county An excellent letter from Richard A. Reynolds, Esq. ared to late Captain 11th Hussars, which appears in our onnell, columns, directly bears out the view of his case which we had taken by anticipation on Wednesday last, and entirely agrees with the sentiments we then expressed. Louth. We entertain little doubt of the restoration of this charge deserving young officer to his rank in the army, before vote. another quarter expires. There was a meeting at the New Road, London, on Monday last—a Mr. Tilt in every when a committee was appointed to petiy, and blin. tion her Majesty, for Mr. Reynold's restoration. If this is persisted in by a lot of mischievous busy-bodies, Count y away goes all hope, Another meeting was held the next day, at the British Coffee-house, Cockspur-street Parish -a Mr. Hine in the chair-which resolved to petimade tion her Majesty, for inquiry into the state and disciastable Capt. Levett, who has been called in to command the itherto vacant troop in the 11th Hussars, served with the Regt. in India, and was placed on half-pay at the return home and reduction in 1838.

Lieut. Norton, 15th Foot, has relieved Lieut. Taylor, 96th, from the recruiting duty at Leicester, and Lieut. Clyde, 96th, is appointed to the Carlow Recruiting subdivision, in the room of Lieut Hardy, 58th, removed to Kilkenny, to relieve Lieut. Cruice, 95th, who has completed the regular period.

Wednesday, the Acting Adjutant of the 36th Depot, in Clare Castle, while labouring under delirium in fever, attempted to cut his throat during the absence of his attendant. Fortunately one of the officers of the 36th came in at the moment, and was enabled to secure him. He is dangerously ill at present in The wound in his throat is not dangerous.

Major-General L'Estrange inspected the 38th Depot, under Major Lowth, at Charlesfort, on Tuesday, when the men looked remarkably well in the field, and are much improved under their present commanding officer. Ensign Holden has joined the Depot on appointment. Wednesday Major-General L'Estrange made his half-yearly inspection of the Depot 2nd Battalion 1st Royal Regiment, at Buttevant, under Major Bennett, and was pleased to express his satisfaction at their high state of discipline. Thomas Dalton, a deserter from the 36th, was brought in yesterday by a party of the 7th Fusileers from Rathkeale, en route to the Depot at Clare Castle. Lt. W. H. Carroll, Inniskilling Dragoons, has joined head quarters at Newbridge, on appointment from the Recruiting parties, Royal Artillery, are ordered to be detached every week, for the purpose of attending fairs, &c. the regiment being much in want of men. Captain Sir H. Chamberlain, Bart, has been ordered to Aberdeen to recruit, Captain Pickering having left to join Major Gray's company in Dublin.

Lieut. Cash, 86th, was obliged to retire from the service this week, in consequence of the affray with the civil power at Wigan, and Ensign Plunket must, it is understood, follow. A corporal of the 96th was found with his throat cut from ear to ear at Gillingham, Kent, on Sunday. Her Majesty has by Royal warrant dispensed with the rank of Assistant-Inspector of Hospitals in the Army Medical Department, and will substitute a second class of Staff-Surgeons equal in rank and pay to Regimental Surgeons. The Medical Officers of the Army are in future to be Inspector-General of Hospitals; Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals; Staff-Surgeon, first class: Regimental Surgeon, and Staff-Surgeon, second class; Assistant-Surgeon.

Capt. Hart, 94th, has returned to England from Cannanore, Madras.

Capt. Bush, 96th, has joined at Chatham from leave. A draft of the 96th has embarked under Ensign Swetenham, for Botany Bay, and the head-quarters will embark early in the next Spring. There is no foundation for the report that the 11th

Regt. expect to go to Jersey, but it is most probable that their next quarters will be Weedon.

The Marines, 11th, 53d Regts, and 65th Depot, work alternately in the Plymouth Dock-yard.

Assistant-Surgeon Sidey, 25th Regt. will shortly succeed to promotion. This officer has served nearly 16 years' on full-pay.

Paymaster Leech, Coventry recruiting district, has keeper, for damages, for defamation of character, and also for the value of certain articles which Mr. Molony took and claimed as his property, but which she alleged had been given to her by his late wife previous to her death. It appeared Mr. Molony ob-ined informations at Petty Sessions, against the plaintiff, for stealing those articles, of which charge she was acquitted before the Recorder, and now sought to recover damages. She obtained a decree for one penny, and was ordered to get back the articles.

