John Hanrahan.
We are authorised to correct an error which was copied from the "Freeman's Journal," Dublin Paper, in the matter of JOHN HANRAHAN, a Bankrupt. The debts for four years were stated by mistake in that Paper to be £16,000, when in fact the gross amount of the Schedule debts was but £1600, which includes his profits, &c. as well as his liabilities, without giving credit for expenses and losses
N. B.—The liabilities were only £644 8s.

26 OR AND AFTER THE FIRST
THE DAILY NEWS
LONDON MORNING NEWS
At Twopence Halfpenny

THE Newspaper is the intellectual life of the Nineteenth Century. No safeguards which it affords, it places all, whatever their varieties of. By its means only the small capitalist is enabled to contend successfully against those changes which affect prices. Without the daily Newspaper, a family settlements of Canada, as within ten miles of the great centre of European commerce more than a century since, there were Eighteen Papers published in London now there are only Fifteen! Of a fact so startling, what is the cause?—That the public know the advantage of having a London Daily Paper is now threepence for a paper the day after publication. What, then, are the causes? First, the amount of capital required to be invested in a Newspaper speculation which must combine to produce the result. The number of the readers something like a monopoly—and monopoly always commands its own price. They have been doing good service in all other things, nothing has been attempted for the political and social wants of three great nations; and a Daily Paper still more the wealthy can indulge.
The experiment is now about to be tried of establishing a London Daily Paper of completeness, which shall look for support, not to comparatively few readers, but to the price; therefore, after the First of June,

THE DAILY NEWS
WILL BE PUBLISHED, IN TIME FOR THE MORNING
TWOPENCE HALFPENNY
The Paper will be of the same size as all other journals were within seven years. The high-priced daily journals are now; and, in every particular of interest, as the most successful amongst its contemporaries. But it will be expanded whenever an important Debate, a pressure of News, or Advertisements require.
The marking features of the scheme are: 1st, THE DAILY NEWS will be in a more systematic form, all that he can find in the most approved papers. The reader who pays Fivepence for his paper, the same thing is offered at a reduced price for the public to justify the experiment. Let him who would support it, if the reduced price is beyond his means, let him at once join with a neighbour.
Every News Agent will, it is hoped, supply the paper at Twopence Halfpenny. ADVANCE: the same proportionate allowance as with other papers—some being allowed to the trade. When credit is given, it is a matter of course. Proprietors have nothing to do. As, however, in an undertaking so important, guard against possible inconvenience, the Proprietors of THE DAILY NEWS persons supplied who shall forward a Post-office order payable to JOHN WHITEFRIARS, LONDON.
