TO Eyre Lloyd, Esq. Prospect.

WE, the undersigned, Labourers and Tradesmen in your constant employment, entirely depending upon you for our subsistence have heard with abhorrence the outrage committed on you by sending you a Threatening Notice; we would be ungrateful indeed if we did not, in the strongest manner, testify as to your liberality and kindness to us upon all occasions, particularly in the late visitation of Providence, when our quarter ground suffered so much by the rot in the potatoes. Other landlords reduced the rents one half, but you, in the most munificent manner, did not charge us one shilling, though we were engaged to pay you at the rate of £6 10s. per acre, which was a more moderate price than land of the kind was charged for. We are paid every Saturday the highest wages given in the country, besides supplying us daily with milk for our families, for which we are not charged a farthing. Were all residents to give the employment you do here would be no distress in the country. We feel convinced the notice was the act of an individual miscreant whose only object was to injure the poor. We pledge ourselves to use our utmost efforts to discover the villain. With our heartfelt wishes for the prosperity of you and every member of the family,
We remain with the utmost respect,
Your very grateful servants,

- Michl. Dooly, James Dooly, John Kerly, James Kerly, James O'Brien, Hugh O'Neil, Thos. Haynes, Thos. Moylan, John Tushy, James Hogan, David Galligan, John Gorman, James Gorman, James Turner, Thomas Turner.
