mouth of the barrel already loaded, when by some accident the piece discharged itself, carrying with it thumb, and inflicting severe injuries on the hand besides. Surgical aid was promptly procured, and we are gratified to know that Mr. Ievers is since considerably relieved.
Anne Mackay, an aged domestic in the family of Lieut. Stokes, 65th, Superintending Officer, Victoria Terrace, was found dead in her bed on Sunday morning, when the household were alarmed by the screams of a child who slept with the old woman—she had no sign of ailment the night before. Sir R. Franklin, M.D., was called in, but found it idle to attempt restoring animation, the vital spark being quite extinct.
A facetious old fisherman at Castle-Council, of the name of John Hogan, well known to all anglers there by the sobriquet of the "Lamb," and a general favourite with amateurs in their aquatic excursions, fell dead on Monday, when going out to attend a gentleman upon the river. He has left a wife and family, and is much regretted.
James Pain, Esq. has left this for Durrow Abbey, the seat of Lord Norbury, to report upon the effects of the late disastrous fire, and the restoration of the mansion.
A post-office enquiry was opened at Cork on Monday, relative to the loss of a letter with a sovereign, but the Inspector refused to proceed because a reporter from the Press was present.

Saturday, in the Common Pleas, an action was tried against Lord Brabazon, for work and labour done at the last county Dublin election, by an agent, who sought £20 as inspector of tally rooms. Verdict for plaintiff, Mr. Eaton, an attorney, £15 15s. and costs.
The question pending in the Court of Exchequer between George O'Callaghan, Esq. of Maryfort, County Clare, and the representatives of the late Edmond O'Callaghan, as to the right of the former to a renewal of a valuable lease pursuant to a covenant for perpetual renewal, was disposed of on Saturday, by a decree in favour of the plaintiff. This decision secures him an increase of 800l. a-year.
