

in witness's kitchen that day, and told him to be off out of his house, asking him at the same time "what became of the old gun?" He said he put it in the pigstye among the dung.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Hea—It is an old saying that he who hides finds—Did you not say to Quane, let you take the pitchfork and I'll use the gun? I did not. It would not look well, I think, to have a man's gun found where a murder was committed? I don't know. Would it not look very suspicious? I don't know, I am only telling the truth.

Nancy M'Namara, wife of the last witness, corroborated her husband's testimony as to James Quane borrowing the gun; she saw James Quane after the murder, at Rathurd Castle, and said to him "I fear this is a bad job;" he replied "I believe it is, but there is now no help for it."

Constable Kean proved having found the gun identified by M'Namara, in Quane's pig-stye—Edward Cleary, private 41st, to having found powder and slugs in the cow-house—Pierce G. Barron, Esq., S.M., to having received same from the soldier, and Dr. Gelston, to the nature of the gun shot wounds which caused Hill's death.

The case for the prosecution here closed, and Mr. O'Hea addressed the Jury.

The Solicitor-General replied for the Crown, after which the Chief Justice delivered his charge, and the Jury, without leaving the box, returned a verdict of Guilty on the second count of the indictment, as having aided and abetted in the murder.

The Court directed the prisoner to be taken forthwith from the dock to the County gaol, there to be confined 5 minutes in his cell, and then brought back for sentence.

He was accordingly removed forthwith.

Thomas and John Frewen having been called forward, the affidavit put in by Mr. Blackall in mitigation of punishment, was laid before the Attorney-General, who approved of same, and left it with the court to act as leniently as the circumstances of the case allowed.

The Chief Justice then sentenced Thomas Frewen to six months imprisonment from date of committal; and John Frewen to 12 months imprisonment from same date.

John Frewen said if his Lordship sanction it, he would, in addition to his own, undergo the imprisonment of his brother, Thomas, as there was no one at home to take care of the place.

The Chief Justice said a lighter sentence could not be pronounced, nor could it be altered.

SENTENCE OF DEATH.

James Skeahan and James Quane, convicted of aiding and abetting in the wilful murder of Ralph Hill, were then called forward to receive sentence of death, and on being asked if they had anything to say, Quane replied he was innocent. Skeahan made no reply.

The Chief Baron, in a most affecting address sentenced both the wretched men to be executed on the 22d February.

They did not appear much concerned at the result.

THE LATE

Captain Jopp, 64th Regt.
New Barracks, Limerick,
January 25th, 1848.

TRADESMEN, or other persons, having any claim on the Estate of the late Captain JOPP, 64th Regiment, are requested to forward their communications to Captain ERRINGTON, 64th Regiment, New Barracks, Limerick, on or before the 1st of February next.

AUCTION OF SUGAR.

J. N. & J. Murphy & Co.,
WILL SELL BY AUCTION
ON THURSDAY, 3D FEBRUARY,
AT THEIR STORES, MORRISON'S ISLAND,
CORK,
1,000 BAGS BRIGHT MAURITIUS SUGAR.
Sale to commence at One o'Clock.
Cork, January 26.

RATHKEALE.

Artificial Teeth.

MR. WILLCOCK,

SURGEON DENTIST,

(Late Surgeon Dentist at the London Hospital.)

ACCQUAINTS his Friends and Patients of Rathkeale that he intends to visit them professionally, (with orders previously taken there), on THURSDAY, the 27th, and again solicits their patronage. Every deficiency supplied in the Mechanical Art, and all operations in Dental Surgery.

Mr. W. informs his Limerick and Country Patients that having obtained an experienced Workman from England he will be always true to his appointments, and again acquaints his country friends that he cannot attend to them unless he receives (at least) two days notice. Mr. W. will return on the following day, the 28th.

Apply at MULCAHY'S Hotel or Post Office, Rathkeale.

1, George's-street, Limerick,
January 26.

In London, Alexander H. Richardson, Esq. of the Provincial Bank of Ireland, Broad-st. to Anna Maria, daughter of the late J. R. Longden, Esq. Doctors' Commons.

DEATHS.

Last night, at the house of the Rev. John Brahan, P.P. St. Mary's, the Rev. Michael Egan, R.C.C. The death of this amiable pastor, from abscess of the liver, brought on by incessant fatigue in the discharge of his clerical duties, is sincerely lamented by the large flock to whose necessities he administered.

At John's Place, Parsonstown, the residence of her sister in law, Mrs. Charles Rolleston, on the 21st inst. Miss Jane Rolleston, daughter of James Franck Rolleston, Esq. and sister of the late James Franck Rolleston, Esq. of Franckfort Castle, King's County, aged 77.

This morning, in William-street, of fever, Mr. Patrick Spillane, tobacconist.

Of influenza, on Friday, the 21st inst. in his 85th year, Simpson Hackett, of Riverstown, county Tipperary, Esq.

At Newcastle, on the 24th inst. Margaret, second daughter of John Peirce, Esq. M.D. aged five years.

At Mallow, on the 27d inst. John Armsted Braddell, aged 60 years.

Yesterday morning, at Arthur's quay, Mr. James Ryan, Composer and Printer—a strictly honest and sincerely religious man. His death is regretted by all his friends and acquaintances.

The Rev. Charles Gayer, Rector of Dufurin, county Kerry. He has fallen, in the prime of life and vigour of manhood, a victim to his exertions in the cause of the poor of his district. Fever has cut short his career, leaving his ten children fatherless and his wife a widow.

