LONDON CORN EXCHANGE—WEDNESDAY

We had but a moderate number of samples of English offer to-day, and the demand was extremely inaction Monday's currencies. Foreign wheat was a measure might have been purchased on easier terms. The best malt were taken at full currencies. In oats, better flour, next to nothing was passing.

LIVERPOOL CORN EXCHANGE.

Notwithstanding our fresh supplies upon the very limited character, and the expectations of improvement the better tone of the country markets, the return of and the depression in London have caused a very dull market to-day, the few sales of wheat being effected at the currency of this day week for the best description was in tolerable retail demand, without variation in inquiry for oats was very limited, though these samples enabled holders to support full prices; but depressed below the rates of Tuesday last, 20s per the highest now obtainable.
