

In Dickson v. Dane and Lumsden, an action by a Miller at Belturbet, against the former, an attorney, and the other, an officer of the 30th, for assault and battery in the Enniskillen mail coach, a jury in the Queen's Bench, on Thursday, found a verdict, with $130 damages. It appears they broke plaintiff's collar bone, and fractured one of his ribs, and only for pulling down the coach window for air!
 The case of the Revenue v. Power, of Holycross distillery, for breach of the revenue laws, is defeated in the Court of Exchequer.