Yesterday, John, son of Mr. Richard Roche, flour factor, William-street.

At Ballymahony, county Clare, at the age of 98 years, Mr. Augustine Moran.

At her residence in London, Mrs. Lardner, wife to Mr. John Lardner, late of Ennis, and daughter of Mr. P. Blake, of Blakemount, county Clare.

In Ennis, aged seven years, Edward, son of Michael Healy, Esq. M.D.

At Dingle, at an advanced age, Margaret, wife of Captain Francis Eagar.

At Killyshandra, the Rev. James Vincent Rodney, A.M. for eleven years Curate Assistant of Killyshandra parish.

At Carthage House, Cudaff, county Donegal, the Rev. James Knox, at the advanced age of ninety two years and nine months. For forty years he held the situation of Head Master of Derry School, having been appointed by the Lord Lieutenant in January, 1794, to succeed the late Rev. George Vaughan Sampson, from which situation he retired in August 1824. Mr. Knox was of Scotch descent, and of a collateral branch of the Northland family, who took their name from the estate of Knox, in the Barony of Renfrew, where they had been anciently located.

John Nicholson, Esq. Town Major of Londonderry, aged 88 years.

Richard Meade, Esq. of Raffeen, county Cork.

At Cove, Miss Hester Owens.

At Monasterevan, aged ninety years, Anne, relict of the late George Lynden, Esq. of Dublin.

At Abbeyleix, Mrs. Chambers, aged 105 years.

At Rathdowny, Mr. John Mackey, of that town, aged 86.

At his residence in Manor street, the Rev. William Cooper, aged 71 years. He was the Minister over the Church and congregation in Plunket street for many years.

At the residence of E. H. Hatchell, Esq. in Holles street, Jane, daughter of the late D. Goodwin, Esq.

At Mountpleasant, near Clogher, William Todd, Surgeon, eldest son of the late John Todd, Esq.

At Rail View Cottage, Serpentine Avenue, Sandymount, John Fitzpatrick, Esq. late of Kilkenny.

At Kilrea, of typhus fever, John Chaine Hunter, Surgeon to the Tamraightocriilly dispensary.

At Mountmellick, of typhus fever, Timothy Dunne, Esq.

At Fairview avenue, Mr. John Boswell, late of Dublin.

At his residence, Upper Dorset street, Mr. John Farley.

Mary, relict of the late Charles Brandon Trye, Esq. of Leckhampton Court, Gloucestershire, and mother of Henry Norwood Trye, Esq. J.P. of Newtown, King's County.

At Clifton, near Bristol, Phoebe, relict of Captain Holmes, late of Glenahore, county Cork.

At Birmingham, J. C. Nagle, eldest son of Mr. Wm. Nagle, of Mallow.

At Keynsham bank, Miss Jane Blacker, sister of the late William Blacker, Esq. of Woodbrook, county Wexford.

At Guernsey, the Hon. Miss Saumarez, daughter of the late Admiral Lord De Saumarez.

At Hastings, Sidney Graves and William Henry Graves; also at Pall mall, Seymour and Herbert Graves, children of Mr. Henry Graves.

E. W. W. Pendarves, Esq. M.P. for Falmouth.

At Grey Friars, Chester, Captain Errington.

On the 20th inst. at Heavitree, near Exeter, Colonel Samuel South, aged 89 years. He served many years in the 20th Regt.

At the Imperial Hotel, Cheltenham, Major Gordon, a constant visitor.

Suddenly, in Bristol, Charles Williams, Esq. of Pontypool.

In Bristol, Edward Massy, Esq.

At her residence at Hertford, Finnetta, relict of the late Hon. Robert Baron Dimsdale, of Camfield Place, Herts.

At Kensington, aged 70, the Rev. George Clark, 44 years Chaplain to the Royal Military Asylum, Chelsea, from its foundation, and Chaplain to the Duke of Cambridge.

At Hythe, near Southampton, Mary, relict of the late Capt. I. S. Irwin, R.N. aged 90.

At Lymington, Hants, Captain Bonham, late of the 16th Lancers, eldest son of General Bonham, Worley place, Essex.

At his residence, King's road, Clapham Park, John Brown, Esq. formerly of her Majesty's Customs, Dover.

At Much Wenlock, Shropshire, in his 76th year, Humphrey Hinton, Esq. Town Clerk of the borough.

At the Rectory House, Foxearth, Essex, Rosalind, wife of the Rev. J. Foster.

At Denver, Norfolk, the Rev. Charles Mann, Rector of Southery, and Perpetual Curate of Ryston and Roxham.

At Bradersham House, Buckinghamshire, aged 82 years, Benjamin Diaraeli, Esq. author of the Curiosities, Miscellanies and Amenities of Literature, and father of the member for Buckinghamshire.

At Wigan, the Rev. Charles Middlehurst, senior priest at St. Mary's Catholic Chapel, from an attack of fever.

At West Derby, Lancashire, Anne, wife of J. Hegan, Esq. of Liverpool.

At Hanover, Miss Caroline Lucretia Herschel, sister of the late Sir W. Herschel, and Honorary member of the Royal Astronomical Society of London.

On Friday, at Ballycar, county Clare, Anthony Colpoys, Esq. much lamented.

At Castle Lake, county Clare, the seat of her brother, Caroline, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Gabbett—a young lady very sincerely lamented.

In William-street, Mr. James Gubbins, shoemaker.

Major John Staunton, 1st Royal Veteran Battalion.

At Cheltenham, Lady Hayes, widow of the late Sir John M Hayes, Bart.