Mr O'Malley deprecated any language that give offence to the Federalists, whom he called the Corps de' Reserve of the Repealers. William Wallace, a gentleman from America, introduced to the meeting. He wore very much and a superfluous quantity of whisker—very rhetorical, and dealt largely in metaphor—the coronets of agriculture and the billowing commerce, and was "filling the agony very much" when he was interrupted by Mr. O'Connell, "what was he delegate?" It was announced to be 3727. Antine Blake, M.P., was called to the chair, and the association adjourned.

Mr. Fitzsimon French, MP. Dublin for London. He has just been informed of the discovery of a conspiracy to murder Mr. Nicholas Blackall, of Castle Connell. Information was obtained of the plot by Constable Phillipps, of the constabulary, who informed his officer, Mr. Sub-Inspector, and that gentleman took part on the night of the 11th December remained during that night watching about Blackall's house, for the purpose of detecting the conspirators. Additional information having since been obtained relative to the case, last night that Constable, Nicholas Phillipps of the constabulary, whose exertions upon this and various other occasions cannot be too highly valued, assisted by Constable Coe and a party of the Castle-Connell constabulary succeeded in arresting Timothy Murphy, and his step-sons, Jeremiah Coffey, and James Casey, from the county Tipperary, whose names are now in the gaol of Nenagh for the wilful murder of Mr. Hanly. The police are in search of the other party, and it is hoped may be successful. The new allocation of electoral divisions of the Poor-law Union, by the Poor-law Commissioners, will return only twelve, in place of twenty as heretofore; and two electoral divisions in the south suburb ward, viz.:—Derry-Mungret, to return each one guardian. The districts will have to elect two-and-twenty guardians!

Magistrates assembled at Nenagh, forwarded a memorial to Earl De Grey for an augmentation of the establishment of 100 men, to reinforce the stations at Derry-Mungret. Earl De Grey, Lord Lieutenant, has been appointed Lieut. George D. Warburton, of the Artillery, in this garrison, to be an Aide-de-camp to his Excellency's Staff. The 1st Battalion is the only corps in Dublin that retain the old establishment, but which will shortly be replaced with the 2nd Battalion. General Wyndham and Col. Frith are appointed Governors of the Royal Hospital.

ROYAL.—Mr. Hughes, the enterprising and able proprietor of this establishment, by his successful exertions to gratify the public, has acquired for the Circus a character of the highest order. On Monday evening the performances under the patronage of Major-General Lord Darnley, when the excellent band of the 61st Regt. attended, the house was filled. The dress circle was reserved for the officers of the garrison, and the principal distinction in the city. The representation of "Cinderella" by the juvenile members of the company, was received with much applause, and the termination of the evening's entertainments, by a "Pyramid Ball," elicited bursts of laughter. This evening the Officers of the Shannon squadron honor the public with their patronage.
