WILLIAM MONSELL, Foreman. A child named Connolly, aged two years, was burned to death at Patrick's-well on Thursday, its dress having taken fire in the absence of its mother. On Sunday evening last, about 6 o'clock, an armed party with their faces blackened, attacked the house of Andrew Moore, of Glenrue, in this county, and robbed him of a gun, the property of the Rev. James Moore, P.P. of Kilfinane. Information being given to Constable Quarry, and Sub-Constables Callaghan, M'Cormack and Sullivan, they, after long and unwearied exertions, succeeded in arresting one of the party, who is since fully identified and committed. A few nights since Edmond Sheehy, of Killoughteen, near Newcastle, had two fat sheep stolen out of the house in which he had them penned up; there were two pigs stolen out of the house where they were kept, from the same townland, from Mr. Quaid, and a person named Madigan. On Saturday Head Constable John Mullarkey, of Kilrush, arrested Patrick Carroll, a deserter from the

A man of the name of Patrick Gleeson made a voluntary confession before Mr. Sarsfield, J.P., in Cork, that he murdered a man in the town of Macroom last May. A few days since a poor man named Dillane, a native of Listowel, returning home, was found dead in a field at Glenastar. There was found on his person some bread and a few buttons. Mr. Cox, county coroner, held an inquest, and Dr. Ambrose deposed that dysentry and
