DENTAL SURGERY
And Artificial Teeth.

MR. WILLCOCK, Surgeon Dentist, from London, (late Surgeon Dentist at the London Hospital,) begs to inform his patients and residents of Limerick and its Vicinity, that he may be consulted in any branch of the Dental Profession, however difficult or intricate, from the hours of 10 to Residence—1, George-street.

Mr. W. feels obliged to his Medical friends for their continual recommendations, during his 9 months practice in this City, and begs to inform them that he has made it his permanent residence. He is enabled to offer his patients advantages hitherto unattainable out of Dublin or London. His mechanical work being designed by himself, and completed at his establishment under his immediate superintendence; an accurate adaptation of the mouth is insured without the extraction of stump or use of wires, a system usually adopted by country practitioners.

Artificial Teeth, from a single tooth to a complete set, restoring mastication, articulation, and appearance. Artificial Teeth, out of repair, remodelled to fit the mouth. Loose Teeth fastened—Children's Teeth Surgically arranged—Decayed Teeth permanently filled—and Discoloured Teeth beautifully whitened.

Charges within the means of the most economical.

A steady, well-educated Youth, from 14 to 17, would be received as a Pupil.

May 29.

☞ We have reason to complain of some persons, who, moving in a respectable sphere of society, and having ample means, evade payment of the sums to which they are indebted to the Limerick Chronicle. We do not like mentioning names connected with a transaction which wears such a disreputable aspect, but we shall unavoidably be compelled to do so, in addition to instituting proceedings, if just Debts, which were contracted on the strength of character and social position, be not speedily liquidated.

The letter of J. B. Alton shall appear in our next.

THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 29.

Total number of extraordinary baronial sessions held in the county of Limerick, under 9 and 10 Vic., cap. 107:—Seventy Four. Total amount presented, £692,607 13s 10½d.

We understand there is a requisition in course of signature to William Monsell, Esq., inviting him to become candidate for the representation of this city, on the principle of Repeal.

The Hon. Thomas Vesey or Sir Charles Coote will retire from the representation of the Queen's County, and Mr. Fitzpatrick will be a candidate.

The Repealers of Meath have invited Mr. Ford, town clerk of Dublin, to be a candidate for their county.

Mr. Cassidy, of Monastereven, is reported a candidate for King's County.

The Repealers of Cork propose to elect Mr. John O'Connell for that county, in room of his father.

Sir Arthur Chichester, Bart., formerly M.P. for Carrickfergus, died of fever at Belfast, on Tuesday last. He was unmarried, and the title which was created in 1821, is now extinct. The lucrative office of weighmaster of Belfast which he held, reverts to the Corporation by his death.

The new Lord Lieutenant, the Earl of Clarendon, is 45 years of age. His person is slender and erect—graceful and finely proportioned—slight without being spare, and just full enough to conceal the rigid development of muscle. The Lord Lieutenant left Dublin yesterday for London where he will sojourn about ten days.

Mr. Matthew Fortescue will take the place of Capt. Prittie, as Chamberlain to the Lord Lieutenant, to succeeded by Major Turner, as Master of the Horse.

Sir William Somerville, M. P. brother-in-law of the Marquis of Conyngham, is to be the new Chief Secretary for Ireland.

The gallant Lord Cochrane (now Earl of Dundonald) has been restored to all his naval honors, and the last Gazette announces that the Queen has conferred on him the high distinction of G.C.B.

SUMMER ASSIZES.—Munster—Baron Lefroy, Judge Jackson; Connaught—Baron Richards, Judge Ball; Home Circuit—Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, Judge Crampton; North-West—Lord Chief Justice, Judge Torrens; North East—The Chief Baron, Judge Burton; Leinster—Baron Pennefather, Judge Perrin.

The Home Circuit will in future commence at Trim.

Mr. Close, of the Connaught bar, is appointed crown prosecutor for the Connaught circuit, in the room of Mr. Baker, Q.C.

Mr. Thomas O'Hagan, of the North East circuit, has been appointed Assistant Barrister for Longford, in the room of J. Nelson, Q.C, deceased.

Thomas Dickson, Esq., LL.D., Q.C., the father of the Irish bar, died on Thursday at a very advanced age. His demise was quite unexpected, as the day previous he had been in the discharge of his professional duties. He was called to the bar in Michaelmas, in 1792.

