

direct from the eminent Hong Merchants, Howqua & Mowqua.

To the many who have not yet used our Teas, we would say—give them a trial, and you will find three pounds of this Genuine Tea, called Brocksopp, How & Co.'s Howqua's Mixture, go as far as four pounds of any other Tea, so that you will have the best, the most economical, the purest, and the most wholesome Tea in Ireland, at a less price than you pay for the numerous deleterious compounds, sold under the name of Teas, the use of such being injurious to health, while the first physicians of the day admit that Brocksopp, How & Co.'s Howqua's Mixture is the most wholesome beverage extant.

Howqua's Mixture is an admixture of 40 rare Black Teas, without any green whatever, and grown upon as many different plantations; each Tea differing from the other in flavour, fragrance, and strength, and selected under the careful superintendence of that celebrated Tea planter, Howquay, and that of an experienced Agent, sent expressly from our House to China.

MOWQUA'S SMALL LEAF GUNPOWDER, This is well known as the strongest Tea ever brought into Europe, and possesses a rare and exhilarating flavour, being, without exception, the best Green Tea hitherto cultivated.

Brocksopp, How & Company can therefore offer, with every confidence, their late consignment to their Agents in Ireland, and beg to submit the following

The Importers, grateful for the extensive patronage of the military, and the public in general, would impress on them, that in the above towns their Teas and Coffees are sold only by the Shopkeepers above named, and at LONDON PRICES, an advantage never before OFFERED TO THE INHABITANTS, and in order to Secure a Genuine Article, they would do well to purchase both Teas and Coffees in the original packages, upon which is printed "BROCKSOPP, HOW & COMPANY, 233 and 234, High-street, Southwark, London," to imitate which is felony, and without which they are not genuine.

Agents appointed on application to the Importers. 233 & 234, High-street, Southwark, London.
