DEATHS.

On Thursday last, at Kilrush, Henry Bingham, Esq. an old and much respected officer of the Customs department. He was a gentleman generally and most deservedly esteemed for many years in the town of Kilrush.

At Bayville, Knock, Mrs. White, widow of the late Richard White, of Kilmoylan, Esq.

At Ballvelligane, of scarletina, Elizabeth, only daughter of Edward Hoare Reeves, Esq.

At Levinstown, county Kildare, Ferdinand Gorman, Esq. In Lower Gardiner-street, aged 81 years, Mrs. Mary Hill, relict of the late George Hill, Esq.

At Blackhall-street, Nicholas Fanning, Esq.

At Bantry, Mary, wife of Mr. John Y. Kingston.

At Portarlinton, of disease of the heart, Chambre, youngest son of W. H. Minchin, Esq. of Rutland, King's County.

In Lifford gaol, Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. John Birnie.

At Bayswater, J. C. Loudon, Esq. a celebrated florist and agriculturist.

At his residence, Covent-garden, William Evered, Esq. partner in the firm of Broughton, Evered, & Co. Oxford-street.

Lieut-Colonel John Montagu, late of the Coldstream Guards.

At Doncaster, Mrs. John Ramsden, eldest daughter of the late Sir George Cooke, Bart. of Wheatly.

At Brighton, Daniel Stoddart, Esq. Charles-street, St. James's-square, London.

Mr. Henry Owen Tahourdin, of the Tithe Commission-office.

At his house in Montagu-street, Russell-square, John Henderson, Esq. in the 80th year of his age.

At Edinburgh, Mr. Thomas Japp, late pastor of the Independent Church, Anstruther aged 84.

In Montagu-street, the widow of the late Charles Raymond Barker, Esq.

Morris Jones, Esq. of the Gungrog, Welshpool, Mayor of that borough.

At Edinburgh, Major Hunter, late of the 85th Regt. eldest son of General Sir Martin Hunter.

On the 3d inst. at Rome, the Lady Maria Somerville, wife of Sir William Somerville, Bart. and sister of the Marquess of Conyngham.

Mr. George Hurley, hat manufacturer, Trongate, son Mr. W. Hurley, late Serjeant 47th Regiment.

Of jungle fever, at Mhow, Mrs. Kate Hughes, and Assistant-Surgeon Arnold Hughes, her husband.

At Goulbourne, New South Wales, Maria Louisa, wife of W. Garde, Esq. of Bilberry-hill, county Cork, and daughter of the late Warham Durdin, Esq.

At sea, on board the barque Rajah, on the voyage from Leith to Van Diemen's Land, James Reoch, Esq. son of the chief magistrate of Leith.

At sea, on board the East India ship Southampton, Charlotte Henrietta, and Frederick Eyre, children of Captain Bowen, HCS.

At Naples, Patricia, wife of John A. Hunter, Esq. Lancaster.

Friday night, at his residence, George-street, John Geary, Esq. MD. senior of the Medical Faculty of this city, and for many years an eminent and justly esteemed Physician. No member of the profession in Ireland perhaps excelled him in thorough acquaintance with and successful treatment of typhus fever—a disease unfortunately incidental to a great mass of the population. In private life, Doctor Geary was an amiable and benevolent gentleman. His death is unfeignedly regretted by his fellow-citizens.

On the 14th inst. at the house of her sisters the Misses Grubb, Clonmel, Sarah Fayle, widow of the late Robert Fayle, Esq. of High-street, Dublin.