The Aldermanship of Four Courts ward, Dublin, vacant by the death of Mr. O'Connell, will be filled by his friend, Mr. Cornelius M'Loughlin.

William Fitzgerald, of Adelphi, Esq. one of the directors, was present to take the chair, at the half-yearly meeting of the Limerick and Ennis Railway Company on Wednesday, but, as we stated, the number of shareholders in attendance was insufficient to constitute a meeting for business. He said, there was no intention to make calls under the present depressed state of the money market, and the desire of the directors was to pay all liabilities, and reduce expenses. The salaries of the secretary and clerk had been already reduced to £80 and £60 a-year respectively. An order for £80 to Mr. Talbot, of Ennis, for his expenses attending the Parliamentary committee in London was entered, and the meeting adjourned sine die.

Thomas Lyons, Esq., has been elected chairman of the Cork, Blackrock, and Passage railway, in room of the late Samuel Lane, Esq., and H. D. Seward, Esq., vice-chairman, in room of Mr. Lyons.

By the death of Daniel Nihill, Esq. a large landed property devolves to Lieut.-Col. Dickson, of this city.

In reference to the report of an inquest which appears in our columns, we deem it a great hardship that the time of a medical gentleman should be, unnecessarily, wasted, when his evidence could be, for the ends of justice, as well taken, when the jury are sworn, or at least shortly after; the more particularly, as in such cases, the medical witness receives no remuneration whatever, either for the duties performed, or the misappropriation of his valuable time. We may confidently assert that the convenience of the medical witnesses has been, at all times, consulted by the present Coroner's predecessors, and we hope that on future occasions the same necessary courtesy and consideration will be evinced.

PIERCE GEORGE BARRON, ESQ.—In another column will be found an address presented to this gentleman, bearing the signatures of the respectability, wealth, and rank of Mayo. We copy with pleasure the farewell notice of our Castlebar contemporary to this gentleman, and confidently anticipate that the citizens of Limerick will have equally good cause to esteem Mr. Barron as a resident public functionary. "We, in common with the RESUMPTION OF PUBLIC WORKS.

"Dublin Castle, May 22d, 1847.

"SIR—I am directed by the Lords Justices to state for the information of the Wexford Relief Committee, that the public works cannot be resumed as a means of relieving destitution, but that it is intended to complete important unfinished works.

I have the honor to be, Sir, your obedient servant,

"T. N. REDINGTON.

"Rev. R. W. Elgee, Wexford."

Government have declined to augment the Constabulary in this City, on two grounds—first, that the auxiliary force at the Park is not complete, and secondly that there is a sufficient military force in Limerick to assist the civil authority in case of riot or tumult. The following is the Inspector-General's report, which is adopted by Government:—" Even if Government were to sanction the increase of the city Limerick force now requested, it is scarcely to be expected that the additional men would be fit for duty for several months, when it is to be hoped that the present necessity for them will no longer exist. In the mean time, I should think that with so large a garrison as that in Limerick, ample assistance to existing Constabulary force might be rendered by the troops."

This forenoon, at ten o'clock, three carmen of Mr. C. Nash, who had loaded with flour from his mills at Ballyclough for his stores, in this City, were suddenly attacked on the road by a mob of about fifty persons who pulled off the flour and beat the carmen. They bravely defended their master's property against fearful odds, though struck with sticks and stones. The clothes were torn off the backs of two of the men, and the mob had succeeded in dragging away nine nine bags of flour, when some farmers at work in the fields ran to the assistance of Mr. Nash's carriers, and by their timely and resolute exertions six bags of flour were recovered, but short of their contents.

A load of meal was taken off a car near Perry-square this morning.

Yesterday morning three bags of flour were forcibly taken from a countryman at the Blackboy turnpike by a drunken mob.

Yesterday a bag of flour was taken off a car near the workhouse, and a Policeman was severely struck who attempted to protect the article.

Six firkins of butter were plundered from a carman this morning on the Ballysimon road.

This day two fellows engaged in street robberies were committed to gaol.

Last night a mob wantonly demolished the windows of St. John's parochial soup kitchen.

