

other charges" on the lands of the defendants, situate in the union where the rate was due, save crown rents, quit rents, rent charges in lieu of tithes, drainage loan charges, and land improvement charges.

A petition is got up in Tralee for the dismissal of the Queen's Ministers, as they have not applied adequate remedial measures for Ireland.

The ability, firmness, and honesty displayed by J. W. T. Locke, Esq., late Vice-guardian of Kanturk, have elicited the honourable testimony of the Magistrates of that union in a farewell address to the esteemed gentleman.

James F. Rolleston, Esq., vice-guardian of the Scariff union, having been promoted to the situation of Poor-law inspector of the Skibbereen union, the inhabitants of Scariff and its vicinity regret exceedingly his departure from amongst them, as his humane conduct, (more particularly towards the suffering poor,) won for him the affection of all.

It may be usefully known to all travellers by railway that, in conformity with orders just issued by the Post-office, letter-boxes are now established at every "first-class" railway station in the kingdom.

At Ballinrobe hundreds of people are dying and some of the better classes have not escaped the prevalent disease. Amongst the latter, the aunt-in-law of Mr. Lucas, Poor-law Inspector, and the lady of one of the vice-guardians, Mr. Fishbourne.

A victualler named Mentern, died on Friday at Passage West from Cholera. On examining his effects large quantities of gold were discovered, which had been secreted from time to time by the deceased, so that his family will not be left helpless.

James Sheedy, a blacksmith, died suddenly on Monday at Fedamore fair.

The Waterford Corporation propose to borrow £2,000, for improvements in the borough.

Young dry stock in good condition sold well at the fair of Fedamore on Monday; milch cows very cheap; yearlings £3 12s. to £4.

Two brothers were buried in the same grave last week in Ballincuslane, Kerry. One died on the road of debility, while bringing a coffin for the other.

Saturday last a party of 17 labourers were crossing the lake at Galway from Newcastle to Terryland, for employment on public works, when the boat upset, and four of the poor men were drowned.

At the close of the winter session in the University of Glasgow the degree of Doctor of Medicine was conferred on 25 gentlemen who had succeeded in passing the required examinations; from this number six were selected for distinguished answering, and received first honours, together with the degree, among whom we remark with pleasure the name of Doctor Richard Thomas Tracy, of this city.

James Morphy, Esq., for twenty years Governor of Tralee gaol, has retired on a pension, and Mr. Crean, the Deputy Governor, is promoted to his place.

The auction of stock, &c., at Manus, county of Clare, took place yesterday, the attendance was very numerous, but the competition by no means good.

The dairy cows, most of which had calved, were in bad condition; they brought from £6 to £9. In-calf