service of evening plate, with a suitable inscription, manufactured by Mr. Wallace, of this city. The address having been read by Mr. Spaight, who, with the other members of the deputation, did not confine the expression of their feelings to the grateful testimonial they were commissioned to present, the Rev. Mr. Willis then proceeded to read his reply, and was deeply affected by the flattering compliment, so handsomely paid to him by a number of his respectable parishioners He appeared to feel acutely the separation, in all probability for the remainder of his earthly course, from those amongst whom his life has been spent, from the period of earliest infancy, and took leave of the deputation, with feelings of the deepest emotion. We refer to our advertising columns for the Address and Reply We have great pleasure in announcing the re-appointment of the Rev. Henry Gubbins to the Chaplaincy of this garrison, which he had held for a set is of years with such credit to himself and satisfaction to the military. Our fellow-citizens universally participate in this deserved acknowledgement to the professional worth of a most efficient and talented minister of the church

In reference to a communication in our last, that half the clergy of the united dioceses of Cashel and Emly had not signed the declaration against the statement of Rev. Mr. Woodward, on the debated education scheme, the fact is the majority of the clergy of those dioceses did sign the protest against that statement. The number of those who signed it being 32—the number of those who names were not attached being only 28, including Mr. Woodward himself, his son, Thomas Woodward, and also Rev. John Ratcliffe Rector of Kilcooly, who is out of the kingdom in bad health. is important at this critical period that the exact state of the case should appear before the public. Those persons whose names were not attached are as follows Revds. J. Phillips, of Ardmayle; Garrett Wall. Ballingarry; J. Swayne, Ballymurreen; R. Armstrong, Clonouler; Wm. E. Lloyd, Fennor; H. Woodward, Fethard; J. Woodward, Fethard; J. M. Hiffernan, Newport; A. Hoops, Glankeen; J. Radcliffe, Kilcooly; M. Towers, Kilcooly; C. Darby, Killenaule; J. D. Latouche, do.; S. Ferguson, Moyne; A. Armstrong. Killoscully; J. Mansergh, Lismolin; Patrick Fitzgerald. Loughmore; V. L. Trevor, Mealliffe; Wm. Faulkiner, New Chapel; E. Close, Emly; G. Lawless, Patrick's Rock; S. Matthews, Towne; J. D. O'Grady, Avey; Rickard Lloyd, Cahirelly; Mathew Moore, Cahircon lish; Alfred Armstrong, Cullen; T. Atkinson, Doon; Edward Herbert, Ulloe. It is to be remembered that of these 28, whose pames do not anpear in the protest, there are many who have never declared their opinions in favour of the national system, while there are others whose voices have been raised in its condemnation

The annual catechetical examinations of the children of the parish of Killaloe, and the adjoining parishes, took place at the Cathedral of Killaloe, on last, in presence of the Lord Bishop of the diocese. At the conclusion of morning prayer, an appropriate sermon having been precided by the Rev. J. H. Allen, upwards of 150 children were examined by the Rev. Messrs. Charles Way. John M. Hiffernan, Somers H. Payne, J. H. Allen, Robt. W. Nisbitt, Andrew A. Jones, Mr. Compon, and the Rev. Robert James Going who all expressed themselves pleased with the proficiency made during the past year.

The corn stores and mill of John Palmer, Esq. near the barracks, Tralee, would have been totally burned down, with all the property in the concern, on Monday night, but for the timely arrival of a detachment of the 82d under Major Slater, who worked the Ordnance engine with effect, and confined the flames to the upper lofts. The fire was first observed by a sentry in the barrack yard, who gave the alarm. Col. Cierke, commandant of the garrison, was also in attendance, and the Police under Sub-inspector T. M'Mahon.

to proceed on sick leave to the Neilgherry hills, and | Field Battery of Horse Articlery, Captain Ingleby; Bathad only reached the first Bungalow, when he was seized with a fit of apoplexy, and died almost instantaneously. This is a dreadful blow to the Commanding Officer and Regiment, as he was a most invaluable Adjutant. It is probable a very young officer, Lieut Maclean, will be recommended for the appointment. During the last two months, the Regt. has been parti-cularly healthy; there are very few in hospital, and among them not a case of any consequence. Major-General Riddell, E.I.C.S., has assmed the mand of the southern division, and has already seen all the corps in garrison out in review order. Brigadier Colonel Doveton has, likewise, assumed the command of the garrison, vice Gen. Leslie, 4th Regt. and has already had the brigade at exercise, but as he is an old Cavalry officer, that branch of the service, upon those occasions, benefit more by his experience than the Infantry. This season has been the hottest ever recollected at this station, and many people have been in consequence compelled to seek fresh air more The 4th Light Cavalry have distant from the station. lately added to the conviviality and gaiety of the station. They arrived here about the end of April, and took up the lines of the 8th. Lieut. Murray, 94th, has proceeded on 2 years' leave, and takes his departure per Bentinch Peninsular steamer this month. The winds here are now very high, and disagreeable, still the men manage to get their game of cricket in the evening, and are always attended by some of the active young officers of the Regiment-every means is taken to give encouragement to this manly game. Private Theatricals amongst the men also meet with due support."

The expected Military Brevet will include Lieut.-Generals, Major-Generals, and Colonels of 1837; Lieut.