Since our last several bread shops in the English and Irishtown were plundered by badly disposed idlers, mostly strangers from the rural districts, who are daily crowding into the city. Yesterday a carman was attacked at Drombanna, and eight bags of meal carried off, and a most wanton outrage was perpetrated near the Blackboy pike, where a cart laden with casks of Porter, belonging to Mr. John M'Namara, wine merchant, was laid hold of, and the liquor drank by the mob! In the same locality a gentleman was robbed on Thursday night, when coming into the city, and several other depredations committed. Neither milk, butter, eggs, or any other commodity are allowed into market by a gang of idle fellows who prowl about the neighbourhood, and waylay the country people. The parties concerned in such outrages are not in want of what they carry away, for they have been known to sell their plunder. The absence of a police station is much felt at Blackboy approach.

The corn carts to and from the several mills, in this district, are escorted by police and military.

The bread cart leaving town on Wednesday for the establishment of George Tuthill, Esq. Faha, was robbed of its contents by a number of idle vagrants near the Military-walk. It is disgraceful as well as criminal thus to plunder country gentlemen's market cars in the open day so near the city, and with absolute impunity.

A Priest, near this city, who denounced from the altar the various outrages in his parish "which would bring down the vengeance of the Lord," had all his poultry destroyed, and several of them placed before his hall-door, their heads hanging off, at sun rise next morning.

Sheep were stolen and killed, the property of Mr. Moylan, of Cahercalla, county Clare; two sheep of Mr. M'Neany, and of John Clancy, Ballyboy, were taken off on Wednesday night; three sheep, of Mr. Power, near Quin, were killed on Thursday night.

The house of John Madigan of Bruff, was attacked on Sunday night by a party of armed men, who beat him in a shocking manner, and decamped with £30.

Two brothers named Grace, for the murder of Edmond Doogan, Thomas Boston, for sheep-stealing, at Broadford, and Stephen Lyons, attacking houses, near Newmarket, are committed to gaol.

Friday night, some farming implements, the property of Mr. Lindsay, steward, at Fenloe, county Clare, were maliciously broken to pieces.

The only offence of Thomas Dillon, the murdered bailiff of Mr. Manning, of Thurles, was that he had served summonses for trespass on a few defaulters, who forcibly re-entered after having been legally put out by the Sheriff.

Wednesday evening, twelve persons implicated in the late food riots at Corofin, were sent to Ennis gaol under sentences from two to three months imprisonment. Several others summoned for the like offence, paid fines of from one pound to five pounds, affording proof positive that they did not require assistance from Relief Committees.

Over 700 destitute persons paraded the streets of Ennistymon on Wednesday in search of employment or food, and proceeded in a body to the workhouse, into which they could not be received, the establishment being over crowded. The timely arrival of military from Ennis prevented riot or disturbance.

The following convicts were yesterday sent from the County Gaol en route to Botany Bay:—Michael Walsh, rape, life; the noted Patrick Guilfoyle, life; James Cronin, Ellenboro, life; Thomas Cronin, assaulting Hale, 15 years; Michael Bourke, Ellenboro, life; Michael Bourke, Ellenboro, life.

On Friday last the Defiance, laden with provisions for Westport, was boarded by a large number of countrymen inside the Achill Sound, who plundered her of a large quantity of meal and flour.

There should be no commisseration for street beggars, who incessantly haunt our passages in all directions, and each day a new bevy of strange vagrants arrives from the country. Our readers will be astonished to learn the fact, that 20,000 rations are administered daily to out-doorapplicants—and many of them, we fear, far above want. The necessity of impressing on the revising officers the solemn duty of analysing strictly the claim of every applicant becomes hourly more apparent, as if there is not a proper distinction made between the really destitute and impostor, the frightful taxation that will ensue must cause many industrious shopkeepers to abdicate, and fly to some other country for protection.

John St. John, a farmer, was killed on Thursday last, at Fort Union, near Adare, by a kick from a horse. He was an honest industrious man.

The Relief Committee of this City have, under the new Fever Act, appointed Dr. T. Brodie a paid physician of the City Fever Hospital, at a salary of 5s. per day. There are two more Doctors to be elected at a like salary for the same institution, which now contains 330

MURDER OF JAMES WATSON, ESQ.
MEETING AT KILLALOE.

Pursuant to requisition which appeared in the CHRONICLE of Saturday, the Magistrates, Clergy, and other inhabitants of the neighbourhood of Killaloe, assembled in the Court-house of that town on Wednesday last, "to take into consideration the circumstances of the recent fatal attack on James Watson, Esq. and to offer a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the perpetrators of that outrage."