The Court sat at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning, for the trial of prisoners. The long panel was called over, and a jury having been sworn,

Patrick Welsh was indicted for stealing a sheep the property of Thomas Sampson, and Richard Ciancy, for receiving the same, knowing it to be stolen.

Both prisoners were found guilty, and the Court sentenced Welsh to be imprisoned for 12 months and kept at hard labour, and Clancy, who appeared the more guilty party, was sentenced to be transported for 7 years.

John Daly and Mary Daly, were indicted for stage a gold watch, chain, seal, key, brooch, snuff-box, c. the property of Hastings Twiss, Esq. of Castle-Connell, and in another count for receiving the property, knowing it to be stolen. The prisoners stood in the relation of mother and son, and John Paly was servant in the house of Mr. Twiss. John Daly pleaded guilty, and the mother was then indicted for receiving the goods, knowing them to be stolen.

Mr. Hastings Twiss, sworn-Resides at Castle-Connell; missed a gold watch, chain, brooch, and other articles last week; saw them found on the person of the prisoner by a policeman; swears they were his property.

Patrick Timmons, police constable, sworn-Searched the prisoner in company with Mr. Twiss, and found the several articles now produced.

The Jury found the prisoner guilty.-The Court addressed both prisoners on the enormity of their offence, and the ingratitude with which Daly behaved in a respectable situation. The sentence of the Court was, that John Daly should be transported for 7 years, and as that should be considered a heavy infliction on the mother, the sentence of the Court was, that Mary Daly should be imprisoned 1 month.

Anne Roche pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of potatoes the property of Rev. James Ellard, at Kilfinan. She alleged that it was in consequence of extreme destitution she was compelled to do so. Edward Irvine, a man of respectable appearance, and well dressed, was placed at the bar, charged with stealing 20 stone of potatoes, the property of Mrs. Honora Cooper, of Cooper-hill. Thos. Broughton sworn and examined .- Lives at

Cooper-hill; knows the prisoner, Irwin; he was herdsman there; he lived in the lodge house; remembers March 29; Irwin had three pigs then; he fed them with Mrs. Cooper's potatoes; witness was the person that took and boiled them by his directions; was feeding them from July to November; Mrs. Cooper did not know any thing about it ; James Irwin, the prisoner's brother, was steward at Cooperhill; the pigs were fed with Mrs. Cooper's; he sold them in November. Cross-examined by Mr. Gleeson .- Tom. Enright swere informations in this case; he is not here; there are a great many charges brought against Irwin; Mr. were used; the first person witness gave the informa-tion to was Burns, the butler; can't say when he told him of it; was at Patrick's-well Petty Sessions, and charged Irwin there with stealing a sheep; swore is was one of the sheep Colonel Dickson bought, and that it had Mrs. Cooper's mark on it, and it turned trates did not take informations for that; witness knew he was feeding pigs with stolen potatoes; was afraid to tell it lest he should be turn ed out of the work; Burns and the Irwin's had a falling out; witness's father and Tom. Enright were never charged with attacking Mr. Westropp's house or the house of Mr. Franklin's herdsman, or Kellv's, or Enright's, or Mulqueeny's, or any other house, nor with taking Gre-arms at any time.

The Rev. Mr. Downes, P. P., was examined as to the prisoner's character, he stated that he knew him for 13 years, that he was a parishioner of his, and that he always knew him to be a very respectable honest young man.

Cross-examined—Had occasion to speak of him from the altar one time for ill conduct; but in explanation he would say that it was in consequence of a report that there was to be a fight in the chapel on a Sabbath day, and his name was mentioned as one of the parties, but he did not know of his own knowledge whether he meant to take part in it or not; it was to warn them of the impropriety of such conduct he spoke.

His Worship in charging the Jury, said that a great deal of suspicion ought to be attached to the testimony of a person who came forward under circumstances such as the prosecutor in this case, for he admitted that he knew they were stolen potatoes, and the only way he accounts for his not having discovered the their sooner was, that he dreaded being dismissed from the employment. The other witness appeared not to be forthcoming, and it was not accounted for why he was not brought forward. If the Jury had a doubt on the whole of the case as to the prisoner's guilt, the law directed them to give him the benefit of that doubt; but if they were fully satisfied with, and believed the evidence of the boy, it was sufficient The Jury without leaving the box returned a ver of Not Guilty.

The prisoner was again indicted for stealing two calves, the property of Mrs. Cooper.

