DEATHS

On Wednesday evening last, at Kilkee, county Clare, after a lingering illness, Bartholomew Ellis, Esq. Civil Engineer, for several years attached to the Board of Works department in the Southwest of Ireland, and one of its most efficient and faithful officers. The premature death of this gentleman, whose integrity and courtesy made him a general favourite in the wide circle of his duties, has plunged a young wife and family into the deepest affliction, for the loss of one who, in the endearing relations of husband, parent and friend, was an example to his fellow-men.
 At Portobello Harbour, Thomas Butler, Esq. in his 70th year, brother of the late Theobald Butler, Esq. of Fishmoynes, county Tipperary.
 At Castleconnell, on the 3d inst. Mr. William Quirk, deservedly regretted. He was an honest upright man, and much respected.
 On Arthur's-quay, Mrs. Finucane, wife of Mr. A. Finucane, tobacconist.
 At Cove, at an advanced age, Mr. Roger Storey, for many years harbour-master at Cove, and Surveyor for Lloyd's at Cork.
 At Raminas, Sarah, relict of Lieut. Robert Carrae, late Barrackmaster, Palermo.
 In the Old Mens' Asylum, Russell-place, Circular-road, Cork,
 Mr. William Hall, aged 81, and Mr. Thomas Adderly, aged 83.
 Mr. James Gouldrick, Brunswick-street, ex-sizar of T.C.D. one of the first Classical professors at the Feinaglan School, and latterly at Dr. Burke's.
 At the Eyronage, Longford, Emma, daughter of the late W.
 T. Lyttleton, Esq. of Hagley, near Westbury, and formerly of the 73d Regiment.
 Margaret Phelan, of Roscrea, aged 104 years.
 At Dalkey, Elizabeth, wife of George Kenny, Esq.
 On the 29th ult. at his house in Harley-street, the Duke of Dorset, K. G.
 At Greenock, Mrs. Janet Hunter, relict of Mr. Archibald
 Alexander, shipmaster.
 John Sheppard, Esq. of Cloak-lane, London, in his 88th year.
 At Mitcham, Surrey, in his 84th year, W. Ness, Esq.
 At Madeira, of fever, Ann Campbell, daughter of Sir William Miliken Napier, Bart.
 At Gourock, Mr. John M'Callum, auctioneer, Glasgow.
 Suddenly, at Garnet Hill, Adam Bald, Esq.
 At the house of her father, B. Rawson, Esq. Tilney-street, Park-lane, Anne, the wife of Lieut.-Colonel Trafford.