There were present the Lord Bishop of Killaloe, the Rev. William Edwards, Rev. J. Leslie Stawell, Simon G. Purdon, D.L., Augustus Arthur, J.P., Henry Watson, J.P., Michael Martin, J.P., John Browne, J.P., Jonas Walsh, J.P., W. S. Tracy, S M., Wyndham Going, J.P., William Bentley, J. P., M. R. Plunkett, S.M., John O'Brien, S.M., John Watson, James Worrall, William Watson, Dr. Purdon, Mr. Clarke, Capt. Tully with several gentlemen of the neighbourhood.

On the motion of John Browne, Esq. seconded by Augustus Arthur, Esq. Simon G. Purdon, Esq. D.L. was called to the chair.

The Chairman said—My Lords and Gentlemen, it is not necessary for me to tell you that we have assembled on this occasion to consider a circumstance fatal in its effects, which, I regret to say, occurred in our district very recently. You are all aware of the facts connected with the brutal attack and murder of Mr. Watson, a gentleman who was deservedly held in esteem by all who knew him, and with whose family we deeply sympathise for the loss of a kind husband, and fond and affectionate parent.—(hear.) I am not here to eulogise the merits of that lamented gentleman—but I feel it my duty, as one of two in attendance, whose business he transacted, to contradict representations which have gone abroad respecting the manner in which he discharged his duty as agent of property. In his intercourse with the tenantry, his every act was marked by meekness and urbanity, christian feeling, and consideration for the wants of such as were embarrassed or in distress. Knowing this, and appreciating the value of an upright and honorable gentleman, of whose services we have been deprived by the hands of assassins, I feel it incumbent upon me to bear testimony to the worth of the late Mr. Watson, and thus publicly to disprove the falsity of statements at variance with fact.—(hear.)—While his uniform kindness towards all with whom he had connexion, was calculated to endear him to their affections, he was just and straitforward with his employer, and all such as his business brought him in connexion with—(hear.) I say again that that whatever representations to the contrary have gone abroad are unfounded; and I declare that as far as I am concerned, if any acts of Mr. Watson could have been found fault with, they were acts of mine, not of his. As a landed proprietor, I admit the principle " property has its duties as well as rights," but we cannot forget that we owe a duty to ourselves and our families, while at the same time it is our anxious desire to do justice in the fullest sense of the word, to those under us.—(hear.) Therefore we should protect our properties, and not allow our rights to be invaded—we should all uphold the laws—we are anxious and willing to exercise justice fairly to those who hold under us, and while we do so, we ought fearlessly resolve to protect ourselves and properties.—(hear.)

The Rev. Wm. Edwards of Killaloe proposed, and the Rev. J. Stawell of O'Brien's Bridge seconded the first resolution (see Advertising columns) which passed unanimously.

Augustus Arthur, Esq., in proposing the second resolution, said he could bear testimony to its contents, "That the murder of Mr. Watson must have been a deliberate conspiracy against the rights of property, which he had been considerately and mildly endeavouring to vindicate on behalf of his employers." He joined with Mr. Purdon in contradicting erroneous reports which had gone abroad, and fully concurred in every expression which fell from him in allusion to the valuable services rendered by the late Mr. Watson. He had a personal knowledge of every act of his connected with the management of the Glenomera property, and truly asserted that in no one instance did Mr. Watson compel a tenant to pay, who was not considered well able to do so, and in many instances he had known him to put his name to bills to accommodate parties who were not able to pay conveniently, and thus give them time to do so. Mr. Watson's acts of individual charity to distressed persons in the neighbourhood were extensive, while many families who were pensioners on his bounty would have to deplore the untimely death of a truly pious and exemplary gentleman. The deplorable event of his violent and untimely death had cast a gloom over the tenantry of Glenomera, which would long remain, while the loss of Mr. Watson was the theme of universal regret over the entire neighbourhood. (hear.)

