DEATHS.

On the 25th inst. James Deane Greaves, aged five years, eldest son of Mr. Leicester Greaves, Patrick-street.
At Bruff, on yesterday morning, of fever, the Rev. Timothy Shanahan, R.C.C, aged 38 years; distinguished by solid talents, unostentatious charity, and unremitting zeal in the discharge of his clerical functions.
In London, on the 24th inst. in the prime of life, Edw. Waller Poe, Esq. eldest son of the late Herman Jacobs Poe, Esq. of this City. The sudden demise of this young gentleman has plunged his family into great affliction.
At his house in Glentworth-street, on Wednesday morning, very much regretted by all who knew him, Mr. George Hickey, aged 70 years, having been upwards of 50 of that period a confidential agent in the respectable mercantile firm of R. Westropp & Sons.
The Rev. James Clane, R.C. Curate of Ogonnelloe, Killaloe.
At Carrinakilla, near Tarbert, John Morris, Esq, of Trinity College, Dublin.
At Youghal, Mary, wife of B. Verling, Esq. Surgeon R.N.
Mrs. Connor O'Brien, Kilkee.
In Tralee, Mrs. Peter Foley, a few months after the demise of her husband.
At Bridge-view Terrace, Lower Glasheen, Cork, Isabella Pick, eldest daughter of the late John Pick, Esq. Ordnance Storekeeper at St. Kitts, and sister of John Pick, Esq. Royal Engineer Department.
At South Main-street, Cork, Anne Jane, daughter of the late
Mr. John Larrimore, of Gurteen.
At Prospect, Enniscorthy, Frances, relict of Captain John Loitus Nunn, late of the 7th Royal Fusiliers.
Sarah Grace, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Geoghegan, of Rathmines Mall.
Eliza, eldest daughter of the late Thomas Bridson, Esq. of Air Hill, county Wexford.

merly Vice-Consul of France at London.
At Jamaica, John Arcner, Esq. Colonel of the St. Catherine Local Militia.
On the 15th inst. at Mayence, Germany, where he had been some months residing for the benefit of his health, Philip M'Ardeil, Esq. of this City, many years an eminent wholesale merchant and trader, whose loss will be regretted by a most extensive and respectable circle of private friends. To his attached wife and interesting young family the death of so excellent a husband and parent must be a grievous calamity, which no temporal comfort can repair, though the consolations of religion will undoubtedly soften the bitterness of this afflicting visitation.
On the 18th inst. at Fitzwilliam-square, Dublin, in the twelfth year of his age, the Hon. Walter Eglington Yeiverton, fourth son of Viscount Avonmore.
Wednesday, on the Roxborough Road, in her 51st year, Mrs.
Anne Richardson, sincerely regretted by her relatives and friends.
In Clonmel, at a very advanced age, Jeremiah Keily, Esq.
At Castlepollard, Louisa, relict of the late John Gibbs, Esq.
Lieutenant in the Fermanagh Militia.
At his residence, Bundoran, county Donegal, George Forde
Myth, Esq. M.D.