John Broughton sworn-Has been in Mrs. Cooper's employment; the prisoner Irwin was herdsman; had the care of cattle and property generally; saw him taking two calves on the 10th of May 1839 to his own house, at the lodge; does not know what became of them after; he was in the habit of rearing and selling fed yeal calves : he sold 15 calves to the butchers that year; he acknowledged to witness that he sold those calves; he said they were his own; was along with him when he was taking the calves away. and he promised to give him one himself for 5s witness hought a calf from him the same year for 5s. it was one of Mrs. Cooper's calves; he told witness he sold the calves for his own benefit.

Cross-examined .- Mr. Archdeacon was living at the time; helped Irwin to carry away the calves; did not think he was doing an improper act then : knows Burns, the butler; it was not he put him up to come forward as a witness; Irwin summoned wiress at one time, but it was wrongfully; his house was searched for fire-arms, but none were found there; it was the Pelice searched it; told what he knew to Mr. Daxon. when he came into the place; was never served with a notice to quit by Mrs. Cooper; never took Mr. Fosbery's gun, nor attacked Mr. Westropp's house; did was abused to such an extent as appeared from the evidence, for it is manifest that whoever the guilty parties might have been, a great deal of Mrs. Cooper's property was appropriated to other uses and purposes than for her own benefit, whether as perquisites or Thomas O'Shaughnessy, John O'Shaughnessy, Edward Tobin, Daniel Tobin, Patrick Wallace, and Johannah Ryan, were indicted for rescuing cattle seized for county cess, by John Massy, Esq. High Constable of the barony of Costlea. The prisoners pleaded guilty. Mr. Massy informed the Court that the prisoners had subsequently expressed their regret for having acted so, and also paid the taxes for which the distress was levied. Under those circ instances the Court did not feel called upon to pass sentence at present; but in the event of a repetition of such conduct, they would be called up on their recognizances to receive sentence, and be very severely dealt with. They were then discharged.

Messrs. John Lynch, Charles Wering, John Mackey,

George Davern, Royer Waller, and George Waller, were then indicted, for that they did at Castle-Connell, maliciously injure and destroy the property of Andrew Jas. Watson, Esq. by breaking the door of the same; that they did maliciously and wilfully injure the property of John Croker, a cess-payer, by breaking the door of the Sessions House at Castle-Connell; that they did wilfully destroy the property of William Hall, of said place, by destroying two books; that they did wilfully injure the property of William Howley, Esq. and others by destroying two books, and in another count for riotously assembling and disturbing the peace of her Majes'y. applied to traverse in prox, which was granted, and the securities renewed for their appearance at next Sessions. A Medical certificate, deposed to on oat's, was read stating that one of the traversers, Mr. Waring, was so ill with nervous fever, that it would be dangerous for him to attend in Court. The securities were then entered into, after which the Court adjourned.

Waterford, 19,205.
At Westport Sessions the attornies complained to the Assistant Barrister, of Mr. Isidore Burke, the crown prosecutor, monopolising all the criminal cases, including larceny and others, not taken up by the crown for prosecution, and praying the court to have them divided amongst the other members of the profession. The Assistant-Barrister said he would consult the other county barristers on the subject.

Mr. M'Dermott's decisions in Dingle merely exemplify a statement made last Assizes, that the most prudent course for the Conservatives to take, will be not to waste time in the Assistant Barrister's Court, but, having appeared in order to entitle themselves to appeal, let the Chairman at once make an order for their rejection. They can then have their claims investigated by a tribunal already somewhat celebrated for upsetting the decisions of Assistant Barristers of this county, when the appellants were Conservativeswe allude to the Judge of Assize. MASTER GROSSMITH.—This young gentleman, whose theatrical abilities in the style of the late Mathews, excited so much interest at the Theatre, Limerick, three years since, is taking a second tour through Ireland, and will make his re-appearance at the Assembly-room, Mallow, on Monday evening next, 9th; at Limerick, we believe, Wednesday, 11th; Ennis, 12th, and Birr, 16th, on his way to Dublin .--He has been performing with great success in Edinburgh, Liverpool, and Wales. The Liverpool Mail speaks thus:—" Monodromatic performers are of a spears thus:—"Monodromatic performers are of a limited class, and you the extensive and peculiar powers required by them, will perhaps always remain so; within the past few years they have, however, increased in considerable tested, and several of the most eminent have being a Liverpool with flying visits. The elder brother, W. R. Gressmith, is a most excellent and animated actor. The fact is made apparent from the first moment of his coming on the stage; but as the entertainments, progress, he gives additional confirmation to the fact.