John Browne, Esq. seconded the resolution—he said, in unison with every gentleman in the district, I deeply deplore the recent disgraceful outrage and murder of Mr. Watson. I was acquainted with him as an agent of property in my immediate neighbourhood, and knowing how he acted, can say that his kindness and benevolence knew no limits. (hear.) But the example before us is but one of many to prove there is a conspiracy abroad against the rights of property, and the owners of it. It matters not how amiable, how kind, or how indulgent a landed proprietor or his agent may be, let him but once attempt to assert his rights, and the assassins are sure to get at him, (hear, hear.) As the chairman said " property has its duties as well as its rights," and why should not " property exercise its right as well as its duties"—(hear.) Every day's experience tells us that our rights are not only threatened but invaded, and I say it is our bounden duty, in justice to our families, to the whole community, to assist by every means in our power to suppress outrage, and protect our families from ruin. Unless we do so the country is gone to bad, and neither life or property is safe in Ireland—(hear.) The brutal murder of Mr. Watson, than whom there could not be a more humane and tender hearted gentleman, shews it is useless to think that either by conciliating his tenantry, or acting with due forbearance any gentleman is now safe. No, for so sure as he exercises his right he will fall, dispised by good men, aye, even by those he endeavoured to conciliate. While I live, and that God spares me, I am determined to assert those rights, and also to stand forward to vindicate the rights of others, with due regard to those under me. I will do this, and should I fail, or not be supported in the effort, I will throw up the commission of the peace as a magistrate, sell out my property, and quit the country where no protection is afforded to one or the other.

The third resolution was proposed by Michael Martin, Esq. seconded by William Bently, Esq. and passed.

Mr. Tracy, R. M. handed in a proclamation by the Lord Lieutenant, offering £100 reward for discovery of the murderers.

The chairman then read a resolution, offering a reward by the Magistrates, Clergy, and inhabitants of the district, and the list having been sent round, a large sum was subscribed.

Alderman Watson moved that Simon G. Purdon, Esq. do leave the chair, and that the Lord Bishop of Killaloe be called thereto, which having been done, the thanks of the meeting were unanimously voted to the former chairman, for the promptitude with which he

Major-General Napier inspected the local Veteran Companies, under Major Calder, on Thursday, at the new barracks, and expressed the satisfaction he felt at their appearance and manœuvres.

Captain Ibbetson's troop 2d or Queen's Bays, arrived here on Thursday, from Nenagh, with Lieuts. Mansergh and Jones.

An arrangement has been made by the authorities, by which picquets of the 2d or Bays will henceforward constantly patrole the outlets of the City, to protect private property from plunder.

Captain Thompson's troop of the 8th Hussars, left this on Thursday for Ennis.

A party of the 8th Hussars, under Lieut. Tomkins, is stationed at Ennistymon.

Lieut. the Hon. S. Carew, and party 8th Hussars, have left Rathkeale for Cahir.

Ensign Chapman has joined the 59th on appointment.

Ensign Snow, 70th, is stationed with a detachment of that Regt. at Bruff.

Captain Bathurst and Ensign Mahony, with company 75th, have arrived at Athlone, being replaced at Ballinasloe by Lieut. Goodwyn, and 50 of the same corps.

There was a very current, but absurd report in this City on Thursday of the death of the Duke of Wellington. His Grace reviewed the Household troops at St. James's Park, on that very day, in honor of the Queen's anniversary.

By the death of Lieut.-General Sir Thomas Pearson, (formerly Lieut.-Colonel of the 23d Fusileers in this garrison, and subsequently commanding the Belfast district), the Colonelcy of the 85th is vacant, and will be conferred on Major-General Browne, Deputy Adjutant-General at the Horse Guards. Fifty-six Major-Generals are passed over in the promotion of Major-General Brown.

His Excellency Sir John G. Le Merchant (late Lieut.-Colonel 85th) landed on the 24th ult. at Newfoundland, where he was sworn in Governor.

The party of the 75th Regt. at Dunmore, County Galway, after escorting 40 cars of meal to the towns adjacent, were called out by the Sheriff on Thursday, to aid the civil power.

One hundred and five round tents, &c., with blankets and tarpaulings, are ordered to be furnished from Dublin to the troops in the Limerick district, should it be found necessary to encamp; the same number will be sent into the Athlone district.

Five hundred cars of Indian meal and corn left Galway on Wednesday for Ballinrobe and Headford, under military escort.

Field Marshal Prince Albert dined with the officers of the Scots' Fusileer Guards on Tuesday, of which Regt. he is Colonel.

The 48th Regt. in Belfast, 200 strong over its quota, is being reduced to the home establishment, and will give volunteers to the 26th in Dublin.

