unqualified approbation of the following and many other distinguished practitioners.