Lieut. Gratton, and Ensign Hobson, 37th, have embarked in the Berkshire from Chatham for Ceylon, to join the Regt.; also Lieut. Hinxman, 15th Hussars, and Ensign Foster, 84th, for Madras, by the Thomas Scott.

The 26th Regt. is reported for service at the Cape of Good Hope.

The 41st Regt. is detached in five counties.

The late Lieut.-Col. Sir Charles Chichester, 81st Regt., who died last month at Toronto, Upper Canada, was a Roman Catholic, and the clergy of that church accompanied the military funeral procession, having first celebrated high mass for the deceased.

The 1st Light Dragoons, 47th and 67th Regts., 95th Depot, and six companies of Pensioners fired a feu de joie at Cork before Major-General Turner, on Thursday.

A troop of the 6th Enniskillens have moved from Dunmore, county Galway, to Moylough, in support of the civil power.

Captain Archdall, M. P. of the Inniskilling Dragoons was robbed of his pocket book at Hungerford pier, London, on Sunday last, but seized hold of the culprit before he could escape with his booty.

Lt.-Col. Gascoyne, 72d; Captain Michel, 66th; Lieut. Newman, 72d; and Dr. Mahony, Inspector-General of Hospitals, have landed at Southampton, from Gibraltar.

The ranks of the 87th at Newport are yet suffering by fever, and five men died last week.

In the Sheriff's Court, London, on Tuesday, by consent there was a verdict of £1,000 damages against Major Cooper, for seduction of Major Cantley's wife. Both officers are of the East India Company's service.

A scamp who gave the name of Capt. Spence, 89th Regt. is committed by the Lord Mayor of London for stealing cigars.

The Admiralty have issued orders to Rear Admiral Sir Hugh Pigot to take every means in his power to prevent the plunder of vessels off the Irish coast, in consequence of recent occurrences of that kind.

PETTY SESSIONS—YESTERDAY.

On the Bench the Mayor, Henry Watson, Francis Spaight, William Hartigan, and William J. Geary, Esqs.

FOOD RIOTS.—The dock was occupied by a number persons who had been principals in the recent plunder of bread carts, flour, &c., in the city, and it was a remarkable circumstance that amongst the entire group there were only two residents of the city!

Alderman Watson said it ought to be known that 15,000 persons were now being supplied with rations, from the city depots, and it was, therefore, quite improbable that any one could want food—beside the workhouse was opened to receive them. It was a well-known fact that parties who had taken a lead in plundering private property, to the ruin of industrious inhabitants, were better off than many rate-payers.

Informations were ordered against Michael King, and Daniel Halloran, arrested by Head-Constable Joynt, in the act of depriving a carrier, of Mr. P. Hayes, of a basket of bread, on Baal's-bridge; against Bridget Ryan, of Cappamore, for stealing bread from the shop of Mrs. M'Carthy; against John Mannix, Matthew Dalahunt, Michael Butler, and Richard Hunt (from Doonass and Broadford), for plundering flour at the lower quays, the property of Mr. Bannatyne, and assaulting Mr. Fitzmaurice, County Inspector; against John Daly, of Churchtown, for stealing bread from a shop in Broad-street; against James Callaghan and Judy Gorman, of Blackboy-pike, arrested by Acting-Constable Frawley, while attacking a cart laden with flour for the country; against John Cusack, for robbery of bread from St. Michael's soup kitchen; against Bridget Clanchy, and Mary Collins, for heading a mob which attacked bread carts in the Irishtown; Mary King and Robert Scott, being of riotous party that attempted to rob flour shops in Mary-street, were remanded; Mary O'Brien was fined 5s. or a month's imprisonment for assaulting Anne Cassidy, by striking her with a tin-can, at a soup kitchen.

The late Sam Lane, Esq. was generally foreman of the City Cork assizes grand jury. At his own expense he erected Frankfield Church. He has left his property to his widow, who has no family. Since the famine set in he fed daily 926 individuals.

Several electoral divisions in Cork have entered into voluntary contributions to support their poor, which will diminish taxation, as Government grants an equal sum to that subscribed.

G. Fitzgerald the gardener of George Tuthill, Esq. Faha, this week, presented that gentleman two dishes of new potatoes grown in the open air and quite free
